Dear Members of the Volunteer Leadership Committee,

I am honored to nominate John Smith for the 2050 Volunteer Leadership Award at your esteemed organization. Having worked alongside John for the past 10 years, I have witnessed firsthand his exceptional dedication, innovative leadership, and deep commitment to our organization and the communities we serve.

John began volunteering with GCO in 2040, quickly taking on leadership roles in multiple initiatives. Most notably, his leadership in the "Clean Earth Campaign" has been nothing short of transformative. John spearheaded the initiative to mobilize over 5,000 volunteers across 20 cities to remove over 100 tons of plastic waste from beaches and waterways, exceeding the original project goals by 150%. His strategic planning and ability to engage and inspire volunteers were key factors in the campaign's overwhelming success.

The Invisible Front Yochi Dreazen, 2015-10-06 The unforgettable story of a military family that lost two sons one to suicide and one in combat and channeled their grief into fighting the armed forces suicide epidemic Major General Mark Graham was a decorated two star officer whose integrity and patriotism inspired his sons Jeff and Kevin to pursue military careers of their own His wife Carol was a teacher who held the family together while Mark's career took them to bases around the world When Kevin and Jeff die within nine months of each other Kevin commits suicide and Jeff is killed by a roadside bomb in Iraq Mark and Carol are astonished by the drastically different responses their sons' deaths receive from the Army While Jeff is lauded as a hero Kevin's death is met with silence evidence of the terrible stigma that surrounds suicide and mental illness in the military Convinced that their sons died fighting different battles Mark and Carol commit themselves to transforming the institution that is the cornerstone of their lives The Invisible Front is the story of how one family tries to set aside their grief and find purpose in almost unimaginable loss. The Grahams work to change how the Army treats those with PTSD and to erase the stigma that prevents suicidal troops from getting the help they need before making the darkest of choices. Their fight offers a window into the military's institutional shortcomings and its resistance to change failures that have allowed more than 3,000 troops to take their own lives since 2001. Yochi Dreazen, an award-winning journalist who has covered the military since 2003, has been granted remarkable access to the Graham family and tells their story in the full context of two of America's longest wars. Dreazen places Mark and Carol's personal journey, which begins when they fall in love in college and continues through the end of Mark's thirty-four-year career in the Army, against the backdrop of the military's ongoing suicide spike, which shows no signs of slowing. With great sympathy and profound insight, The Invisible Front details America's problematic treatment of the troops who return from war far different than when they'd left and uses the Graham family's work as a new way of understanding the human cost of war and its lingering effects off the battlefield.
