Developing Science, Mathematics, and ICT Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Wout Ottevanger, J. J. H. van den Akker, Leo de Feiter, 2007-01-01 Developing Science Mathematics and ICT SMICT in Secondary Education is based on country studies from ten Sub Saharan African countries Botswana Burkina Faso Ghana Namibia Nigeria Senegal South Africa Uganda Tanzania and Zimbabwe and a literature review It reveals a number of huge challenges in SMICT education in sub Saharan Africa poorly resourced schools large classes a curriculum hardly relevant to the daily lives of students a lack of qualified teachers and inadequate teacher education programs Through examining country case studies this paper discusses the lessons for improvement of SMICT in secondary education in Africa Disability, Health and Human Development

Sophie Mitra, 2017-09-05 This open access book introduces the human development model to define disability and map its links with health and wellbeing based on Sen's capability approach The author uses panel survey data with internationally comparable questions on disability for Ethiopia Malawi Tanzania and Uganda It presents evidence on the prevalence of disability and its strong and consistent association with multidimensional poverty mortality economic insecurity and deprivations in education morbidity and employment It shows that disability needs to be considered from multiple angles including aging gender health and poverty Ultimately this study makes a call for inclusion and prevention interventions as solutions to the deprivations associated with impairments and health conditions 1996 IEEE AFRICON, 4th AFRICON

Conference in Africa, 25-27 September 1996, Tutorials on 24 September 1996, 1996 EASYUNI Ultimate University Guide 2014 EasyUni Sdn Bhd, 2014-07-02 Hi there It's nice to present you once again with another hot issue of easyuni On 11 June this year we launched the unifrens social platform an extension to easyuni's existing vision of providing comprehensive and accurate information to students about colleges and universities This is another milestone in the history of easyuni as one of Asia's most popular education portals committed to helping students with their higher education plans unifrens is a social platform which allows students searching for universities and colleges with similar interests to connect with each other to help them make unbiased and community driven decisions about their higher education It also allows them to connect with students who are currently enrolled at universities who can tell them about their experiences about a particular city country university or a course unifrens is something we had been planning for a while to complement our current family of tools for students We always knew that our users would love it as they want more community driven information instead of promotional content from universities and study abroad consultants I believe this feature will democratise the way information about specific courses countries or institutions is presented and this can only mean good news for students and their parents visitors as it helps them make more informed decisions about which course institution or country to pick Students can also pose questions to their groups which will be answered by experts and the community The feature is still in its beta stage but has gained massive traction with over 100 000 users already registered and assigned to groups Exciting isn't it The issue you're holding now has so much to offer as well So read every page and fill yourself with all the knowledge needed to make informed decisions about your higher education

Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker, Monica McLean, 2022-07-15 This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting

Amartya Sen's capability approach and a framework of key concepts: capabilities, functionings, context, conversion factors, poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes. This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi-dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non-cognitive outcomes for students from low-income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship. Based on capability theorising and student voices, the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value. The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there; the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi-dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study. The inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed. Low Income Students: Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capability scholarship conceptually in theorising a South-based multi-dimensional student well-being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in-depth mixed methods research on students' lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa. The audience for the book includes higher education researchers, international capability scholars, practitioners and policy makers.

The Renaissance Engineer of Tomorrow European Society for Engineering Education. Conference, 2002. On the threshold of the 3rd Millennium there can be no doubt about the fact that advances in progress of modern society are technology-driven. There is still an ever-increasing demand for Engineers at many different levels. Nonetheless, the skills and attitudes required of them are constantly changing given that they must match developments which take place at an ever-increasing rate. Hence Engineering educators and to a greater extent all stakeholders in the world of scientific and technological training are looking forward to the model of a more flexible interdisciplinary shaped and innovation-oriented kind of Engineers, perhaps an Artist Engineer. Is the ideal model what we refer to as The Renaissance Engineer of Tomorrow, a suitable one for the today times? Does such a model exist at all and if yes, does it really satisfy the needs of our society? The 30th SEFI Annual Conference is a forum which is open for the development of such a discussion amongst scientists, educators, professionals, industrialists, students and all those involved and/or interested in the debate. Primarily its purpose is to better identify and re-shape our concept of the ideal Engineer as envisaged for the future, no matter how we call such model. Such a concept involves the ability to manage interaction between the many different branches of scientific and technical knowledge as well as the skills associated with the adaptability and flexibility to handle tasks in a truly innovative manner coupled with the positive attitude of life-long learning, ethical awareness and respect in our approach to a sustainable and socially committed development etc All the above issues clearly define the profile of a graduate far beyond the limited interpretation of the Anglo Saxon word Engineer i e challenging himself to change his her perception of his her role in the design process as one moves beyond the simple act of making decisions based on codes and calculations All this requires a multi cultural education enriched through mobility during one s period of study a marked team work attitude in an international environment the acceptance of challenging competitiveness in terms of ideas and improved efficiency of both processes and products how does one go about developing all these graduate skills through a simple Engineering degree And how to solve the evident contradiction between the aspiration to educate an Artist Engineer necessarily an elitary group and the need of delivering a suitable technical education to the many young people who are requested in engineering such to allow them to work and correctly and safely produce for the society More than 120 contributions responded to SEFIrenze 2002 call for papers form 30 different countries almost all over the world Their presence highlights the interest that the evocative issue of the Renaissance Engineer of Tomorrow has drawn everyone is dreaming something figuring out his her own idea of the task and handbut perhaps no single individual can really define what it is exactly Let us therefore dream of our future Engineers as people who will work with respect and awareness of different traditions and heritage Let us envisage them as human bridges across different cultures and regions linking people all over the world by means of science and technology In this way we can draw inspiration from our glorious Roman past which teaches us that the Highest Authority the Pontiff took his privileged title from Pontifex Maximus the ancient latin Pontesfacere i e the Bridge maker Claudio Borri Handbook of Research on Records and Information Management Strategies for Enhanced Knowledge Coordination Chisita, Collence Takaingenhamo, Enakrire, Rexwhite Tega, Durodolu, Oluwole Olumide, Tsabedze, Vusi Wonderboy, Ngoaketsi, Joseph M., 2021-01-15 The convergence of technologies and emergence of interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary modus of knowledge production justify the need for research that explores the disinterestedness or interconnectivity of the information science disciplines The quantum leap in knowledge production increasing demand for information and knowledge changing information needs information governance and proliferation of digital technologies in the era of ubiquitous digital technologies justify research that employs a holistic approach in x raying the challenges of managing information in an increasingly knowledge and technology driven dispensation The changing nature of knowledge production for sustainable development along with trends and theory for enhanced knowledge coordination deserve focus in current times The Handbook of Research on Records and Information Management Strategies for Enhanced Knowledge Coordination draws input from experts involved in records management information science library science memory and digital technology creating a vanguard compendium of novel trends and praxis While highlighting a vast array of topics under the scope of library science information science knowledge transfer records management and more this book is ideally designed for knowledge and information managers library and information
