Empowering Women Through Microfinance in Developing Countries Alhassan, Yahaya, Nwagbara, Uzoechi, 2023-10-25

Empowering Women Through Microfinance in Developing Countries is a book that explores how microfinance can be used to empower women in developing countries. It provides theoretical and empirical insights from industry experts, experienced researchers, and policymakers on the problems, processes, and prospects of using microfinance as a catalyst for women's empowerment in the developing world. The book covers a range of topics including the impact of microfinance interventions on women's empowerment, financial inclusion, and women's entrepreneurship; poverty reduction among women and small and medium-sized enterprise growth. This book addresses the lack of understanding about how microfinance can be used to empower women in developing countries. The insights provided in this book will be valuable for researchers, students, microfinance institutions, policymakers, state institutions, managers, non-governmental organizations, and financial institutions looking to expand their product portfolio and outreach. The book also provides policy directions and rethinking of practice in using microfinance as a strategy for eliminating barriers to women's empowerment in developing countries. Italian

Women and the City Janet Levarie Smarr, Daria Valentini, 2003. Studies of the city and of women's experiences of the city have focused primarily on modern times, especially as modernism was defined in large part by urban life. Italy, however, has a long history of urban-centered culture, and women have been a vocal part of that culture since the Renaissance. This volume therefore looks at the art and literature of both earlier and more modern periods to investigate the meanings of the city for Italian women, the intensely gendered meanings for both sexes of those city spaces that excluded women, and the conditions that permitted a limited permeability of gendered boundaries. Two aspects to the combination of women and city are salient to these investigations. One involves their metaphorical relationship. Urbs citta ville, the words for city, tend to be grammatically feminine, and a long tradition of representation associates the city with a woman. Women, especially writers, could exploit, modify, or resist the prevailing uses of such metaphors. The second aspect of connection involves social realities. What was or is the relation of the female city with the real women who inhabit it? What kind of site has it provided for women seeking a satisfying life for themselves? How has art and literature by men and by women represented the relationship of female persons or characters to urban spaces. Family Life Education With Diverse Populations Sharon M.

Ballard, Alan C. Taylor, 2012. Family Life Education with Diverse Populations is a T2 for courses in Family Life Education, Family Studies, and Social Work. Students often go through the additional certification of becoming Family Life Educators (FLEs). As a family life educator, the student will help educate families in and outside the traditional classroom environment on how to strengthen relationships in the home and foster positive individual, couple, and family development. Such education comprises many topics, including marriage education, parenting skills, anger management, and strategies in adjusting to divorce. This book takes the content delivered in courses on FLE a step further by examining and presenting key strategies for working with diverse populations Diverse is defined broadly in terms of race and ethnicity but also by setting such as military families rural families families with loved ones in prison and more The book is unique in defining the group and presenting their strengths and then prescribing treatments and strategies for working with each group In addition the book takes an evidence based practice approach and demonstrates proven strategies in working with the populations listed above Sharon M Ballard Ph D CFLE CFCS is an Associate Professor in the Department of Child Development and Family Relations at East Carolina University Alan C Taylor Ph D CFLE is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Child Development and Family Relations at East Carolina University
