Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore Teddy Y.H. Sim, Hwee Hwang Sim, 2021-02-20 This book addresses the topic of humanities education fieldwork using the Singapore context as its primary focus. It explores how the thought processes behind and techniques of various humanities and social sciences subjects can be applied to fieldwork in a variety of school and training settings. In addition, it discusses how humanities students and educators could stand to benefit from utilizing fieldwork techniques and skills used in archaeology and anthropology beyond undergraduates majoring in that discipline. Finally, the adoption of multidisciplinary approaches in fieldwork incorporating history, geography, literature, and social studies demonstrate how these subjects can collaborate together in actual case studies to facilitate participants' learning in the field.

Primary Education and Social Integration Cecilia Namulondo Nganda, 1996 Handbook on Teachers' Work Nina Bascia, Rhiannon M. Maton, 2025-09-30 The Handbook on Teachers Work brings together research and evidence-based authoritative writings from across the globe that explicitly theorizes and studies teachers' work. Drawing on research from twelve countries across 6 continents, the chapters are grouped into themes that represent key issues related to work from global perspectives, including The Political and Policy Contexts of Teachers Work, Teaching as an Occupation, Diverse Teacher Identities and Roles, Teaching as Collective and Relational Work, and Teaching and Activism. The volume explores the idea of teaching as an occupation with a history and trajectory that are shaped by political economies, historical progressions, organizational structures, social relations among educators, students, and others, teachers' career and labor patterns, their professional norms, and raced, gendered, classed, and culturally linked expectations of teachers and about public schooling. This essential handbook will be of interest to teacher educators, policymakers, and students and researchers in the fields of teachers' work, curriculum theory, educational policy and politics, foundations of education, multicultural education, and teacher education.

Virtual Fieldwork in Humanities Education Teddy Y. H. Sim, Kenneth Y. T. Lim, Hwee Hwang Sim, 2025-05-31 This book is a sequel to the book Fieldwork in Humanities Education in Singapore (Springer 2021). It addresses some of the queries raised in response to the first book on the utility of the physical or face-to-face fieldwork. Combining the opportunities unraveled by new technologies and diverse demands to actualize learning, this book showcases a variety of engagements in virtual fieldwork. These demonstrate current developments in the deployment of fieldwork in teaching and learning in Singapore, as well as discuss pertinent interacting issues in technology that arise. The chapters in this book inform evidence-based recommendations for inter alia the integration of virtual reality (VR) systems into place-based curricula. The drive towards better and more advanced technology is a relentless trend. At the same time, the still-evolving nature of frontier technologies and their adoption in the education sector entail a constant re-definition of their primary fields and resulting applications. This book contributes to the discussion and analysis of this ongoing process.

Southeast Asian Education in Modern History Pia Jolliffe, Thomas Bruce, 2018-10-30 How particular has Southeast

Asia's experience of educational development has been and has this led to an identifiably distinct Southeast Asian approach to the provision of education. Inquiry into these questions has significant consequences for our understanding of the current state of education in Southeast Asia and the challenges it has inherited. This book contributes to a better understanding of the experience of educational development in Southeast Asia by presenting a collection of micro-historical studies on the subject of education policy and practice in the region from the emergence of modern education to the end of the twentieth century. The chapters fathom the extent to which contest over educational content in schools has occurred and establish the socio-cultural, political and economic bases upon which these contestations have taken place and the ways in which those forces have played out in the classrooms. In doing so, the book conveys a sense of the extent to which modern forms of education have been both facilitated and shaped by the region's specific configurations: its unique demographic, religious, social, environmental, economic and political context. Conversely, they also provide examples of the sorts of obstacles that have prevented education making as full an impact on the region's recent modern transformation as might have been hoped or expected. This book will be of interest to academics in the field of Southeast Asian Studies, Asian Studies, education, nationalism and history.
