Literature as an Art Form - Evolving Intermedial Literary Landscape Asunción López-Varela Azcárate, 2025-07-02

Literature as an Art Form Evolving Intermedial Literary Landscape brings together sixteen scholarly contributions that explore literature's ongoing transformation across media cultures and technologies. This anthology traces the dynamic interplay between literature and visual, sonic, performative, and algorithmic forms ranging from illuminated manuscripts and oral traditions to digital texts and anime. Rejecting the notion of literature as a fixed verbal art, the chapters highlight its status as a transmedial, evolving practice shaped by and shaping the environments in which it is situated. Each essay examines how literature migrates across modalities, revealing it as a mutable process of technopoiesis. Together, they offer a compelling vision of literature not as an autonomous artefact but as a fluid cultural phenomenon whose conditions of existence are inseparable from intermedial exchange.

Exploring the Links between Social Connections, Care and Integration Marcia Vera Espinoza, Arek Dakessian, Clayton Boeyink, 2024-10-18

Integration has in recent decades emerged as the primary policy tool through which the nations of the global north and increasingly the global south shepherd their immigrants to achieve the same social and economic outcomes as natives, taking into account their characteristics. OECD 2018. Despite scholarship on the importance of social connections to facilitate feelings of belonging and settlement, lack of consensus around what integration means has led to bustling critique of the notion as prescribing processes through which migrant others must work their way into acceptance in the body social. Moreover, scholars recognise that discourses and practices of integration are often used as means to justify accompanying policies of disintegration and exclusion. Put differently, there is a humanitarian hand that cares and a hand that strikes. Frameworks for understanding migration and integration traverse the realms of theory, policy, and practice and are usually intertwined with discourses and regimes of care and connectedness. This Research Topic aims to further unsettle debates around integration and care through an engagement with the value commitments that underlie integration projects and that drive everyday practice and service provision, drawing upon perspectives beyond the global north.

In the Event Lotte Meinert, Bruce Kapferer, 2015-05-01

Events are generative moments in at least three senses: events are created by and condense larger-scale social structures as moments; they spark and give rise to new social processes in themselves; events may also serve to analyze social situations and relationships. Based on ethnographic studies from around the world, varying from rituals and meetings over protests and conflicts to natural disasters and management, this volume analyzes generative moments through events that hold the key to understanding larger social situations. These events include the Ashura ritual in Bahrain, social cleavages in South Africa a Buddhist cave in Nepal drought in Burkina Faso an earthquake in Pakistan the cartoon crisis in Denmark corporate management at Bang Olufsen protest meetings in Europe and flooding and urban citizenship in Mozambique are not simply destructive disasters crises and conflicts but also generative and constitutive of the social Adolescent Psychology in Today's World Michael J. Nakkula, Andrew J. Schneider-Muñoz, 2018-11-02 This groundbreaking three volume set spotlights how conditions around the world are affecting the healthy development of adolescents in their respective environments on all six continents Continually unstable or perpetually poor economic conditions globalization and rapid technological change are just three of the forces affecting a group 1.2 billion strong today a demographic poised to become our world leaders and catalysts in the not too distant future the world's adolescents Led by two editors who have been dedicated to studying adolescent development worldwide for decades this novel collection of works from contributors in more than 40 countries emphasizes how possibilities for healthy mental and physical development are affected by the difficulties youths face in their countries and how these challenges have shaped and are shaping contemporary teenage life today The set comprehensively addresses issues for adolescents across the globe such as the day to day challenges of poverty inadequate education violence or war disease reproductive matters globalization and technological challenges and more while also providing a strengths based focus in the volumes showing how and why some teenagers in each country have surmounted the challenges and forged stronger characters to better their worlds These stories document more than personal victories and their experiences matter to far more than the adolescents themselves In its State of the World's Children 2011 report UNICEF noted that the world community needs to turn its attention to adolescents in need explaining that focusing on this large and potentially powerful group makes economic sense as well as being a necessary step in working towards achieving human justice By addressing the risks challenges and strengths of teenagers as a group in countries worldwide this work serves to break the cycle of poverty violence discrimination and death for adolescents Going to University Case, Jennifer, Marshall, concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capability scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capability scholars practitioners and policy makers Social Work in Social Change Nicci Earle,2008 This study forms part of a series of studies on professions and professional education being conducted by the HSRC s research programme on Education Science Skills Development It follows a pilot study on medical doctors published in 2006 entitled Doctors in a Divided Society The profession and education of medical practitioners in South Africa Like the other studies in the series this study involved developing an understanding of the professional milieu and professional labour market of social workers As the implementers of government social policy social work professionals have been at the forefront of grappling with the practicalities of the changes in focus approach and methods of social security and social service delivery since 1994 It examines developments in the education and training of social workers within the democratic dispensation the most significant of which is the development of a national standardised Bachelor of Social Work degree The study also reveals that the dominant profile in student enrolment and graduation statistics has changed from white female to African female and that enrolment has increased significantly However the study also shows that graduation trends have been negative and losses due to emigration are an additional concern Given the scarcity of these professionals against the demand for their services understanding the factors that contribute to this picture are critical to effective intervention Developing Maternal Health Decision Support Systems in Developing Countries Mzazi, Vincent,2021-03-19 Implementation of guidelines in the health system is a major undertaking especially in developing countries An important constraint in guideline development in developing countries is that the guideline recommendations must suit local conditions and must make use of available resources This is a challenge because the health systems of developing countries have a high burden of disease and little resources therefore guidelines must rely on cost effective healthcare interventions The BACIS program study was initiated to address some of these challenges in the dissemination and utilization of maternal health guidelines The BACIS program was piloted and the results showed that the BACIS program could assist in improving compliance of nurses with the national maternity care guidelines This is an impressive finding and step forward for maternal healthcare in developing countries Developing Maternal Health Decision Support Systems in Developing Countries discusses public health aspects of the design and implementation of clinical decision support systems in developing country contexts Specifically it focuses largely on the design and evaluation of the BACIS program in South Africa This is supplemented with a conversation on the possible future research directions in the BACIS program study along with the outlook for clinical decision support systems in developing country contexts in general This book is ideal for e health system designers and implementers managers and policymakers in the area of e health in developing countries personnel from NPOs and donor agencies government officials IT consultants medical professionals practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in how decision support systems such as BACIS are being used to improve maternal health in developing countries

Chetty,2021-01-04 This book examines the work of prominent South African geologist Alex Du Toit as a means of understanding the debate around continental drift both in segregation era South Africa and internationally It contextualises Du Toit s work within a particularly formative period of South African science from the paleoanthropological discoveries that sparked debates about the origins of humankind to Jan Smuts own theory of holism Beyond South African scientific discoveries the book sets Du Toit s work against a backdrop of ideological struggles over space both domestically in terms of segregation and nationalism as well as internationally as South Africa sought to assert its position within the Commonwealth These debates were embodied by Du Toit s work on the theory of continental drift which put Africa and South Africa at the centre geologically and geographically The author also focuses on the divisions in geology caused by drift theory tracing the vigorous intellectual debate and dissent indicative of the ideological milieu within which scientific thought is constructed It traces the history of continental drift from its inception in the nineteenth century and later work of Alfred Wegener which was both elaborated upon and substantiated by Du Toit The study further focuses on Du Toit s research on continental drift in South African and South America and the geological fossil and climatological evidence used to bolster this theory
