Situating Portfolios Kathleen Yancey:

Situating Portfolios Kathleen Yancey, 1997-02 Situating Portfolios is both reflective and forward looking practice oriented but well grounded in theory Kathleen Yancey and Irwin Weiser bring together thirty one writing teachers from diverse levels of instruction institutional settings and regions to create an inviting volume on current practice in portfolio writing assessment The contributors here reflect on the explosion in portfolio practice over the last decade why it happened what comes next discuss portfolios in hypertext the web and other electronic spaces report on current and new contexts from emergent literacy to faculty development in which portfolios now appear and consider emerging trends and issues that are involving portfolios in teacher assessment faculty development and graduate student experience An energetic volume Situating Portfolios gathers a wide range of experience and thinking into one stimulating discussion It s a book that will be of interest to writing teachers and teacher educators at all levels

Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer, 2023-08-07 In Reconstructing Response to Student Writing Dan Melzer makes the argument that writing instructors should shift the construct so that peer response and student self assessment are more central than teacher response Presenting the results of a national study of teacher and peer response and student self assessment at institutions of higher education across the United States Melzer analyzes teacher and peer response to over 1 000 pieces of student writing as well as 128 student portfolio reflection essays He draws on his analysis and on a comprehensive review of the literature on response to introduce a constructivist heuristic for response aimed at both composition instructors and instructors across disciplines Melzer argues that teachers and researchers should focus less on teacher response to individual pieces of student writing and more on engaging in dialogue with student self assessment and peer response focusing on growth and transfer rather than products and grades Reconstructing Response to Student Writing especially when taken together with Melzer s previous book Assignments across the Curriculum provides a comprehensive and large scale view of college writing and responding across the curriculum in the United States

A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse ePortfolio as Curriculum Kathleen Blake Yancey, 2023-07-03 At a moment when the ePortfolio has been recognized as a high impact practice as a unique site for hosting student integrative learning and as a powerful genre for assessment this book provides faculty staff and administrators with a set of frameworks and models useful for guiding students in designing and creating ePortfolios that clearly communicate their purpose and effectively use the affordances of the medium In short this book both illustrates and provides guidance on how to support the development of students ePortfolio literacy The ePortfolio curricular models provided in ePortfolio as Curriculum include both those integrated within existing disciplinary courses and those offered through credit bearing stand alone courses In taking up questions focused on what students need to know and do in becoming informed effective ePortfolio makers the contributors to this volume from the standpoint of their course outcomes and institutional contexts present various approaches to developing an ePortfolio curriculum Individually and collectively the chapters explain ways to engage students in understanding the potential purposes structures audiences and designs of ePortfolios in developing the reflective practices for contextualizing and informing the selection and curation of artifacts and in creating appropriate focus and coherence Synthesizing insights from the previous chapters the concluding chapter identifies six consistent features of an ePortfolio curriculum that support the development of students ePortfolio literacy In addition Kathleen Blake Yancey identifies and defines seven common ePortfolio curricular dimensions that contribute to students ePortfolio literacy among them student agency digital identity and campus and global citizenship Not least she describes new practices emerging from ePortfolio curricula including new ePortfolio specific genres new metaphors used to characterize ePortfolios and their practices and new issues that the ePortfolio curriculum raises Reimagining Process Kyle Jensen, 2015 Reimagining Process explores how process and attending concepts such as reflection care power and portfolios might play a more prominent role in emerging writing studies research The Writing Program Administrator's Resource Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 2005-04-11 The role of the writing program administrator is one of diverse activities and challenges and preparation for the position has traditionally come through performing the job itself As a result uninitiated WPAs often find themselves struggling to manage the various requirements and demands of the position and even experienced WPAs often encounter situations on which they need advice The Writing Program Administrator's Resource has been developed to address the needs of all WPAs regardless of background or experience It provides practical applicable tools to effectively address the differing and sometimes competing roles in which WPAs find themselves Readers will find an invaluable collection of articles in this volume addressing fundamental practices and issues encountered by WPAs in their workplace settings and focusing on the hows and whys of writing program administration With formal preparation and training only now beginning to catch up to the very real needs of the WPA this volume offers guidance and support from authoritative and experienced sources educators who have established the definitions and standards of the position who have run into obstacles and surmounted them and who have not just survived but thrived in their roles as WPAs Editors Stuart C Brown and Theresa Enos contribute their own experience and bring together the voices of their colleagues to delineate the intellectual scope and practices of writing program administration as an emerging discipline Established and esteemed leaders in the field offer insights advice and plans of action for the myriad scenarios encountered in the position encouraging WPAs and helping them to realize that they often know more than they think they do This resource is required reading for the new WPA and an essential reference for all who serve in the WPA role As a guidebook for WPAs it is destined to become a fixture on the desk of every educator involved with or interested in administrating writing programs writing centers and writing across the curriculum efforts Twenty Writing Assignments in Context Melissa Bender, Karma

