Elisabeth Hyde, 2009-07-01 Abortion, Choice, and Contemporary Fiction Judith Wilt, 1990-06-28 In recent years public debate has raged over the issue of maternal choice While personal testimony and political argument have received widespread attention artistic representations of birth and abortion have been submerged Judith Wilt offers the first look at how contemporary writers tell and retell the stories that shape our perceptions about abortion She reveals that the struggle to plot these painful complex narratives of choice control guilt loss and liberation has preoccupied an astonishing number of our most distinguished novelists male and female alike Readers of twentieth century novels are more likely to encounter plots centered on maternal choice than those dealing with the more traditional problems of courtship and marriage In the opening of the book Wilt discusses real case histories of several women After studying the ambiguities of their decisions she turns to their counterpoints depicted in contemporary fiction Working from a feminist perspective Wilt traces the theme of maternal choice in works by Margaret Atwood Margaret Drabble Joan Didion Mary Gordon Alice Walker Toni Morrison Gloria Naylor Marge Piercy Thomas Keneally Graham Swift Ernest Hemingway William Faulkner John Barth John Irving and others Behind the political medical and moral debates on abortion Wilt argues is a profound psychocultural shock at the recognition that maternity is passing from the domain of instinct to that of conscious choice Although never wholly instinctual maternity's potential capture by consciousness raises complex questions The novels Wilt discusses portray worlds in which principles are endangered by sexual inequality male power and hidden male fear of abandonment impotence female submission and covert rage and in the case of black maternity the hideous aftermath of slavery Wilt provides a resonant new context for debates whether political or personal on the issue of abortion and maternal choice Ultimately she enables us to rethink how we shape our own identities and lives more efficient learning My Movie Business John Irving, 2012-05-08 John Irving's memoir describes the author's involvement and lack thereof in five of the films that have and have not been made from his nine novels. My Movie Business focuses primarily on the thirteen years Mr. Irving spent writing and rewriting his screenplay of The Cider House Rules for four different directors. A Miramax production, the film was finally shot in the fall of 1998, directed by the Swedish director Lasse Hallström. My Life as a Dog with Michael Caine in the role of Dr. Larch. The Cider House Rules is a November 1999 release. Mr. Irving also writes about the failed effort to make his first novel Setting Free the Bears into a movie, about two of the films that were made from his novels but not from his screenplays, The World According to Garp and The Hotel New Hampshire, and about his ongoing struggle to shepherd his screenplay of A Son of the Circus into production. In addition to its qualities as a memoir, anecdotal, comic, affectionate, and candid, My Movie Business is an insightful essay on the essential differences between writing a novel and writing a screenplay. Never have the two forms of storytelling been so lucidly compared and contrasted; the details are memorable, the examples clarifying. My Movie Business includes photos by Stephen Vaughan, the still photographer on the film set of The Cider House Rules.

Learning Curves Beth Younger, 2009-07-09 Adolescence is a time of growth, change, and confusion for young women. During this transition from childhood to adulthood, sex and gender roles become more important. Meanwhile, depictions of females—from the hypersexualized girls of music videos to the chaste repression of Purity Balls—send mixed messages to young women about their bodies and their sexuality. Over the last several decades, authors of young adult novels have been challenged to reflect this concern in their work and have responded with varying degrees of success. In Learning Curves: Body Image and Female Sexuality in Young Adult Literature, Beth Younger examines how cultural assumptions and social constraints are reinforced and complicated through common representations of young women. Each chapter analyzes a recurrent theme in the history of young adult literature, including issues of body image, pregnancy, abortion, lesbianism, and romance. By examining selected novels for their sexual content, situating them within their social and historical context, and analyzing their discursive qualities, the author reveals the multitude of complex ways that society depicts teenagers and their sexualities and offers a critique of patriarchal culture that gives value to the female experience.

