Healy, Lyle E. Bourne, Jr., 2013-05-13 Based on a research project funded by the Army Research Institute Foreign Language Learning reports original empirical and theoretical research on foreign language acquisition and makes recommendations about applications to foreign language instruction The ultimate goal of this project was to identify a set of psychological principles that can provide the foundation for or at least argumentation for a foreign language training course This book reviews the various studies of which the project is comprised It begins with an overview chapter outlining the scope of the project and summarizing some of the experiments that were conducted in the laboratory In each of the following chapters the contributors report on previously unpublished research on selected specific psycholinguistic training principles vocabulary and concept acquisition language comprehension reading processes and bilingualism The final chapter prepared by a prominent expert on second language training provides an overview and evaluation of the contribution of the research described in earlier chapters to the goal of improving instructional methods in foreign language learning Sandwiched between the introductory and final chapters are four major sections Vocabulary and Concept Acquisition which discusses the effect of first language phonological configuration on lexical acquisition in a second language contextual inference effects in foreign language vocabulary acquisition and retention mediated processes in foreign language vocabulary acquisition and retention and the status of the count mass distinction in a mental grammar Language Comprehension which addresses voice communication between air traffic controllers and pilots who are nonnative speakers of English cognitive strategies in discourse processing and the effects of context and word order in Maasai sentence production and comprehension Reading Processes which discusses the enhancement of text comprehension through highlighting the effect of alphabet and fluency on unitization processes in reading and reading proficiency of bilinguals in their first and second languages and Bilingualism which addresses Stroop interference effects in bilinguals between similar and dissimilar languages the individual differences in second language proficiency and the hierarchical model of bilingual representation English Reading Practice:

Animals Z Smith, 2024-10-20 English Reading Practice Animals is part of a themed reading series This book contains seventeen original reading texts around 250 words each for beginner learners of English Common European Framework of Reference for Languages levels A1 A2 Educators can recommend this book to their learners for extra reading practice outside of class or use parts of it to support activities inside the classroom Each reading text is accompanied with exercises and answers to the exercises are provided at the back of the book The exercise types are common test question types so the book can also help those preparing for reading examinations This series supports the researched backed premise that by reading a lot people become better readers The book is potentially suitable for all age groups although note that the words hunt and kill appear in relation to animals The Missing Generation Mo Y Ma, 2018-07-30 This book was written for the missing generations of 1960 and 1970 during which a lot of young people had been deprived of their right of education employment freedom of residence and not to mention free speech even lovemaking In the last phase of Cultural Revolution in order to clean up the mess of political struggle Mao Zedong sent the vast majority of students to the farmland to accept so called reeducation from poor peasants The young people in Guangdong province especially in Guangzhou City were luckier than in other provinces because they were close to Hong Kong and had chances to risk their lives to escape The lucky ones had chances to climb up Mount Wutong and walk down the Swallow Cliff to enter the New Territories in Hong Kong by climbing over barbed wires and swimming across the Deep Bay in the west or Mirs Bay in the east it was the turning point of their lives However the bad luck fugitives would break their legs when stepping in the wild boar trap lose their lives with poisonous snakebites become meals for the sharks or drowned in the sea they had sacrificed their precious lives for freedom How could the local people with inherent freedom feel the unforgettable joy to set the feet successfully on the free land New Territories and deeply inhale the fresh air there How could most people understand the feeling of sorrow and helplessness to face brothers or friends dying tragically and unable to help with their hands The deceased had been long gone and the survivors moved on There always is worship in heart during Qingming or Chongjiu memorial days but how can a chicken a pot of wine a bouquet of flowers or a bundle of incense be enough to express the lifelong grief I hope this book will give survivors a little precious memory and the deceased an eternal remembrance The Saddle and Show Horse Chronicle

,1914 Chaucer for schools [selected, with a metrical version in mod. Engl.] by mrs. H.R. Haweis Geoffrey Chaucer,1899 Catalogue Bernard Quaritch (Firm),1929 Catalogues Bernard Quaritch (Firm),1929 Crossover Picturebooks Sandra L. Beckett,2013-06-17 This book situates the picturebook genre within the widespread international phenomenon of crossover literature examining an international corpus of picturebooks including artists books wordless picturebooks and celebrity picturebooks that appeal to readers of all ages Focusing on contemporary picturebooks Sandra Beckett shows that the picturebook has traditionally been seen as a children s genre but in the eyes of many authors illustrators and publishers it is a narrative form that can address any and all age groups Innovative graphics and formats as well as the creative often complex dialogue between text and image provide multiple levels of meaning and invite readers of all ages to consider texts that are primarily marketed as children s books The interplay of text and image that distinguishes the picturebook from other forms of fiction and makes it a unique art form also makes it the ultimate crossover genre Crossover picturebooks are often very complex texts that are challenging for adults as well as children Many are characterized by difficult adult themes genre blending metafictional discourse intertextuality sophisticated graphics and complex text image interplay Exciting experiments with new formats and techniques as well as novel interactions with new media and technologies have made the picturebook one of the most vibrant and innovative contemporary literary genres one that seems to know no boundaries Crossover Picturebooks is a valuable addition to the study of a genre that is gaining increasing recognition and appreciation and contributes significantly to the field of children s literature as a whole
