Textual Heritage Edoardo Gerlini, Andrea Giolai, 2025-10-01 The relationship between texts and the field of cultural heritage remains ill defined Although scholarship has long recognized the importance of textual practices in mediating cultural identity and memory the emphasis heritage studies places on authentic material traces downplays the unique impact of their creative transmission and appropriation Focusing on the afterlives of written artifacts and the re use of their textual contents primarily within East Asia Textual Heritage highlights how textual practices offer a lens for understanding questions of canonization embodiment and circulation Through case studies ranging from Japanese court music to digital editions this volume advances a theory of humanistic heritage studies that better understands the overlap between literary and heritage studies

A Museum Studies Approach to Heritage Sheila Watson, Amy Jane Barnes, Katy Bunning, 2018-10-08 Heritage's revival as a respected academic subject has in part resulted from an increased awareness and understanding of indigenous rights and non-Western philosophies and practices and a growing respect for the intangible Heritage has thus far focused on management tourism and the traditionally heritage minded disciplines such as archaeology geography and social and cultural theory Widening the scope of international heritage studies A Museum Studies Approach to Heritage explores heritage through new areas of knowledge including emotion and affect the politics of dissent migration and intercultural and participatory dimensions of heritage Drawing on a range of disciplines and the best from established sources the book includes writing not typically recognised as heritage but which nevertheless makes a valuable contribution to the debate about what heritage is what it can do and how it works and for whom Including heritage perspectives from beyond the professional sphere the book serves as a reminder that heritage is not just an academic concern but a deeply felt and keenly valued public and private practice This blending of traditional topics and emerging trends established theory and concepts from other disciplines offers readers international views of the past and future of this growing field A Museum Studies Approach to Heritage offers a wider more current and more inclusive overview of issues and practices in heritage and its intersection with museums As such the book will be essential reading for postgraduate students of heritage and museum studies It will also be of great interest to academics practitioners and anyone else who is interested in how we conceptualise and use the past

Visitors, Settler Colonialism and Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Vanessa Whittington, 2025-06-27 This book analyses visitor responses to the interpretation of Aboriginal cultural heritage in Australian protected areas focusing on Uluru Kata Tjuta National Park in the Northern Territory and the Greater Blue Mountains World Heritage Area in New South Wales It provides insights into the discursive features that structure various forms of interpretation of Aboriginal cultural heritage at these locales ranging from on site interpretative signage to audio tours available on mobile phone applications It draws on visitors' firsthand accounts of the experience of participating in Traditional Custodian led cultural tours and camps and the visitor learnings that resulted from these Based on extensive interviews with visitors the author argues that visitor responses to these experiences both perpetuate and challenge settler colonial assumptions about Aboriginal peoples and their cultures in both more urban and remote locations The book provides insight into the forms of interpretation that foster visitor transformations thereby advancing a politics of reconciliation between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians and the types of interpretation that may hinder such transformations by reinforcing settler colonial discourses and affective states The book is aimed at students and academics attempting to develop a more critical practice in relation to heritage interpretation tourism Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultural heritage and settler colonialism It will also appeal to heritage professionals cultural tour operators and agencies responsible for the provision of protected area interpretation including both government sector and Indigenous organisations Heritage at the Interface Glenn

Hooper,2018-01-09 This book discusses the contact interface between diverse cultures value systems and identities which holds the potential for confrontation but also presents opportunities for cross cultural communication and mutual inclusion

Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Johnathan Djabarouti,2024-01-23 Critical Built Heritage Practice and Conservation Evolving Perspectives supports an alternative point of departure for engaging with the historic built environment by critically questioning the legitimacy of dominant conservation concepts and methods that are often taken for granted within building conservation architecture and adaptive reuse The meaning of heritage is changing From pastness to presentness from preservation to participation and from tangible to intangible heritage is increasingly understood as a dynamic social and intangible process across many disciplines Consequently the role and remit of the built heritage practitioner and in particular the architectural conservationist is becoming progressively complex and in need of a critical gaze Is restoration really a falsehood from beginning to end Should the condition of existing materials determine the conservation method Is authenticity really an inherent quality within old buildings By engaging with a critical interpretation of heritage this book makes space for practitioners to consider the evolution of their own role within a rapidly changing context of built heritage practice Reinforced by a shift in emphasis from materials to meanings a socio material outlook is proposed which champions an enhanced focus on intangible heritage within the built heritage sector whilst still acknowledging the physical condition of old buildings is a priority for many stakeholders This book has been written with practitioners students and educators of architectural conservation in mind although will also be of relevance to the broader built heritage industry as well as academics researchers and heritage students with a passion for contemporary dialogues in heritage studies

Historicising Heritage and Emotions Alicia Marchant,2019-03-04 Historicising Heritage and Emotions examines how heritage is connected to and between people and places through emotion both in the past and today Discussion is focused on the overlapping categories of blood families and bloodlines stone monuments and memorials and land landscape and places imbued with memories with the contributing authors exploring the ways in which emotions invest heritage with affective power and the transformative effects of this power in individual community and cultural contexts The 13 chapters that make up the volume take examples from the premodern and modern eras and from two connected geographical regions the United Kingdom and Australia and the Pacific Each chapter seeks to identify historicise and contextualise the processes of heritage and the emotional regimes at play locating the processes within longer historical and transnational genealogies and critically appraising them as part of broader cultural currents Theoretically grounded in new approaches to the history of emotions and critical heritage studies the analysis challenges the traditional scholarly focus on heritage in its modern forms offering multifaceted premodern and modern case studies that demonstrate heritage and emotion to have complex and vibrant histories Offering transhistorical and multidisciplinary discussion around the ways in which we can talk about discuss categorise and theorise heritage and emotion in different historical contexts Historicising Heritage and Emotions is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in heritage emotions and history

