The Media in Black and White Everette Dennis, 2020-03-24 The media's treatment of and interaction with race like race itself is one of the most sensitive areas in American society. Whether in its coverage and treatment of racial matters or racial connections inside media organizations themselves, mass communication is deeply involved with race. The Media in Black and White brings together twenty journalists and scholars of various racial backgrounds to grapple with a controversial issue: the role that media industries from advertising to newspapers to the information superhighway play in helping Americans understand race. Contributors include Ellis Cose, a contributing editor for Newsweek; Manning Marable, chairman of Columbia University's African American Research Center; William Wong, a columnist for the Oakland Tribune; Lisa Penalzo, a University of Illinois professor; and Melita Marie Garza, a Chicago Tribune reporter. Among the topics discussed are the quality of reporting on immigrant issues, how sensationalism may be deepening the chasm of misunderstanding between the races, how the coverage of America's drug wars has been marked by racism, and whether politically correct language is interfering with coverage of vital issues and problems. The contributors of The Media in Black and White hope to broaden the narrow vision of the United States and the world beyond with their contributions to the debate over race and the media. The commentary found in this important work will be of interest to sociologists, communication specialists, and black studies scholars.

Black and White Media Karen Ross, 1996-01-23 This is a wide-ranging account of the complex relations between Black communities and popular media, analysing the ways in which Black communities have been portrayed in film and television and considering the contribution made by Black media professionals.

The Black Image in the White Mind Robert M. Entman, Andrew Rojecki, 2024-05-31 Living in a segregated society white Americans learn about African Americans not through personal relationships but through the images the media show them The Black Image in the White Mind offers the most comprehensive look at the intricate racial patterns in the mass media and how they shape the ambivalent attitudes of Whites toward Blacks Using the media and especially television as barometers of race relations Robert Entman and Andrew Rojecki explore but then go beyond the treatment of African Americans on network and local news to incisively uncover the messages sent about race by the entertainment industry from prime time dramas and sitcoms to commercials and Hollywood movies While the authors find very little in the media that intentionally promotes racism they find even less that advances racial harmony They reveal instead a subtle pattern of images that while making room for Blacks implies a racial hierarchy with Whites on top and promotes a sense of difference and conflict Commercials for example feature plenty of Black characters But unlike Whites they rarely speak to or touch one another In prime time the few Blacks who escape sitcom buffoonery rarely enjoy informal friendly contact with White colleagues perhaps reinforcing social distance in real life Entman and Rojecki interweave such astute observations with candid interviews of White Americans that make clear how these images of racial difference insinuate themselves into Whites thinking Despite its disturbing readings of television and film the book's cogent analyses and proposed policy guidelines offer hope that America's powerful mediated racial separation can be successfully bridged Entman and Rojecki look at how television news focuses on black poverty and crime out of proportion to the material reality of black lives how black experts are only interviewed for black themed issues and how black politics are distorted in the news and conclude that while there are more images of African Americans on television now than there were years ago these images often don't reflect a commitment to racial comity or community building between the races Thoroughly researched and convincingly argued Publishers Weekly Drawing on their own research and that of a wide array of other scholars Entman and Rojecki present a great deal of provocative data showing a general tendency to devalue blacks or force them into stock categories Ben Yagoda New Leader Winner of the Frank Luther Mott Award for best book in Mass Communication and the Robert E Lane Award for best book in political psychology

White Lies and Allies in Contemporary Black Media Emily Ruth Rutter, 2022-12-23 This book considers the ways in which Black directors screenwriters and showrunners contend with the figure of the would be White ally in contemporary film and television White Lies and Allies in Contemporary Black Media examines the ways in which prominent figures such as Issa Rae Spike Lee Justin Simien Jordan Peele and Donald Glover centralize complex Black protagonists in their work while also training a Black gaze on would be White allies Emily R Rutter highlights how these Black creators represent both performative White allyship and the potential for true White antiracist allyship while also examining the reasons why Black creators utilize the white ally trope in the wider context of the film and television industries During an era in which concerns with White liberal complicity in anti Black racism are of paramount importance Rutter explores how these films and televisions shows and their creators contribute to the wider project of dismantling internal interpersonal ideological and institutional White hegemony This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Film and Media Studies Television Studies American Studies African American Studies and Popular Culture     How does mass media portrayal of black men influence white and black perceptions and stereotypes? Maximilian Bernhardt,2025-01-21 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Communications Media and Politics Politic Communications grade 1 3 Hochschule f r Medien Kommunikation und Wirtschaft Social Sciences course Media Psychology language English abstract This study was conducted using a variety of secondary literature to reach its conclusions It delves into stereotyping and the reinforcement of stereotypes by the media It gives insights into how the media portrays black men and how the history of race in the United States plays a role in the current media portrayals of black men During the research it was necessary to investigate different factors that play a role in the media Stereotyping racial ideologies systematic oppression and gatekeeping being predominant themes in this subject All of the information was collected to answer the central question of how mass media portrayals of black men influence white and black perceptions and stereotypes respectively in present day American society     The Media War on Black Male Youth in Urban Education Darius Prier,2017-03-27 News media film and the music industry have become powerful sources of misrepresentation of Black male life in the social imagination of white society The pedagogy of popular culture has important implications for educators and youth advocates who desire to challenge the myths and distortions that ultimately harm youth This volume raises awareness of the media war on Black male youth in popular culture and the impact this image battle has on the discriminatory treatment of the population in urban educational settings Citing the recent controversial deaths of Trayvon Martin and Jordan Davis the portrayal of black males in contemporary films and the locus of hip hop masculinities this volume offers a unique framework for analyzing how contemporary image making practices affect Black male youth in urban education It also offers ethical considerations for educators in their critique consumption and reading of Black male subjectivity in media and provides avenues for practical applications of critical media literacy on the ground     Black, White and Grey Franz Krüger,2004 In South Africa the debate about journalism ethics has taken particular turns in contemporary times Issues of transformation and race have sparked heated debates in the profession This book grew out of these discussions It attempts to measure the traditional standards of journalism against the demands of a changing society     The Mechanisms of Racialization Beyond the Black/White Binary Bianca Gonzalez-Sobrinho,Devon R. Goss,2020-05-21 This book focuses on the mechanisms that undergird the operation of racialization and works to empirically define the specific mechanisms by which racialization outside of black white paradigm operates The contributors highlight the advantages and benefits of using case studies from outside of the black white racial boundary in the social scientific study of racism racial identity racial meaning and racial representation Their contributions can be grouped into three specific areas of focus the investigation of the relationship between racialization and the state the interplay between racialization and identities and the role of racialization in the media Taken together the book lays out a roadmap for future study of racialization and the study of race beyond the racial categories of black and white Serving as a guiding point to future research this book will be of interest to all scholars of race and those seeking to understand the ideologies actions interactions structures and social practices associated with racialization This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Television in Black-and-white America Alan Nadel,2005 La couverture indique Alan Nadel s new book reminds us that most of the images on early TV were decidedly Caucasian and directed at predominantly white audiences Television did not invent whiteness for America but it did reinforce it as the norm particularly during the Cold War years Nadel now shows just how instrumental it was in constructing a narrow conservative and very white vision of America During this era prime time TV was dominated by adult Westerns with heroes like The Rebel s Johnny Yuma reincarnating Southern values and Bonanza s Cartwright family reinforcing the notion of white patriarchy programs that Nadel shows bristled with Cold War messages even as they spoke to the nation s mythology America had become visually reconfigured as a vast Ponderosa crisscrossed by concrete highways designed to carry suburban white drivers beyond the moral challenge of racism racial poverty and increasingly vocal civil rights demands
