language English abstract Inhaltsangabe Abstract Paul Auster's New York Trilogy published in one volume for the first time in England in 1988 and in the U S in 1990 has been widely categorised as detective fiction among literary scholars and critics There is however a striking diversity and lack of consensus regarding the classification of the trilogy within the existing genre forms of the detective novel Among others Auster's stories are described as metaanti detective fiction mysteries about mysteries a strangely humorous working of the detective novel very soft boiled a metamystery glassy little jigsaws a mixture between the detective story and the nouveau roman a metaphysical detective story a deconstruction of the detective novel antidetective fiction a late example of the anti detective genre and being related to hard boiled novels by authors like Hammett and Chandler Such a striking lack of agreement within the secondary literature has inspired me to write this paper It does not however elaborate further on this diversity of viewpoints although they all seem to have a certain validity and underline the richness and diversity of Auster's detective trilogy neither do I intend to coin a new term for Auster's detective fiction I would rather place The New York Trilogy within a more general and open literary form namely postmodern detective fiction This classifies Paul Auster as an American writer who is part of the generation that immediately followed the classical literary movement of American postmodernism of the 60s and 70s His writing demonstrates that he has been influenced by the revolutionary and innovative postmodern concepts characterised by the notion of anything goes on a planet of multiplicity as well as by French poststructuralism

Subverting Masculinity , 2021-08-04 Contemporary Western societies are currently witness to a crisis of masculinity but also to an intriguing diversification of images of masculinity Once relatively stable regimes of masculine gender representation appear to have been replaced by a wider spectrum of varieties of masculine lifestyles taken up by the media and the market to produce new and immensely flexible forms consumerised gender hegemony The essays in Subverting Masculinity concentrate on contemporary film literature and diverse forms of popular culture The essays show that the subversion of traditional images of masculinity is both a source of gender contestation but may equally be susceptible to assimilation by new hegemonic configurations of masculinity Subverting Masculinity maps out the ongoing relevance of gender politics in contemporary culture but also raises the question of increasingly unclear distinctions between hegemonic and subversive versions of masculinity in contemporary cultural production Subverting Masculinity will be of interest to students and teachers of gender cultural film and literary studies

Joyce Faulkner and Szczypiorski Ethics of Literary Forms in Contemporary American Literature Rüdiger Heinze, 2005
This work links ethics and the formal arrangement of literary texts. It shows that specific formal techniques and devices and the overall form of literary texts always have an ethical dimension and beg certain ethical questions. Covering the three main genres of narrative, drama and poetry, the discussion addresses aspects of syntax, line breaks, mise en scene and narrative situation as well as the table of contents, list of characters and chapter structure in six texts by contemporary American authors: Paul Auster, Don DeLillo, Tony Kushner, Suzan Lori Parks, John Ashbery and Jorie Graham. The Sublime Today
Gillian B. Pierce, 2013-01-04. The Sublime Today considers contemporary applications of aesthetic philosophy and earlier theories of the sublime from Longinus, Boileau, Burke, Kant and Hegel to current literary and cultural contexts. Today aesthetic experience itself seems to be changing given the rise of new media and new conditions for the viewing and the reception of works of art. How might the rhetoric of the sublime be used to both describe our current situation and help formulate constructive responses to it? The Sublime Today collects the work of scholars in literature, film, art and media studies and provides a forum for investigating the contemporary relevance of the sublime both as it has been understood historically and as it has been formulated by more recent theorists such as Jameson, Lyotard, Kristeva and others. The volume includes essays on literary readings of the sublime in Coetzee, Eggers, Lahiri and Auster; essays on film and the visual arts in the work of François Ozon; and in recent participatory art and essays on how new technologies and media as in media representations of 9/11 re-frame our relationship to the aesthetics of the sublime, especially as they intersect with questions of gender, the postcolonial and the uneasy politics of terror. Crime Fiction John Scaggs, 2005. Provides a lively introduction to what is both a wide-ranging and hugely popular literary genre. Accessible and clear, this comprehensive overview is the essential guide for all those studying crime fiction. Romantic Postmodernism in American Fiction Eberhard Alsen, 2023-12-21
Intended for teachers and students of American Literature, this book is the first comprehensive analysis of romantic tendencies in postmodernist American fiction. The book challenges the opinion expressed in the Columbia History of the American Novel (1991) and propagated by many influential scholars that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction is represented by the disjunctive and nihilistic work of such writers as Kathy Acker, Donald Barthelme and Robert Coover. Professor Alsen disagrees. He contends that this kind of fiction is not read and taught much outside an isolated but powerful circle in the academic community. It is the two-part thesis of Professor Alsen's book that the mainstream of postmodernist fiction consists of the widely read work of the Nobel Prize laureates Saul Bellow and Toni Morrison and other similar writers and that this mainstream fiction is essentially romantic. To support his argument, Professor Alsen analyzes representative novels by Saul Bellow, J.D. Salinger, Norman Mailer, Flannery O'Connor, John Updike, Kurt Vonnegut, Philip Roth, Thomas Pynchon, Toni Morrison, the later John Barth, Alice Walker, William Kennedy and Paul Auster. Professor Alsen demonstrates that the traits which distinguish the fiction of the romantic postmodernists from the fiction of their disjunctive and nihilist colleagues include a vision of life that is a form of philosophical idealism an organic view of art modes of storytelling that are reminiscent of the nineteenth century romance and such themes as the nature of sin or evil the negative effects of technology on the soul and the quest for transcendence Border Masculinities Amit Thakkar,Brian Baker,Chris Harris,2024-10-08

This volume collates and examines literary and screened representations of what the editors term border masculinities It seeks to understand masculine subjectivities through fiction and screen within a complex global arena of relationships and fluid movements across multiple boundaries within that arena It also concerns paradigmatic borders related to class gender and ethnicities as well as other theoretical parameters which cut across porous spatial boundaries This collection contains a range of theoretically informed responses to varying cultural representations of such masculinities in Europe the Americas the Caribbean Australasia and Asia Thematic and conceptual connections between them are discussed in the introductory chapter and such links are also made between chapters Ghost Writing in Contemporary American Fiction David Coughlan,2016-11-05

This book examines representations of the specter in American twentieth and twenty first century fiction David Coughlan s innovative structure has chapters on Paul Auster Don DeLillo Toni Morrison Marilynne Robinson and Philip Roth alternating with shorter sections detailing the significance of the ghost in the philosophy of Jacques Derrida particularly within the context of his 1993 text Specters of Marx Together these accounts of phantoms shadows haunts spirit the death sentence and hospitality provide a compelling theoretical context in which to read contemporary US literature Ghost Writing in Contemporary American Fiction argues at every stage that there is no self no relation to the other no love no home no mourning no future no trace of life without the return of the specter that is without ghost writing Teaching
