

The Perfect Breathing Technique for Singers

1 Keep your throat open.

If you can hear a lot of air passing through, it's a sign that your throat is not open. Hardly anything should be heard when you inhale.

3 Relax your jaw.

Don't gasp for air with your mouth wide open. Just keep it in a relaxed, natural position.

5 Keep your shoulders calm and relaxed.

7 Keep your torso straight.

This ensures that there are no blockages hindering the air from flowing freely. You can have great posture while standing, sitting or even laying down, as long as you keep your upper body straight and the airflow unrestricted.

2 Keep your neck straight.

Don't tilt your head up or down or turn it sideways. Also, don't shift your head forward or pull it back. It creates pressure on the larynx and vocal cords.

4 Breathe through your mouth.

It's the fastest and most direct way to fill your lungs with air and doesn't create any unpleasant sound.

6 Expand your ribs when you inhale.

Always remember that the lungs are surrounded by the ribs. When you sing, don't collapse - keep the ribs out.

8 Always remember that your whole body is your instrument!
