

She sat up with me and reached out to run her fingers down my bare chest. "Don't be embarrassed." She placed a series of kisses along my collarbone. "I like your instinct. It's just..."

A quick gasp escaped when I felt her gentle bite on my nipple. "It's just what?" I stuttered.

She looked up at me, brown eyes dull in the low light, yet the daringness within them was irrefutable. I hadn't noticed her other hand had moved between my legs until her finger was inside me. My jumpy reaction made her smile.

"It's just that I like to please my partners, too."

Her tone was cocky but amusing, so I played along. My hand went for her wrist, and I pushed her deeper.

She hummed. "Is that what you like?"

New Feminist Stories of Child Sexual Abuse Paula Reavey, Sam Warner,2003-08-29 The international feminist contributors to this book look through the lens of poststructuralism at how child sexual abuse is differently represented and understood in the populist academic clinical media and legal contexts Reworking earlier feminist analyses they show how child sexual abuse is not just about gender and power but also about class race and sexuality The first theoretical section of the book critiques normative theories of the effects of abuse explores the impact and consequences of feminist interventions and critically examines the potential usefulness of a feminist post structuralist approach In the second part these understandings are applied to specific arenas of practice with the aim of providing a framework for critical intervention and alternative and better ways of working with child sexual abuse

Victims and Survivors' Own Stories of Intrafamilial Child Sexual Abuse Steve Broome, Anna Gekoski, 2019-11-25 In the UK today it is estimated that nearly one in twenty children are subjected to sexual abuse with the overwhelming majority being abused within the family environment However despite its prevalence intrafamilial child sexual abuse remains largely shrouded in silence shame and stigma Taking a phenomenological approach this book presents ten retrospective first person accounts from adult victims and survivors exploring the impact of such abuse throughout the life course These stories illustrate how child sexual abuse can cause trauma affecting almost every aspect of life emotionally psychologically interpersonally behaviourally and cognitively However they also demonstrate the remarkable resilience of the human spirit of how adverse experiences can be lived with processed and assimilated These accounts address a gap in what academics practitioners and policy makers know about child sexual abuse give victims and survivors a voice and open up a conversation about one of the most enduring societal and cultural problems Stories from the Sheriff's Daughter Lareida
