the future Constructing Singapore Michael D. Barr, Zlatko Skrbish, 2008 Constructing Singapore studies Singaporean nation building by focusing on two processes elite formation and elite selection It gives primary attention to the role that ethno racial ascription plays in these processes but also considers the input of personal connections personal power class and gender It is a study of the progress of Singapore's state sponsored nation building project to its current state whereby a Singaporean version of Chinese ethno nationalism has overwhelmed the discourse on national and Singaporean identity Based upon archival research and formal interviews this study unpacks the culture of elite governance in Lee Hsien Loong's Singapore today Reforms and Issues in School Mathematics in East Asia, 2010-01-01 Worldwide efforts to improve students learning of mathematics have turned educational researchers attention to some high achieving education systems especially those in East Asia including Chinese Mainland Hong Kong Japan Singapore South Korea and Taiwan However there is much less sharing and learning of educational policy and practices that goes beyond one or two such high achieving education systems At this time when educational changes and reforms for improving students learning of mathematics are also underway within these high achieving education systems in East Asia it becomes timely and important for the world to learn why and how relevant changes take place across these selected education systems This book has put together a set of papers that individually presents issues on the changing mathematics curriculum and teacher education in the six high achieving education systems in East Asia Collectively the book extends beyond what we can learn about exemplary practices in individual education systems in East Asia It helps us develop a better understanding of the interplay between various measures for the pursuit of excellence in mathematics curriculum and teacher education on the one hand and the different system contexts on the other The intended readers of the book include education policy makers curriculum developers researchers teachers teacher educators and anyone else interested in school mathematics curriculum and teacher education

Tamils, Social Capital and Educational Marginalization in Singapore Lavanya Balachandran, 2021-07-29 Labouring to Learn examines academic mobility pathways among ethnic minority Tamil youths in public secondary schools and vocational institutions in Singapore This book qualitatively examines the interactive effects of race and class on the educational performance of these youths through the lens of social capital Despite their numerical majoritarian position within the Indian population in Singapore the foreclosed access for Tamils to diverse class networks within the ethnic community as well as limited inter ethnic interactions has historically truncated the means to resources and opportunities for social mobility In schools the narratives shared by Tamil boys and girls from the lower academic streams and economically disadvantaged backgrounds reveal that they typically experience exclusion on account of racial economic and academic marginalisation in their everyday lives Turning to bonding ties among peers and family members provides social support resources that offer some respite from marginalisation On the flipside articulations of resistance ensue among Tamil youths that tangibly take time away from learning and run the danger of strengthening the cultural deficit rhetoric for mainstream society to explain the poor academic performance among ethnic minorities This account of educational marginalisation amongst Singaporean Tamil youths contributes towards understanding social inequality in a non liberal multicultural context where marginalisation is differentially experienced across ethnic minority groups and traced to broader socio historical contexts of migration assimilation and minority majority relations Furthermore it also articulates the utility of a social capital framework in historically revealing how educational inequality emerged and continues to be sustained in a postcolonial context
