Theodore Dreiser Frederic E. Rusch, Donald Pizer, 2004 Hardly shy about himself or his work Theodore Dreiser knew the value of publicity Over four decades he often consented to interviews answering questions about his fiction his politics and even previous interviews Throughout his life Dreiser raised a storm of protest with his realistic novels blistered public figures and other authors with untempered criticism scorned pieties masking brutality in law and economics and expressed a few contradictions of his own This volume collects for the first time more than seventy interviews As a group they show Dreiser dealing with an array of literary and social issues as well as his lifelong incapacity to mince words Dreiser is revealed in these interviews as a public figure of epic proportions The Bookman, 1918 The Spectator, 1901 A weekly review of politics literature theology and art The International Studio, 1917 Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, 1906

The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, Waldo Ralph Browne, Scofield Thayer, 1915 Enter a Samurai: Full text and illustrations Joseph L. Anderson, 2011 Looking back to the last years of the nineteenth century veteran producer director

Joseph L Anderson draws upon a monumental body of research gleaned from libraries and archives in seven countries to introduce the Japanese theatrical impresario Kawakami Otojirō. In 1899 Kawakami, his wife the inspired dancer and actress Sadayakko, and his troupe went on epochal performance tours of the U S and Europe introducing audiences to new forms of dramatic art and dance previously unseen in the West. Possessed of boundless energy and limitless imagination, Kawakami was a pioneer who quite literally viewed the world as his stage. In the closing decade of an all too brief life, Kawakami introduced major reforms of Japanese performance and the theatre business. Scholarly, witty, and filled with fascinating insights into the culture and conventions of fin de siècle America, Europe, and Japan, Enter a Samurai opens a door into a little known yet vitally important era of modern theatrical history.

About the Author: Joseph L Anderson has been enjoying Japanese and American plays and films for over seven decades. During the 1950s and 1960s he wrote for and was an editorial board member on many little film magazines. Later as professor of film in the Ohio University College of Fine Arts and adjunct in its Comparative Arts doctoral program in the early 1960s, he pioneered university level studies of Japanese cinema. He has a BA in history from Antioch College and an MA from Ohio State University, and he was a language student at ICU Tokyo. Anderson is the principal coauthor of The Japanese Film: Art and Industry in print for fifty years. Anderson was chief advisor for the Tokyo Broadcasting System academic program in Japanese Broadcasting Media and Culture and taught at the Tisch School of the Arts, New York University. He has been an assistant director and dialogue coach on American feature films shot in Japan, as well as a director of documentary films, a Variety stringer, and a writer of subtitles for Japanese films. In Hollywood and at WGBH Boston, he developed computer generated subtitles for feature motion pictures, the technique in use today. During his career, he directed two independent American feature films, was an outside producer for ABC and CBS news specials, director of special projects at the American Art Theatre Guild, Mid West producer for the Candid Camera Company, a puppeteer, a neophyte comedian in burlesque, an actor in lesser touring companies, director of a children's theatre, and an English language benshi (live narrator) of Japanese silent films. In his teens, he was a professional scenic artist, stage carpenter, and minor actor with several Equity summer stock theatres. Anderson is now a retired vice president of WGBH Boston, the organization that for several decades has produced more than a fourth of the television programs seen nationwide on PBS. In 1989, he received the Japan Prize Nihonsho for WGBH and was a Japan Foundation senior fellow in 1975.

The Publishers Weekly, 1900 The Last Titan Jerome Loving, 2005-03-01

When Theodore Dreiser first published Sister Carrie in 1900, it was suppressed for its seamy plot, colloquial language, and immorality, for as one reviewer put it, its depiction of the godless side of American life. It was a side of life experienced firsthand by Dreiser, whose own circumstances often paralleled those of his characters in the turbulent turn of the century era of immigrants, black lynchings, ruthless industrialists, violent labor movements, and the New Woman. This masterful critical biography, the first on Dreiser in more than half a century, is the only study to fully weave Dreiser's literary achievement into the context of his life. Jerome Loving gives us a Dreiser for a new generation in a brilliant evocation of a writer who boldly swept away Victorian timidity to open the twentieth century in American literature Dreiser was a controversial figure in his time not only because of his literary efforts which included publication of the brutal and heartbreaking An American Tragedy in 1925 but also because of his personal life which featured numerous sexual liaisons included membership in the communist party merited a 180 page FBI file and ended in Hollywood The Last Titan paints a full portrait of the mature Dreiser between the two world wars through the roaring twenties the stock market crash and the Depression and describes his contact with important figures from Emma Goldman and H L Mencken to two presidents Roosevelt Tracing Dreiser s literary roots in Hawthorne Emerson Thoreau and especially Whitman Loving has written what will surely become the standard biography of one of America s best novelists The Illustrated London News, 1928 REAL - Yearbook of Research in English and American Literature, Volume 38 Laura Bieger, Johannes Völz, 2024-04-29 Celebrating the 80th birthday of Winfried Fluck this volume of REAL gathers leading US American and European literary scholars from English and American Studies to engage some of his classic essays covering topics that range from the aesthetics of early American literature to the history of our digital present and from the Americanization of literary studies to the search for American democratic culture Each of the volume s twelve dialogues consists of a republished essay by Fluck and a response by one his interlocutors written specifically for this occasion Contributors include field defining scholars long time companions and colleagues whose intellectual trajectory has been impacted by Fluck s incisive metacriticism and his reception oriented approach to literary and cultural history The twelve dialogues reassess debates that have shaped literary studies in the late twentieth century and they inquire into the paradigmatic shifts that are currently reorganizing the field The Literary Era, 1900
