Sky Is Falling An Oral History Of The Cias:

Sky is Falling Gayle Morrison, 1999 Starting in 1960 Hmong guerrilla soldiers under the command of General Vang Pao functioned as the hands and feet of the U S Central Intelligence Agency s secret war against communist forces in Laos Operating out of Long Cheng the Hmong soldiers allowed the CIA to accomplish two objectives to maintain the perception of United States neutrality in Laos and to tie up North Vietnamese troops in Laos who would otherwise have been sent to fight in South Vietnam The U S government had quietly pledged to General Vang Pao and the Hmong that the Americans would take care of them in the event that Laos fell In May 1975 this promise was redeemed when the CIA generated an air evacuation that moved more than 2 500 Hmong officers soldiers and family members out of their mountain ringed airbase Fifty or so Hmong and Americans involved in the evacuation provide herein a firsthand account of the 14 day evacuation and the events leading up to it Their accounts document both the political and human aspects of this unusual historical event

A People's History of the Hmong Paul Hillmer, 2011-06 A rich narrative history of the worldwide community of Hmong people exploring their cultural practices war and refugee camp experiences and struggles and triumphs as citizens of new countries The Indochinese Experience of the French and the Americans Arthur J. Dommen, 2002-02-20 Dommen s book promises to be the definitive political history of Indochina during the Franco American era William M Leary E Merton Coulter Professor of History University of Georgia This magisterial study by Arthur J Dommen sets the Indochina wars French and American in perspective as no book that has come before He summarizes the history of the peninsula from the Vietnamese War of Independence from China in 930 39 through the first French military actions in 1858 when the struggle of the peoples of Indochina with Western powers began Dommen details the crucial episodes in the colonization of Indochina by the French and the indigenous reaction to it The struggle for national sovereignty reached an acute state at the end of World War II when independent governments rapidly assumed power in Vietnam and Cambodia When the French returned the struggle became one of open warfare with Nationalists and Communists gripped in a contest for ascendancy in Vietnam while the rulers of Cambodia and Laos sought to obtain independence by negotiation The withdrawal of the French after their defeat at Dien Bien Phu brought the Indochinese face to face whether as friends or as enemies with the Americans In spite of an armistice in 1954 the war between Hanoi and Saigon resumed as each enlisted the help of foreign allies which led to the renewed loss of sovereignty as a result of alliances and an increasingly heavy loss of lives Meticulous and detailed Dommen s telling of this complicated story is always judicious Nevertheless many people will find his analysis of the Diem coup a disturbing account of American plotting and murder This is an essential book for anyone who wants to understand Vietnam and the people who fought against the United States and won Hmong Refugees in the New World Christopher Thao Vang, 2016-05-16 Almost no one in the West had heard of the Hmong before National Geographic ran a cover story on the Southeast Asian ethnic group that had allied with the United States in the Vietnam War and few knew of them before their arrival in the U S and other Western nations in 1975 Originating in China centuries ago they have been known by various names Miao Meo Miaozi Meng or San Miao some of them derogatory The Hmong in the West are war displaced refugees from China and Laos though they have been misidentified as belonging to other ethnic groups This mislabeling has caused confusion about the Hmong and their history This book details the history of the Hmong and their journey from Eastern to Western countries providing a clear understanding of an immigrant culture little understood by the American public

Studies Sucheng Chan, 2005 In Defense of Asian American Studies offers fascinating tales from the trenches on the origins and evolution of the field of Asian American studies as told by one of its founders and most highly regarded scholars. Wielding intellectual energy, critical acumen, and a sly sense of humor, Sucheng Chan discusses her experiences on three campuses within the University of California system as Asian American studies was first developed in response to vehement student demand under the rubric of ethnic studies. Chan speaks by turns as an advocate and an administrator striving to secure a place for Asian American studies as a teacher working to give Asian American students a voice and white students a perspective on race and racism, and as a scholar and researcher still asking her own questions. The essays span three decades and close with a piece on the new challenges facing Asian American studies. Eloquent documentation of a field of endeavor in which scholarship and identity define and strengthen each other. In Defense of Asian American Studies combines analysis, personal experience, and indispensable practical advice for those engaged in building and sustaining Asian American studies programs.

Special Bibliography Series, 1957 Supplement to Vietnam 1964-1973, 2005 Asian/Pacific Islander American Women Shirley Hune, Gail M. Nomura, 2003-08 A groundbreaking anthology devoted to Asian Pacific Islander American women and their experiences. Asian Pacific Islander American Women is the first collection devoted to the historical study of A PI women's diverse experiences in America. Covering a broad terrain from pre-large scale Asian emigration and Hawaii in its pre-Western contact period to the continental United States, the Philippines, and Guam at the end of the twentieth century, the text views women as historical subjects actively negotiating complex hierarchies of power. The volume presents new findings about a range of groups including recent immigrants to the U.S. and understudied communities. Comprised of original new work, it includes chapters on women who are Cambodian, Chamorro, Chinese, Filipino, Hmong, Japanese, Korean, Native Hawaiian, South Asian, and Vietnamese Americans. It addresses a wide range of women's experiences as immigrants, military brides, refugees, American-born lesbians, workers, mothers, beauty contestants, and community activists. There are also pieces on historiography and methodology, and bibliographic and video documentary resources. This groundbreaking anthology is an important addition to the scholarship in Asian Pacific American studies, ethnic studies, American studies, women's studies, and U.S. history and is a valuable resource for scholars and students. Contributors include Xiaolan Bao, Sucheng Chan, Catherine Ceniza Choy, Vivian Loyola, Dames Jennifer, Gee Madhulika, S. Khandelwal, Lili M.