Reproductive Rights Issues in Popular Media Waltraud Maierhofer, Beth Widmaier Capo, 2017-06-09 No woman can call herself free who does not own and control her body. Almost a century after Margaret Sanger wrote these words, women's reproductive rights are still hotly debated in the press and among policymakers, while film, television, and other media address issues of birth control and abortion to global audiences. This collection of new essays brings fresh perspectives to the study of family planning, contraception, and abortion, with a focus on their representation in popular media. Topics include dramas of adoption and abortion, telling the story of the pill, Sanger's depiction in entertainment media, and a controversy about demographic developments stirred by Carl Djerassi, also known as the father of the pill.

Abortion in Popular Culture Brenda Boudreau, Kelli Maloy, 2023-04-04 Abortion in Popular Culture: A Call to Action brings together scholars who examine depictions of abortion in film, television, literature, and social media. By examining texts ranging from classic television series such as Maude and Roseanne and recent films such as Never Rarely Sometimes Always and Unpregnant to dystopian novels and social media campaigns the essays analyze narrative styles rhetorical strategies and cinematic techniques all of which shape cultural attitudes toward abortion They also analyze cultural shifts including the willingness or reluctance of networks cable channels and filmmakers to acknowledge changing trends in reproductive health such as medication abortion and the role that abortion plays in family planning As a whole however the essays argue that popular culture can play a significant role in destigmatizing abortion by including a wider range of narratives and doing so with nuance and empathy With reproductive rights under attack in the United States each essay is a call to action for writers producers directors showrunners authors and musicians to use their platforms to tell more positive and accurate stories about abortion

California and the Melancholic American Identity in Joan Didion's Novels Katarzyna Nowak McNeice, 2018-12-07 California and the Melancholic American Identity in Joan Didion's Novels Exiled from Eden focuses on the concept of Californian identity in the fiction of Joan Didion This identity is understood as melancholic in the sense that the critics following the tradition of both Sigmund Freud and Walter Benjamin use the word The book traces the progress of the way Californian identity is portrayed in Joan Didion's novels starting with the first two in which California plays the central role Run River and Play It As It Lays through A Book of Common Prayer to Democracy and The Last Thing He Wanted where California functions only as a distant point of reference receding to the background of Didion's interests Curiously enough Didion presents Californian history as a history of white settlement disregarding whole chapters of the history of the region in which the Californios and Native Americans among other groups played a crucial role it is this reticence that the monograph sees as the main problem of Didion's fiction and presents it as the silent center of gravity in Didion's oeuvre The monograph proposes to see the melancholy expressed by Didion's fiction organized into four losses of Nature History Ethics and Language around which the main analytical chapters are constructed

What remains unrepresented and silenced comes back to haunt Didion's fiction and it results in a melancholic portrayal of California and its identity which is the central theme this monograph addresses The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Textbook of Forensic Medicine & Toxicology: Principles & Practice - e-book Krishan Vij, 2013-09-30 Thoroughly revamped and revised edition carrying precise information in a concise manner Radical changes have been effected in the chapters Death and Its Medicolegal Aspects Forensic Thanatology Sudden and Unexpected Deaths Asphyxial Deaths Deaths Associated with Surgery Anaesthesia and Blood Transfusion Custody Related Torture and or Death Medicolegal Examination of the Living Injuries by Firearms Complications of Trauma Was Wounding Responsible for Death Consent to and Refusal of Treatment Medical Negligence and Intricacies of Forensic Toxicology Enriched with photographs drawings sketches flowcharts and tables for easy and catchy understanding Old cases have been replaced with new ones making way for the readers to appreciate medicolegal implications Reflects author's personal experience of about three decades and the knowledge gathered from extensive reading interactions deliberations etc at various platforms

Twentieth-century Fiction by Irish Women Heather Ingman, 2007 Heather Ingman's study argues that reading twentieth century Irish women's fiction in the light of Kristeva's theories of nationhood places Irish women at the heart of writing about the nation and demonstrates that the political dimension of their fiction has often been underestimated Her book is an important contribution to the study of gender in Irish writing that changes the way we view Irish women's writing
