The Brakeman Report 2009:

Global security Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee, 2010-03-28 The Foreign Affairs Committee concludes that the UK has an extremely close and valuable relationship with the US in specific areas of co operation for instance in the fields of intelligence and security that the historic trading and cultural links between the two countries are profound and that the two countries share common values in their commitment to freedom democracy and the rule of law However the use of the phrase the special relationship in its historical sense to describe the totality of the ever evolving UK US relationship is potentially misleading and its use should be avoided The report examines key areas of co operation military and defence intelligence security nuclear Other sections cover the FCO s US network under unacceptable financial pressure the British political approach to UK US relations the future of the relationship The Committee believe the UK must continue to position itself closely alongside the US in the future recognising the many mutual benefits which flow from close co operation in particular areas But the UK needs to be less deferential and more willing to say no to the US on those issues where the two countries interests and values diverge

Everything Old is New Again Miriam Plavin-Masterman, 2018-04-16 Recent scholarship on institutional entrepreneurship highlights the kinship between for profit entrepreneurship and the equally transformative innovation and initiative of entrepreneurs in the non profit community and policy activist fields This expanded exploration of entrepreneurial potential has become important in the creative destruction or more accurately creative reclamation of abandoned or under used industrial relics and urban space This book explores case studies in New York Chicago and Philadelphia where community groups have deployed or are attempting to deploy symbolism and narrative to re purpose abandoned urban infrastructure into urban public spaces The author combines interviews document analysis site visits and census tract data to determine how Friends of the Park organizations successfully navigate institutional settings to create public spaces and manage the discourse around these proposed spaces In depth descriptions are an essential component of the process If a certain kind of unsuccessful discourse theme or successful one exhibits itself in a large portion of the potential population it will likely show in this small sample if the discourse exhibits itself in a very small portion it very unlikely that it will show Small samples in other words are a wide mesh net convenient for catching the big themes

Jesuit, Russell Alan Williams, 2017-07-06 Polarization is widely diagnosed as a major cause of the decline of evidence based policy making and public engagement based styles of policy making. It creates an environment where hardened partisan viewpoints on major policy questions are less amenable to negotiation compromise or change. Polarization is not a temporary situation it is the new normal. Public Policy Governance and Polarization seeks to provide a theoretical foundation for scholars and policy makers who need to understand the powerful and often disruptive forces that have arisen in Europe and North America over the past decade. Academics and practitioners need to better understand this growing trend and to find ways in which it may be managed so that policy solutions to these threats may be developed and implemented. Researchers and future policymakers in fields such as public administration public management and public policy need to recognise how institutional design corporatist interest group systems and different pedagogical approaches may help them understand discuss and work beyond policy polarization.
