changes Perception of visual advertising in different media: from attention to distraction, persuasion, preference and memory Jaana Simola, Jukka Hyönä, Jarmo Kuisma, 2015-02-24 This Research Topic aims to showcase the state of the art in visual advertising research Although visual processes are a central component of consumer behavior they have been largely neglected in models explaining consumer perception of advertising Rather than being the mere input into the cognitive or affective systems the visual processes both voluntarily and involuntarily affect the amount and quality of information that is passed into further mental processing Moreover advertisements provide a well designed rich and stimulating environment to study visual processes in real life conditions Consumers encounter thousands of advertisement messages per day Previous research on visual perception of advertising mostly considers print advertising However advertising messages increasingly appear in a variety of formats and in different media Part of these messages are still conveyed through traditional media such as newspapers magazines television as well as outdoor and supermarket advertising In addition the amount and diversity of visual marketing stimuli is rapidly growing in terms of different advertising formats appearing in online and social media smartphones and tablets This challenges the marketing professionals and academics to better understand the impact of marketing on consumers At the same time the technical development of the research methods allows better opportunities to investigate advertising perception in different environments Traditionally papers investigating the psychological processes underlying advertising perception are published in journals widespread across different disciplines such as marketing applied psychology and human computer interaction journals With this Research Topic we aim to create a forum in which experts in different fields define the state of the art and future directions of the research on the visual aspects of marketing We include reviews and original research papers involving both empirical and theoretical studies on visual perception of advertising across different media Aspects of the Orange Revolution II Bohdan Harasymiw, Oleh S.

Illytzyk, 2007-11-22 In Ukraine's presidential elections of 2004 the establishment candidate Viktor Yanukovich had the advantages of a solid regional base access to administrative resources dominance in the media help by Russian spin doctors and support of Moscow Yet the winner was the pro Western challenger Viktor Yushchenko How did Ukrainian voters break through the barrage of propaganda so as to deliver their ultimate verdict Was the divide between Eastern and Western Ukraine fact or PR fiction In this volume scholars from two continents examine various aspects of the elections that turned into the Orange Revolution focusing on electoral campaigns and attempts to manipulate results Following the editor's scene setting chapter which looks at the electoral laws and their consequences in the previous decade's elections presidential and parliamentary the contributors take up specific features of the 2004 contest The critical part played by a single independent television channel is analyzed by Marta Dyczok Ilya Khineyko reviews the coverage of the elections in the Russian press favorable to Yanukovich and always looking for parallels between Russia and Ukraine as well as keeping in mind Moscow's interests The myths and stereotypes of the campaign are taken up in two contributions by Lyudmyla Pavlyuk and Olena

Yatsunskaya Clearly constructed images often overshadowed real issues Valerii Polkovsky's essay exposes the linguistic innovations of the campaign including the irony and humour unleashed by such incidents as the egg attack on Yanukovich In Kerstin Zimmer's final paper the machine politics administrative resources and fraud which had worked so well in Donetsk are shown to have been less than successful on the national level for reasons of scale and impersonality Information Systems and Neuroscience Fred D. Davis, René Riedl, Jan vom Brocke, Pierre-Majorique Léger, Adriane B. Randolph, Thomas Fischer, 2020-10-26 This book presents the proceedings of the virtual conference NeuroIS Retreat 2020 June 2-4 hosted in Austria reporting on topics at the intersection of information systems IS research neurophysiology and the brain sciences Readers will discover the latest findings from top scholars in the field of NeuroIS which offer detailed insights on the neurobiology underlying IS behavior essential methods and tools and their applications for IS as well as the application of neuroscience and neurophysiological theories to advance IS theory Electric Railway Review, 1903
