Angela Carter and the Fairy Tale Danielle Marie Roemer,Cristina Bacchilega,2001 A diverse collection of essays artwork interviews and fiction on Angela Carter The Infernal Desires of Angela Carter Joseph Bristow,Trev Lynn Broughton,2014-10-13 Drawing on many aspects of contemporary feminist theory this lively collection of essays assesses Angela Carter s polemical fictions of desire Carter renowned for her irreverent wit was one of the most gifted subversive and stylish British writers to emerge in the 1960s Treasury of Folklore: Woodlands and Forests Dee Dee Chainey,Willow Winsham,2021-08-05 An entertaining and enthralling collection of myths tales and traditions surrounding our trees woodlands and forests from around the world From the dark gnarled woodlands of the north to the humid jungles of the southern lands trees have captured humanity s imagination for millennia Filled with primal gods and goddesses dryads and the fairy tales of old the forests still beckon to us offering sanctuary mystery and more than a little mischievous trickery From insatiable cannibalistic children hewn from logs to lumberjack lore and the spine chilling legend of Bloody Mary there is much to be found between the branches Come into the trees witches seductive spirits and big bad wolves await you With this book Folklore Thursday aim to encourage a sense of belonging across all cultures by showing how much we all have in common The British Short Story Emma Liggins,Andrew Maunder,Ruth Robbins,2017-09-16 The short story remains a crucial if neglected part of British literary heritage This accessible and up to date critical overview maps out the main strands and figures that shaped the British short story and novella from the 1850s to the present It offers new readings of both classic and forgotten texts in a clear jargon free way On the move Aitor Ibarrola-Armendariz,Jon Ortiz de Urbina Arruabarrena,2016-07-29 This volume brings together a selection of the papers and round tables delivered at the 39th AEDEAN Conference held at the University of Deusto in November 2015 The essays in On the Move Glancing Backwards to Build a Future in English Studies often begin with typically academic gestures such as retrieving a classic text and finding new ways of studying its genre or characterization or remarking how certain ungrammatical constructions have gone frequently unnoticed even in well known texts for various reasons or entangling oneself in contentions about the adequacy of dissecting a literary text or linguistic problem by using innovative analytical tools In all cases though there is the intention of putting forth certain views and notions that will help future scholars to deal in a better light with the dilemmas regularly encountered in literary linguistic and cultural studies The book opens with three essays by professors Bartholomae Pullum and R o who demonstrate not only their mastery in their respective subjects but also their ability to tailor their contents to multifarious audiences The next two sections represent the main body of the e book with nearly forty contributions on both literature and cultural studies Part II and language and linguistics Part III These short academic pieces are a representative showcase of the research being done lately in the different areas of expertise The last section of the volume gathers together the results of four research projects dealing with such engaging topics as postcolonial crime fiction or forgotten texts by

Anglo writers about the Spanish Civil War It is hard to think of any potential reader schooled in English Studies who will not find something suitable to their interests and tastes in this volume Angela Carter: New Critical Readings Sonya Andermahr, Lawrence Phillips, 2012-08-09 Bringing together leading international scholars of contemporary fiction and modern women writers this book provides authoritative new critical readings of Angela Carter's work from a variety of innovative theoretical and disciplinary approaches Angela Carter New Critical Readings both evaluates Carter's legacy as feminist provocateur and postmodern stylist and broaches new ground in considering Carter as variously a poet and a naturalist Including coverage of Carter's earliest writings and her journalism as well as her more widely studied novels short stories and dramatic works the book covers such topics as rescripting the canon surrealism and Carter's poetics

Rewriting/Reprising Georges Letissier, 2009-10-02 This volume comprises sixteen essays preceded by an introductory chapter focusing on the diverse modalities of textual and more widely artistic transfer Whereas the first Rewriting Reprising volume coord by C Maisonnat J Paccaud Huguet its subversive potential is perceptible notably through its many attempts at emancipating the genre from the ideological fetters of gender Over the past two decades Victorian literature and culture has become an inescapable field of investigations to any study on intertextuality in the English speaking world In a second part diversity has been preferred to any single specific angle to approach the Victorian neo Victorian tropism The purpose is to provide as complete a spectrum as is reasonably possible in such a volume The practice of rewriting in the Victorian age is thus studied alongside contemporary appropriations of the Victorian canon The question is raised of whether literary fetishism may not result in a form of counterfeit classicism while the more challenging neo Victorian rewritings would make a claim for the need to choose one's literary heritage and ancestors This is where the post colonial agenda comes in Precisely the third part investigates the question of rewriting reprising as a way of writing back The myth of Frankenstein's creature bent on wreaking vengeance on his creator is of course seminal as it offers a myth of transgression which in its turn becomes a foundation myth Not only are post colonial responses to their disclaimed parent texts highly theory informed but they also evince an awareness of such contemporary issues which are direct consequences of the colonial past In the last section of this volume the scope of what comes within the range of intertextuality per se is widened to cover artistic dialogism In the exchanges between theatrical texts reprise may be construed as a metaphor standing for the pleasure inherent in the process of recreation The interaction between embedded paintings and the embedding canvas offers yet another variation on the reprise motif as does the meta aesthetic discourse of the critic on the work of art What begins as mere repetition is soon colored by the personal inflections of the interpreter In operatic performances updating a classical text to make it suitable to contemporary audiences and in close harmony with the role assigned to music is liable to spur on the creativity of recreation

Angela Carter Linden Peach, 2009-09-09 This revised new edition reviews Carter's novels in the light of recent critical developments and offers entirely new perspectives on her work There is now extended discussion of Carter's most widely studied novels including The Passion of New Eve and Nights at the Circus and discussion of the long essay The Sadeian Woman. This revised new edition reviews Carter's novels in the light of recent critical developments and offers entirely new perspectives on her work. There is now extended discussion of Carter's most widely studied novels including The Passion of New Eve and Nights at the Circus and discussion of the long essay The Sadeian Woman. Angela Carter's Past Sarah Gamble, Anna Watz, 2025-02-20 This book provides a fresh look at Angela Carter's critical and intertextual engagements with the past. Examining a broad range of Carter's work: novels, short stories, poetry, as well as stage plays, the essays in this collection explore a stimulating selection of topics including folk song, medieval literature, magic realism, and the occult. Frequently drawing on newly available archival material, the volume lays out the ways in which Carter wove allusions into her own narratives, creating a lively and challenging dialogue with the cultural materials of the past and present. This volume will appeal both to scholars and students of contemporary women's writing, critical theory, gender studies, and British fiction.

Transforming Memories in Contemporary Women's Rewriting L. Plate, 2010-12-08 Including topics as diverse as feminism and its relationship to the marketplace, plagiarism and copyright, silence and forgetting, and myth in a digital age, this book explores the role of rewriting within feminist literature from the 1970s onwards in relation to the theme of cultural memory.

Contemporary Fairy-Tale Magic, 2020-01-13 Contemporary Fairy Tale Magic edited by Lydia Brugu and Auba Llompart studies the impact of fairy tales on contemporary cultures from an interdisciplinary perspective with special emphasis on how literature and film are retelling classic fairy tales for modern audiences. We are currently witnessing a resurgence of fairy tales and fairy tale characters and motifs in art and popular culture, as well as an increasing and renewed interest in reinventing and subverting these narratives to adapt them to the expectations and needs of the contemporary public. The collected essays also observe how the influence of academic disciplines like Gender Studies and current literary and cinematic trends play an important part in the revision of fairy tale plots, characters, and themes.