Waltonen, 2016-12-19 Twenty original classroom tested assignments This innovative collection of college writing assignments explores the practical applications of each lesson Drawing upon current best practices each chapter includes a discussion of the rationale behind the assignment along with supplemental elements such as guidelines for evaluation prewriting exercises and tips for avoiding common pitfalls The assignments are designed for a range of courses from first year composition to upper division writing in various disciplines Embodied Rhetorics James C. Wilson, Cynthia Lewiecki-Wilson, 2001

Presenting thirteen essays editors James C Wilson and Cynthia Lewiecki Wilson unite the fields of disability studies and rhetoric to examine connections between disability education language and cultural practices Bringing together theoretical and analytical perspectives from rhetorical studies and disability studies these essays extend both the field of rhetoric and the newer field of disability studies The contributors span a range of academic fields including English education history and sociology Several contributors are themselves disabled or have disabled family members While some essays included in this volume analyze the ways that representations of disability construct identity and attitudes toward the disabled other essays use disability as a critical modality to rethink economic theory educational practices and everyday interactions Among the disabilities discussed within these contexts are various physical disabilities mental illness learning disabilities deafness blindness and diseases such as multiple sclerosis and AIDS Electronic Portfolios 2.0 Darren Cambridge, Kathleen Blake

Yancey, Barbara Cambridge, 2023-07-03 Higher education institutions of all kinds across the United States and around the world have rapidly expanded the use of electronic portfolios in a broad range of applications including general education the major personal planning freshman learning communities advising assessing and career planning Widespread use creates an urgent need to evaluate the implementation and impact of eportfolios Using qualitative and quantitative methods the contributors to this book all of whom have been engaged with the Inter National Coalition for Electronic Portfolio Research have undertaken research on how eportfolios influence learning and the learning environment for students faculty members and institutions This book features emergent results of studies from 20 institutions that have examined effects on student reflection integrative learning establishing identity organizational learning and designs for learning supported by technology It also describes how institutions have responded to multiple challenges in eportfolio development from engaging faculty to going to scale These studies exemplify how eportfolios can spark disciplinary identity increase retention address accountability improve writing and contribute to accreditation The chapters demonstrate the applications of eportfolios at community colleges small private colleges comprehensive universities research universities and a state system

A Short History of Writing Instruction James J. Murphy, 2012-05-04 Short enough to be synoptic yet long enough to be usefully detailed A Short History of Writing Instruction is the ideal text for undergraduate courses and graduate seminars in rhetoric and composition It preserves the legacy of writing instruction from antiquity to contemporary times with a unique focus on the material educational and institutional context of the Western rhetorical tradition Its longitudinal approach enables students to track the recurrence over time of not only specific teaching methods but also major issues such as social purpose writing as power the effect of technologies the rise of vernaculars and writing as a force for democratization The collection is rich in scholarship and critical perspectives which is made accessible through the robust list of pedagogical tools included such as the Key Concepts listed at the beginning of each chapter and the Glossary of Key Terms and Bibliography for Further Study provided at the end of the text Further additions include increased attention to orthography or the physical aspects of the writing process new material on high school instruction sections on writing in the electronic age and increased coverage of women rhetoricians and writing instruction of women A new chapter on writing instruction in Late Medieval Europe was also added to augment coverage of the Middle Ages fill the gap in students knowledge of the period and present instructional methods that can be easily reproduced in the modern classroom

Everyone Can Write Peter Elbow, 2000-03-30 This new collection of essays bring together the best of Elbow s writing since the publication of Embracing Contraries in 1987 The volume includes sections on voice the experience of writing teaching and evaluation Implicit throughout is Elbow s commitment to humanizing the profession and his continued emphasis on the importance of binary thinking and nonadversarial argument The result is a compendium of a master teacher s thoughts on the relation between good pedagogy and good writing it is sure to be of interest to all professional teachers of writing and will be a valuable book for use in graduate composition courses

Handbook of Research on ePortfolios Jafari, Ali, Kaufman, Catherine, 2006-05-31 This handbook investigates a variety of ePortfolio uses through case studies the technology that supports the case studies and it also explains the conceptual thinking behind current uses as well as potential uses Provided by publisher

