The Boy And The Tower:

Boy in the Tower Polly Ho-Yen, 2014 When they first arrived they came quietly and stealthily as if they tip toed into the world when we were all looking the other way Ade loves living at the top of a tower block From his window he feels like he can see the whole world stretching out beneath him His mum doesn't really like looking outside but it's going outside that she hates She's happier sleeping all day inside their tower where it's safe But one day other tower blocks on the estate start falling down around them and strange menacing plants begin to appear Now their tower isn't safe anymore Ade and his mum are trapped and there's no way out

The Boy and the Tower Nigel Shindler, 2015-05-13 I've always loved to create something unique and original I could call my own I remember building towers from wooden blocks when I lived in Reading each was different from the one I built before In order to build a new tower I'd dismantle the one already built I never grew bored doing this rather I managed to derive immense pleasure from knowing I was able to create so many different structures out of a small quantity of square blocks I guess this is the reason why I choose to view creation as a tower It came about from a destructive act Words exploded out into the furthest regions of space and over time they are joined by Jews until a tower is constructed Once the Jews leave the tower savages begin to tear it apart they're like mold that disintegrates the infrastructure of a building so eventually it falls to the ground The Lord then gathers the materials from the tower scatters them out into space again and the Jews collect them and build a tower different from the one before

The Boy and the Tower Nigel Shindler, 2015-05-04 The Boy and The Tower The boy stood in front of the tower all alone He could feel the power within Then wondered where everyone else was Who cares he thought after all I'm the boss There is a world filled with everything you could possibly need You are a seed that grows and grows One day who knows maybe you'll know it all Then in totality you'll be whole complete At the same time unique You Others are far but you don't need them You have you all you need There are you in the shadow in the light awake at dawn and night Everything is awakened to the surroundings you have Around you The beauty of it all dances with sweet delight On angel's feet you take to flight There it is above in heaven bright light There is never a fallen night It's perfect it's right Everything is good once again There is no pain nothing more to gain You had it all in the beginning Only at the end did you realize this No longer is there a hiss The serpent has disappeared All that is left is a kiss
