Nehring, Samuel J.M.M. Alberti, 2024-11-27 Cold War Museology is the first volume to bring together interdisciplinary and international contributions from leading practitioners and academics specialising in Cold War museology. Bringing the most recent historiography of the Cold War into conversation with museological theory and practice, chapters within the volume analyse the current condition of Cold War museology. By unpicking some of the unique challenges facing museum specialists dealing with the Cold War, this book takes a lead in developing the collection, display and interpretation of this history. The chapters question what makes a Cold War object address the complexity of Cold War time, face up to questions of Cold War race, gender and imperialism, and reveal how to materialise the Cold War imaginary in museums. Most importantly, perhaps, the volume demonstrates that a consideration of the interconnecting forces of global twentieth century history enables experts to add important complexity and nuance to the narratives with which they work and improve visitor understandings through innovative interpretations. Cold War Museology will encourage readers towards a more nuanced, holistic and inclusive approach to Cold War materiality in museums. It will be of great interest to academics, museum professionals and students engaged in the study of museums, heritage and the Cold War, as well as those with an interest in archaeology, media, culture and memory.

One Korea Tae-Hwan Kwak, Seung-Ho Joo, 2016-11-10 On the Korean peninsula there exist two sovereign states, the Republic of Korea (ROK) or South Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (DPRK) or North Korea, both of whom hold separate membership at the United Nations. This book discusses the construction of one Korea and highlights the potential benefits of unification for the Koreans and the international community. Arguing that Korean unification is intrinsically international in nature, the authors outline how the process and outcome would impact upon the policies of the four major powers: the U.S., China, Russia and Japan. In addition, the authors highlight the possible far-reaching repercussions of unification on the political and economic dynamics of Northeast Asia. Making a case for the two Koreas and interested powers to plan and orchestrate their acts for sustained peace and gradual unification on the Korean peninsula, this book examines the Korean question and the related issue of peace building in Northeast Asia from a global perspective. It will be of interest to students and scholars researching politics and international relations.

A Legacy of Exploitation Susan Dianne Brophy, 2022-05-15 It is unlikely that buyers of the Hudson's Bay Company's iconic multistripe point blanket these days reflect on the historically exploitative relationship between the company and Indigenous producers This critical re-evaluation of the company's first planned settlement at Red River uncovers that history As a settler colonialist project par excellence the Red River Colony was designed to undercut Indigenous peoples' troublesome autonomy and better control their labour Susan Dianne Brophy upends standard historical portrayals by foregrounding Indigenous peoples' autonomy as a driving force of change A Legacy of Exploitation offers a comprehensive account of legal economic and geopolitical relations to show how autonomy can become distorted as complicity in processes of dispossession Ultimately this book challenges enduring yet misleading national fantasies about Canada as a nation of bold adventurers

Enthusiasms and Loyalties Keith Shepherd Grant, 2022-11-15 The Enlightenment Atlantic was awash in deep feelings People expressed the ardour of patriots the homesickness of migrants the fear of slave revolts the ecstasy of revivals the anger of mobs the grief of wartime the disorientation of refugees and the joys of victory Yet passions and affections were not merely private responses to the events of the period emotions were also central to the era's most consequential public events and even defined them In Enthusiasms and Loyalties Keith Grant shows that British North Americans participated in a transatlantic swirl of debates over emotions as they attempted to cultivate and make sense of their own feelings in turbulent times Examining the emotional communities that overlapped in Cornwallis Township Nova Scotia between 1770 and 1850 Grant explores the diversity of public feelings from disaffected loyalists to passionate patriots and ecstatic revivalists He shows how certain emotions especially enthusiasm and loyalty could be embraced or weaponized by political and religious factions and how their use and meaning changed over time Feelings could be the glue that made loyalties stick or a solvent that weakened community bonds Taking a history of emotions approach Enthusiasms and Loyalties aims to recover and understand the wide range of political and religious emotions that were possible feelable in the Enlightenment Atlantic

Reconstructing the Landscapes of Slavery Dale W. Tomich, Rafael de Bivar Marquese, Carlos Venegas Fornias, Reinaldo Funes Monzote, 2021-03-19 Assessing a unique collection of more than eighty images this innovative study of visual culture reveals the productive organization of plantation landscapes in the nineteenth century Atlantic world These landscapes from cotton fields in the Lower Mississippi Valley to sugar plantations in western Cuba and coffee plantations in Brazil's Paraíba Valley demonstrate how the restructuring of the capitalist world economy led to the formation of new zones of commodity production. By extension, these environments radically transformed slave labor and the role such labor played in the expansion of the global economy. Artists and mapmakers documented in surprising detail how the physical organization of the landscape itself made possible the increased exploitation of enslaved labor. Reading these images today, one sees how technologies combined with evolving conceptions of plantation management that reduced enslaved workers to black bodies. Planter control of enslaved people's lives and labor maximized the production of each crop in a calculated system of production. Nature too was affected; the massive increase in the scale of production and new systems of cultivation increased the land's output. Responding to world economic conditions, the replication of slave-based commodity production became integral to the creation of mass markets for cotton, sugar, and coffee, which remain at the center of contemporary life.

The challenges of complexity, rapid pace of change, and risk/opportunity issues associated with modern products, systems, special events, and infrastructures. In an era of unprecedented volatile political and economic environment across the world, computer-based systems face ever more increasing challenges, disputes, and responsibilities, and while the Internet has created a global platform for the exchange of ideas, goods, and services, however, it has also created boundless opportunities for cybercrime. This book presents new materials and contributes to knowledge through the technological advances that are being made across artificial intelligence (AI), machine learning, blockchain, and quantum computing. These technologies, driven by a digital revolution, are expected to be disruptive and provide major digital transformation in the way societies operate today.
