Defense Documentation Center (U.S.), 1962 User Guides, Manuals, and Technical Writing Adrian Wallwork, 2014-06-19
This book is intended for anyone whose job involves writing formal documentation. It is aimed at non-native speakers of English but should also be of use for native speakers who have no training in technical writing. Technical writing is a skill that you can learn and this book outlines some simple ideas for writing clear documentation that will reflect well on your company, its image and its brand. The book has four parts: Structure and Content, Through examples you will learn best practices in writing the various sections of a manual and what content to include; Clear Unambiguous English. You will learn how to write short, clear sentences and paragraphs whose meaning will be immediately clear to the reader; Layout and Order of Information. Here you will find guidelines on style issues, e.g., headings, bullets, punctuation and capitalization; Typical Grammar and Vocabulary Mistakes. This section is divided alphabetically and covers grammatical and vocabulary issues that are typical of user manuals. U.S. Armed Forces Recipe Service, Over 1,700 total pages. The Armed Forces Recipe Service is a compendium of high-volume food service recipes written and updated regularly by the United States Department of Defense Natick Laboratories and used by military cooks and by institutional and catering operations. It originated in 1969 as a consolidation of the cooking manuals of the four main services and is based on previous military publications dating back to the first standardization efforts in the US Army in 1896. Recipes are based primarily on American cookery with the addition of specialized items such as vegetarian, kosher and halal recipes to meet more specialized needs of those being served. The Service database is now distributed by the Joint Culinary Center of Excellence, a division of the US Army Quartermaster School based in Fort Lee, Virginia. Each recipe card has a standardized format; each recipe is calibrated to feed 100 people with a basic nutritional analysis across the top of the card. The "Official" Baby Owner's Manual Debra Spurrier Morrison, New Cook Book Jennifer Darling, 2004-03.
