Michael S. Benninger,Thomas Murry,2008-05-01 Each type of performer whether singer voice over artists dancer singers instrumentalists singers brings specific issues to the voice treatment team and requires special individual attention from the various members of the team from laryngologist to speech pathologist singing or voice teacher The Singer's Voice identifies these individuals presents reports on cases with special needs and offers myriad solutions that help to preserve the voice and prevent further damage It is written by a world leading group of dedicated professionals from an array of disciplines related to the care and treatment of individuals who use their voices in professional settings Ranging from current day performers to choral conductors to past rock and roll musicians all contributors have shown a dedication to the care of the singer and performer through their studios academic training their research interests and experience and their clinical and or their performance background The content is thoroughly practical and written to be accessible to a wide range of voice professionals particularly singing and voice teachers instructors in the various performing arts those who provide medical and allied health care and indeed performers and students themselves Empirical Direction in Design and Analysis

Norman H. Anderson,2001-07-01 The goal of Norman H Anderson's new book is to help students develop skills of scientific inference To accomplish this he organized the book around the Experimental Pyramid six levels that represent a hierarchy of considerations in empirical investigation conceptual framework phenomena behavior measurement design and statistical inference To facilitate conceptual and empirical understanding Anderson de-emphasizes computational formulas and null hypothesis testing Other features include emphasis on visual inspection as a basic skill in experimental analysis to help students develop an intuitive appreciation of data patterns exercises that emphasize development of conceptual and empirical application of methods of design and analysis and de-emphasize formulas and calculations and heavier emphasis on confidence intervals than significance tests The book is intended for use in graduate level experimental design research methods or statistics courses in psychology education and other applied social sciences as well as a professional resource for active researchers The first 12 chapters present the core concepts graduate students must understand The next nine chapters serve as a reference handbook by focusing on specialized topics with a minimum of technicalities

Cytoskeleton: Signalling and Cell Regulation ,1999-12-16 This book provides descriptions of experimental methods in research on the cytoskeleton and its relationships to signaling and cell regulation Thus it bridges two active and fertile areas of research The focus is directed particularly towards methods which take advantage of recent advances in molecular biology microscopy and immunological assays A second emphasis is on methods for understanding dynamic changes in cells A third emphasis is on the formation and turnover of macromolecular and supramolecular complexes which are so important in driving cell regulation and the behaviour of cytoskeletal elements A combination of practical advice and detailed protocols should make this book valuable for both novice and experienced workers in these burgeoning fields Edinburgh Medical Journal ,1921 Handbook of Depression in Children and Adolescents John R. Z. Abela,Benjamin L. Hankin,2008-01-01

This timely authoritative volume provides an integrative review of current knowledge on child and adolescent depression covering everything from epidemiology and neurobiology to evidence based treatment and prevention From foremost scientist practitioners the book is organized within a developmental psychopathology framework that elucidates the factors that put certain children at risk and what can be done to help Proven intervention models are discussed in step by step detail with coverage of cognitive behavioral interpersonal and pharmacological approaches among others Special topics include sex differences in depression understanding and managing suicidality and the intergenerational transmission of depression
