Pauline Smith Dorothy Driver, 1983

The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945

Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Kloppe, Craig MacKenzie, 2010 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

Textual Ethos Studies, or: Locating Ethics, 2016-08-01

What is the relationship between texts and ethics Who decides the ethics of a text the writer or the reader What happens to ethics in texts that portray dreams or psychoses Is violence always inherently unethical In dealing with others is violence to both them and oneself ever completely avoidable Textual Ethos Studies does not attempt to provide definitive answers to these questions so much as to be a springboard to the further discussion of ethics in relation to specific texts. The essays illustrate varying perspectives ranging from the philosophical to the psychoanalytical to the linguistic that can be used to localize how texts engage or invite an engagement with ethics. Twenty scholars representing Asia, Europe, Israel, North America, and South Africa highlight the complex relationship between cultural context and ethics and between the ethical and the unethical. Several essays deal with the study of atypical texts that represent different attitudes toward the violent, the disordered, the traumatized, the psychotic, and the sentimental in order to encourage or provoke further discussion of the relevance of these types of texts to ethics.

Lantern, 1981 The Feminist Companion to Literature in English Virginia Blain, Patricia Clements, Isobel Grundy, 1990. The first international guide to women writers in English featuring both well known and obscure women writers from the British Isles and North America as well as writers from the Caribbean, the South Pacific, Australia, Asia, and Africa. It includes not only poets, dramatists, and novelists but also diarists, translators, and spiritual autobiographers. Most entries are biographical, but there are numerous topic entries as well. This book is the fruit of research by three editors and fifty specialist consultants.

A Russian Jew of Bloomsbury Galya Diment, 2011. A Russian Jew of Bloomsbury looks at the remarkable influence that an outsider had on the tightly knit circle of Britain's cultural elite. Among Kotliansky's friends were Katherine Mansfield, Leonard and Virginia Woolf, Mark Gertler, Lady Ottoline Morrell, H. G. Wells, and Dilys Powell. But it was his close and turbulent friendship with D. H. Lawrence that proved to be Kotliansky's lasting legacy. In a lively and vibrant narrative, Galya Diment shows how, despite Kot's determination, he could never escape the dark aspects of his past or overcome the streak of anti-Semitism that ran through British society, including the hearts and minds of many of his famous literary friends.

Decolonisations of Literature Stefan Helgesson, 2022-04-15. An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library. This book sets out to understand how the meaning of literature was transformed in the Global South in the post-1945 era. It looks at institutional contexts in South Africa, mainly Johannesburg; Brazil, São Paulo; Senegal, Dakar; and Kenya, Nairobi, and engages with critical writing in English, Portuguese, and French. Critics studied in the book include Antonio Candido, Tim Couzens, Isabel Hofmeyr, Es'kia Mphahlele, Leopold Senghor, Taban Lo Liyong, and Ngugi wa Thiong'o. By reading these intellectuals of the Global South as producers of theory and practice in their own right, the book attempts to demonstrate the contingency of what is here called the worlding of the concept of literature. Decolonisation itself is seen as a contingent, non-linear process that unfolds in a recursive dialogue with the past. In a bid to offer a more grounded approach to world literature, a key objective of this study is therefore to investigate the accumulation of temporalities in institutional histories of critical practice To reach this objective it engages the method of conceptual history as developed by Reinhart Koselleck and David Scott demonstrating how the concept of literature is resemanticised in ways that dialectically both challenge and consolidate literature as a concept and practice in post colonised societies Children's Mathematics Elizabeth Carruthers, Maulfry Worthington, 2006-08-07 In Case Study 5 a grassroots Children's Mathematics Network group the initiative supported the participants in their professional change by giving them a space for the detailed and joint consideration of children's mathematical thinking Another significant feature of this initiative is its focus on careful consideration and analysis of children's mathematics and the ways in which professionals can support and encourage the children's mathematical thinking and reasoning The standard of the mathematical understanding thinking and reasoning that the displays revealed was far higher than the specified curriculum objectives for children of this age Researching Effective CPD in Mathematics Education RECME project NCETM 2009 The review also plays great score by play based learning of a mathematical nature and makes specific recommendations regarding early mark making as a precursor to abstract mathematical symbolism Section 115 features children's mathematical graphics and emphasises The role of mark making in children's cognitive development is set out in the taxonomy Carruthers and Worthington 2006 The report recommends that local authorities leaders managers and head teachers should provide a culture with a significant focus on mathematical mark making and a learning environment that encourages children to choose to use their own mathematical graphics to support their mathematical thinking and processes The Williams Maths Review DCSF 2008 At the very heart of the success of the book is the authors ability to see mathematics through young children's eyes by listening to and reflecting on the constant efforts made by children to make sense of their world This is a liberating book which proposes that the teaching of mathematics could and should be a highly creative and enjoyable process Branwen Llewelyn Jones Early Years Consultant at PACE Ltd TACTYC Ground breaking To single out any one chapter would be unfair because there is something thought provoking and inspirational throughout If you want to expand your understanding upwards and outwards then get a copy soon Times Educational Supplement I first read Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning a couple of years ago and it had an immediate impact on my own thinking and teaching and the work I do with trainee teachers I'm sure you will find it compelling reading too I think it has the potential to change in a fundamental way how we think about early mathematical development Lynne McClure Editor Math Coordinator's File Mathematics Association In their exceptionally readable and informative book Children's Mathematics Making Marks Making Meaning Carruthers and Worthington 2006 draw attention to one of the main goals of early years teaching that is to help children make links between the mathematics they have already encountered and continue to engage with at home and the more abstract mathematics of the school These authors suggest that by encouraging children to represent mathematical ideas in their own ways and crucially by talking to the pupils about the marks they have made we are given a window onto their thinking that may otherwise be inaccessible Liz Pumphrey NRICH This book draws on the authors many years of teaching children aged three to eight years and also on their extensive research with children in the home nursery and school The authors explain the development and range of young children s mathematical marks and visual representations showing how children make mental connections between their own early marks and subsequent abstract mathematical symbolism and go on to develop their own written methods Combining theory and practice this acclaimed book demonstrates how children s own mathematical graphics are highly creative and show deep levels of thinking The authors show how this is the key to success in school mathematics and to higher levels of achievement The authors are winners of TACTYC s 2003 Jenefer Joseph Award for the Creative Arts 3 8 awarded for their innovative work with children on mathematical graphics South African Writers Paul A. Scanlon,2000 Essays on South African writers from the South African War or Anglo Boer War 1899 1902 to the Act of Union in 1910 when the defeated Boer republics were joined together by British Parliament into what became modern South Africa Discusses the beginnings of South Africa literature in English as well as the impact the discovery of gold and diamonds had Genres mentioned include travel books hunter adventure romances and South African realist fiction Within Our Gates Alan Gevinson,1997 These volumes are endlessly absorbing as an excursion into cultural history and national memory Arthur Schlesinger Jr Saturday Review of Literature ,1925 Computerworld ,1994-10-24 For more than 40 years Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide Computerworld s award winning Web site Computerworld.com twice monthly publication focused conference series and custom research form the hub of the world s largest global IT media network