Chinese Heritage in the Making Christina Maags, Marina Svensson, 2025-10-01 The Chinese state uses cultural heritage as a source of power by linking it to political and economic goals but heritage discourse has at the same time encouraged new actors to appropriate the discourse to protect their own traditions This book focuses on that contested nature of heritage especially through the lens of individuals local communities religious groups and heritage experts It examines the effect of the internet on heritage isation as well as how that process affects different groups of people This book focuses on the contested nature of heritage through the lens of individuals local communities religious groups and heritage experts

Cultural Heritage, Ethics and Contemporary Migrations Cornelius Holtorf, Andreas Pantazatos, Geoffrey Scarre, 2018-10-25 Cultural Heritage Ethics and Contemporary Migrations breaks new ground in our understanding of the challenges faced by heritage practitioners and researchers in the contemporary world of mass migration where people encounter new cultural heritage and relocate their own It focuses particularly on issues affecting archaeological heritage sites and artefacts which help determine and maintain social identity a role problematised when populations are in flux This diverse and authoritative collection brings together international specialists to discuss socio political and ethical implications for the management of archaeological heritage in global society With contributions by authors from a range of disciplinary backgrounds including archaeologists philosophers cultural historians and custodians of cultural heritage the volume explores a rich mix of contrasting yet complementary viewpoints and approaches Among the topics discussed are the relations between culture and identity the potentialities of museums and monuments to support or subvert a people's sense of who they are and how cultural heritage has been used to bring together communities containing people of different origins and traditions yet without erasing or blurring their distinctive cultural features Cultural Heritage Ethics and Contemporary Migrations is a crucial text for archaeologists curators policymakers and others working in the heritage field as well as for philosophers political scientists and other readers interested in the links between immigration and cultural heritage

Heritage, Affect and Emotion Divya P. Tolia-Kelly, Emma Waterton, Steve Watson, 2016-07-01 Heritage and its economies are driven by affective politics and consolidated through emotions such as pride awe joy and pain In the humanities and social sciences there is a widespread acknowledgement of the limits not only of language and subjectivity but also of visibility and representation Social scientists particularly within cultural geography and cultural studies have recently attempted to define and understand that which is more than representational through the development of theories of affect assemblage post humanism and actor network theory to name a few While there have been some recent attempts to draw these lines of thinking more forcefully into the field of heritage studies this book focuses for the first time on relating heritage with the politics of affect The volume argues that our engagements with heritage are almost entirely figured through the politics of affective registers such as pain loss joy nostalgia pleasure belonging or anger It brings together a number of contributions that collectively and with critical acuity question how researchers working in the field of heritage might begin to discover and describe affective experiences especially those that are shaped and expressed in moments and spaces that can be at times intensely personal intimately shared and ultimately social It explores current theoretical advances that enable heritage to be affected released from conventional understandings of both heritage as objects and objects as representations by opening it up to a range of new meanings emergent and formed in moments of encounter Whilst representational understandings of heritage are by no means made redundant through this agenda they are destabilized and can thus be judged anew in light of these developments Each chapter offers a novel and provocative contribution provided by an interdisciplinary team of researchers who are thinking theoretically about affect through landscapes practices of commemoration visitor experience site interpretation and other heritage work

Role-play as a Heritage Practice Michal Mochocki, 2021-03-29 Role play as a Heritage Practice is the first book to examine physically performed role enactments such as live action role play LARP tabletop role playing games TRPG and hobbyist historical reenactment RH from a combined game studies and heritage studies perspective Demonstrating that non digital role plays such as TRPG and LARP share many features with RH the book contends that all three may be considered as heritage practices Studying these role plays as three distinct genres of playful participatory and performative forms of engagement with cultural heritage Mochocki demonstrates how an exploration of the affordances of each genre can be valuable Showing that a player's engagement with history or heritage material is always multi layered the book clarifies that the layers may be conceptualised simultaneously as types of heritage authenticity and as types of in game immersion It is also made clear that RH TRPG and LARP share commonalities with a multitude of other media including video games historical fiction and film Existing within and contributing to the fiction and non fiction mediasphere these role enactments are shaped by the same large scale narratives and discourses that persons families communities and nations use to build memory and identity Role play as a Heritage Practice will be of great interest to academics and students engaged in the study of heritage memory nostalgia role playing historical games performance fans and transmedia narratology

Calling on the Community Jeroen Rodenberg, Pieter Wagenaar, Gert-Jan Burgers, 2023-01-13 There is a call in Heritage Studies to democratize heritage practices and place local communities at the forefront heritage plays an important role in identity formation and therefore in social inclusion and exclusion Public participation is often presented as the primary means to prioritize communities However studies focusing on public participation are typically descriptive in nature and lack a strong analytical framework that enables us to understand participation The essays in this volume apply Public Administration theory to collaborative governance and thus contribute to a better understanding of public participation in the heritage sector
