Vladimir Sorokin's Discourses Dirk Uffelmann,2020-04-21 Vladimir Sorokin is the most prominent and the most controversial contemporary Russian writer Having emerged as a prose writer in Moscow's artistic underground in the late 1970s and early 80s he became visible to a broader Russian audience only in the mid 1990s with texts shocking the moralistic expectations of traditionally minded readers by violating not only Soviet ideological taboos but also injecting vulgar language sex and violence into plots that the postmodernist Sorokin borrowed from nineteenth century literature and Socialist Realism Sorokin became famous when the Putin youth organization burned his books in 2002 and he picked up neo nationalist and neo imperialist discourses in his dystopian novels of the 2000s and 2010s making him one of the fiercest critics of Russia's new middle ages while remaining steadfast in his dismantling of foreign discourses

The Image of Christ in Russian Literature John Givens,2018-05-29 Vladimir Nabokov complained about the number of Dostoevsky's characters sinning their way to Jesus In truth Christ is an elusive figure not only in Dostoevsky's novels but in Russian literature as a whole The rise of the historical critical method of biblical criticism in the nineteenth century and the growth of secularism it stimulated made an earnest affirmation of Jesus in literature highly problematic If they affirmed Jesus too directly writers paradoxically risked diminishing him either by deploying faith explanations that no longer persuade in an age of skepticism or by reducing Christ to a mere argument in an ideological dispute The writers at the heart of this study understood that to reimage Christ for their age they had to make him known through indirect even negative ways lest what they say about him be mistaken for cliché doctrine or naïve apologetics The Christology of Dostoevsky Leo Tolstoy Mikhail Bulgakov and Boris Pasternak is thus apophatic because they deploy negative formulations saying what God is not in their writings about Jesus Professions of atheism in Dostoevsky and Tolstoy's non divine Jesus are but separate negative paths toward truer discernment of Christ This first study in English of the image of Christ in Russian literature highlights the importance of apophaticism as a theological practice and a literary method in understanding the Russian Christ It also emphasizes the importance of skepticism in Russian literary attitudes toward Jesus on the part of writers whose private crucibles of doubt produced some of the most provocative and enduring images of Christ in world literature This important study will appeal to scholars and students of Orthodox Christianity and Russian literature as well as educated general readers interested in religion and nineteenth century Russian novels
