Such a Pretty Girl Nadina LaSpina, 2019-07-19 A memoir by a disability rights activist Such a Pretty Girl is Nadina LaSpina's story from her early years in her native Sicily where still a baby she contracts polio a fact that makes her the object of well meaning pity and the target of messages of hopelessness to her adolescence and youth in America spent almost entirely in hospitals where she is tortured in the quest for a cure and made to feel that her body no longer belongs to her to her rebellion and her activism in the disability rights movement LaSpina's personal growth parallels the movement's political development from coming together organizing and fighting against exclusion from public and social life to the forging of a common identity the blossoming of disability arts and culture and the embracing of disability pride While unique the author's journey is also one with which many disabled people can identify It is the journey to find one's place in an ableist world a world not made for disabled people where disability is only seen in negative terms La Spina refutes all stereotypical narratives of disability Through the telling of her life s story without editorializing she shows the harm that the overwhelming focus on pity and on a cure that remains elusive has done to disabled people Her story exposes the disability prejudice ingrained in our sociopolitical system and denounces the oppressive standards of normalcy in a society that devalues those who are different and denies them basic rights Written as continuous narrative and in a subtle and intimate voice Such a Pretty Girl is a memoir as captivating as a novel It is one of the few disability memoirs to focus on activism and one of the first by an immigrant

An Education System Worthy of Malaysia M. Bakri Musa,2003-01-22 Malaysia s highly centralized and tightly controlled system of education fails in educating and integrating the young It is also ill suited for a plural society Instead of the present rigid and uniform system the writer calls for one that is flexible and diverse but with a core of commonality There should also be private sector participation to provide competition and spur innovation Achieving this requires radically changing the ministry of education from one obsessed with strict top down command to a more democratized model with power and responsibilities delegated to the periphery The minister is less a drill sergeant barking out orders to his raw recruits but more of a symphony conductor coaxing the best out of his skilled musicians The reforms suggested here will make Malaysians fluently bilingual in Malay and English science literate and mathematically competent as well as foster a common Malaysian identity