The Promise and Perils of Writing Program Administration Theresa Enos, Shane Borrowman, 2008-01-26 Combining formal quantitative research with narrative based scholarship THE PROMISE AND PERILS OF WRITING PROGRAM

ADMINISTRATION represents multiple voices from faculty balancing between the demands of teaching writing and administering writing programs in professional ethical ways often under circumstances that can be defined at best as difficult. In these pages junior faculty tell their stories of triumph and trauma while more firmly established composition scholars reflect upon the changing and challenging profession we all share.

ePortfolio Performance Support Systems Katherine V. Wills, Rich Rice, 2013-07-16 ePortfolio Performance Support Systems Constructing Presenting and Assessing Portfolios addresses theories and practices advanced by some of the most innovative and active proponents of ePortfolios.

The Allyn and Bacon Guide to Writing Portfolios Gina Claywell, 2001 This brief and inexpensive book helps students compile effective portfolios for a variety of situations and courses. Shows students how to understand what type of portfolio is called for, recognize the material most appropriate for inclusion and submit a portfolio that shows learning. This guide does not approach portfolios as the driving force of a course rather it teaches students who are asked to submit portfolios with or without direct instructor supervision how to construct successful portfolios. Anyone looking to compile a portfolio.

A Short History of Writing Instruction James Jerome Murphy, 2012 A Short History of Writing Instruction preserves the legacy of writing instruction from antiquity to contemporary times with a unique focus on the material, educational and institutional context of the Western rhetorical tradition.

Portfolios for Technical and Professional Communicators Herb J. Smith, Kim Haimes-Korn, 2007 For upper level courses in Technical Communication and Professional Writing. Portfolios for Technical and Professional Communicators is a short practical guide that discusses how to create professional paper and electronic portfolios. Designed for technical communication and professional writing students it covers the portfolio building process and reinforces text concepts using guidelines, exercises, assignments and student examples. It covers design and content issues important to technical and professional communicators and integrates examples specific to the profession. Unique chapters offer coverage of portfolios and legal issues, portfolios and the job search and how to use portfolios in interviews and on the job.

Writing Program Administration Susan H. McLeod, 2007-03-16 This reference guide provides a comprehensive review of the literature on all the issues, responsibilities and opportunities that writing program administrators need to understand, manage and enact, including budgets, personnel, curriculum, assessment, teacher training and supervision and more. Writing Program Administration also provides the first comprehensive history of writing program administration in U.S. higher education. Writing Program Administration includes a helpful glossary of terms and an annotated bibliography for further reading.

Vernacular Eloquence Peter Elbow, 2012-01-13 Since the publication of his groundbreaking books Writing Without Teachers and Writing with Power, Peter Elbow has revolutionized how people think about writing. Now in Vernacular Eloquence he makes a vital new contribution to both practice and theory. The core idea is simple: we can enlist virtues from the language activity most people find easiest (speaking) for the language activity most people find hardest (writing). Speech with its spontaneity, naturalness of expression and fluidity of thought has many overlooked linguistic and rhetorical merits Through several easy to employ techniques writers can marshal this wisdom of the tongue to produce stronger clearer more natural writing This simple idea it turns out has deep repercussions Our culture of literacy Elbow argues functions as though it were a plot against the spoken voice the human body vernacular language and those without privilege making it harder than necessary to write with comfort or power Giving speech a central role in writing overturns many empty preconceptions It causes readers to think critically about the relationship between speech writing and our notion of literacy Developing the political implications behind Elbow s previous books Vernacular Eloquence makes a compelling case that strengthening writing and democratizing it go hand in hand Rearticulating Writing Assessment for Teaching and Learning Brian Huot, 2003-04-01 Brian Huot s aim for this book is both ambitious and provocative He wants to reorient composition studies view of writing assessment To accomplish this he not only has to inspire the field to perceive assessment generally not the most appreciated area of study as deeply significant to theory and pedagogy he also has to counter some common misconceptions about the history of assessment in writing In Re Articulating Writing Assessment Huot advocates a new understanding a more optimistic and productive one than we have seen in composition for a very long time Assessment as Huot points out defines what is valued by a teacher or a society What isn t valued isn t assessed it tends to disappear from the curriculum The dark side of this truth is what many teachers find troubling about large scale assessments as standardized tests don t grant attention or merit to all they should Instead assessment has been used as an interested social mechanism for reinscribing current power relations and class systems
