Sky Of Red Poppies:

Sky of Red Poppies Zohreh Ghahremani, 2010-07 Sky of Red Poppies begins with a casual friendship between two schoolgirls coming of age in a politically divided 1960s Iran under rule of the Shah. Roya, the daughter of a prominent family, is envious of the fierce independence of her religious classmate Shireen. But Shireen has secrets of her own. Together, Roya and Shireen contend with becoming the women they want to be and in doing so make decisions that will cause their tragic undoing. In the unraveling of family secrets, Roya begins to question how she was raised and how to become the person she wishes to be. Set against the backdrop of a nation forced to mute its profound identity, Sky of Red Poppies is a novel about culture, politics, and the redeeming power of friendships. The Literature of the Iranian Diaspora Sanaz Fotouhi, 2015-04-03

The 1979 Revolution in Iran caused the migration of millions of Iranians, many of whom wrote and are still writing of their experiences. Formed at the junctions of Iranian culture, English language, and Western cultures, this body of work has not only formed a unique literary space offering an insightful reflection of Iranian diasporic experiences and its shifting nature, but it has also been making a unique and understudied contribution to World Literatures in English as significant as Indian, African, and Asian writing in English. Sanaz Fotouhi here traces the origins of the emerging body of diasporic Iranian literature in English and uses these origins to examine the socio-political position and historical context from which they have emerged. Fotouhi brings together, introduces, and analyses for the first time a significant range of diasporic Iranian writers alongside each other and alongside other diasporic literatures in English. While situating this body of work through existing theories such as postcolonialism, Fotouhi sheds new light on the role of Iranian literature and culture in Western literature by showing that these writings distinctively reflect experiences unique to the Iranian diaspora. Analysing the relationship between Iranians and their new surroundings by drawing on theories of migration, narration, and identity, Fotouhi examines how the literature borne out of the Iranian diaspora reconstructs, maintains, and negotiates their individual and communal identities and reflects today's socio-political realities. This book will be vital for researchers of Middle Eastern literature and its relationship with writings from the West, as well as those interested in the cultural history of the Middle East. In the Eyes of Mr. Fury Philip Ridley, 2016-12-06

On the day Concord Webster turned eighteen, the Devil died. The Devil's real name was Judge Martin, but Concord's mother called him the Devil. She said he boiled babies for dinner and made lampshades out of human skin. So why did she, who hated him so venomously, have a key to his house? The key will unlock more than just Judge's front door. It will also unlock a multitude of stories where magic children talk to crows, men disappear in piles of leaves, and James Dean lookalikes kiss in dark alleys and reveal a secret history that will change Concord's life forever. Philip Ridley's second novel, following the sexually charged tour de force Crocodilia, was an instant cult classic when originally published in 1989. Now, for this new edition, Ridley has reimagined the story, expanding the original short novel into the world's first LGBT magical realist epic. A vast labyrinthine hall of mirrors saga, its breathtaking imagery and stunning plot twists covering over a hundred years reveal Ridley to be one of the most distinctive and innovative voices in contemporary fiction Scientific Inquiry into Human Potential David Yun Dai, Robert J.
