University Of Johannesburg 2016 Prospectus:

The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot, 2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book's focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region's Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant place based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level This book should appeal to urban studies specialists economists and development studies researchers in the Global South

Coloniality and Decolonisation in the Nordic Region Adrián Groglopo, Julia Suárez-Krabbe, 2023-03-22 This book advances critical discussions about what coloniality decoloniality and decolonisation mean and imply in the Nordic region It brings together analysis of complex realities from the perspectives of the Nordic peoples a region that is often overlooked in current research and explores the processes of decolonisation that are taking place in this region The book offers a variety of perspectives that engage with issues such as Islamic feminism and the progressive left racialisation and agency among Muslim youths indigenising distance language education for Sami extractivism and resistance among the Sami the Nordic international development endeavour through education Swedish TV reporting on Venezuela creolizing subjectivities across Roma and non Roma worlds and hierarchies and the whitewashing and sanitisation of decoloniality in the Nordic region As such this book extends much of the productive dialogue that has recently occurred internationally in decolonial thinking but also in the areas of critical race theory whiteness studies and postcolonial studies to concrete and critical problems in the Nordic region This should make the book of considerable interest to scholars of history of ideas anthropology sociology cultural studies postcolonial studies international development studies legal sociology and intercultural philosophy with an interest in coloniality and decolonial social change

Four Future Seasons Craig Wing, 2025-03-01 In an increasingly unpredictable world traditional methods of planning no longer suffice Four Future Seasons offers a groundbreaking approach to navigating uncertainty empowering readers to adapt to the future and actively shape it Drawing from international experiences doctoral research and diverse perspectives as a global expert in futures strategy Craig Wing's Four Future Seasons combines deep insights with practical strategies to anticipate disruptions and thrive in times of change This innovative model draws from diverse and fascinating concepts such as

Rumsfeld's unknown unknowns the Johari Window and the timeless wisdom of the Japanese four season garden to offer a dynamic framework for identifying early signals of change and respond with agility More than a guide for business leaders this book is for anyone who wants to create a better future for themselves whether navigating personal growth leadership challenges or unforeseen life changes With personal stories of resilience and innovation woven throughout Four Future Seasons equips readers with the tools foresight and confidence to thrive through all seasons of life After Caliban Erica Moiah James, 2025-08-01 Drawing on Aim C saire's rewriting of Shakespeare's The Tempest Erica Moiah James examines the rise of global Caribbean artists in the 1990s and their production of a decolonized art history for the Caribbean A Discourse on African Philosophy Christian B. N. Gade, 2017-04-18 Many have argued that ubuntu was a formative influence on the post apartheid Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC South Africa's famous transitional justice mechanism A Discourse on African Philosophy A New Perspective on Ubuntu and Transitional Justice in South Africa challenges and contextualizes this view in a way that not only provides new findings and reflections on ubuntu and the TRC but also contributes to the field of African philosophy One of Christian B N Gade's key findings founded on qualitative interviews in South Africa is that some former TRC commissioners and committee members question the importance of ubuntu in the TRC process Another is that there are several differing and historically developing interpretations of ubuntu some of which have evident political implications and reflect non factual and creative uses of history Thus ubuntu is not a shared cultural heritage in the ethnophilosophical sense of a static property characterizing a group In fact throughout this book Gade argues that the ethnophilosophical approach to African philosophy as a static group property is highly problematic Gade's research presents an alternative collective discourse on African philosophy collective in the sense that it does not focus on any single individual in particular that takes differences historical developments and social contexts seriously This book will be of interest to scholars in African philosophy transitional justice politics and cultural heritage and law in South Africa Innovative Methods for Applied Drama and Theatre Practice in African Contexts Hazel Barnes, Carol Beck Carter, Warren Nebe, 2022-01-27 This book based on components of Drama for Life addresses the subject of innovative methods for applied drama and theatre practice in African contexts It does so by providing chapters that share the rich multilayered and reflexive work that has taken place at Drama for Life from 2008 to the present day It invites the reader to learn from the experiences of Drama for Life as shared by the authors understand the role it has played and continues to play in advocating for and extending the work of Applied Drama and Theatre practice and engage in critical dialogical spaces to examine and interrogate current debates and practices in the field of Applied Drama and Theatre The volume is invaluable for anyone interested in the extensive body of work generated by Drama for Life and its innovative approaches to learning and teaching as well as performing arts practitioners artists teachers people in community development and service work and anyone involved in researching Applied Drama and Theatre practice particularly in an African context but also globally

The Business Student's Guide to Sustainable Management Petra Molthan-Hill, 2017-11-09 The Business Student's Guide to Sustainable Management has become a core textbook for business undergraduates. With a full introduction to sustainable management, the textbook covers all subject areas relevant to business students. This second edition features fully updated chapters on how to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals into accounting, marketing, HR, and other subjects in management and business studies. Furthermore, this second edition offers brand new chapters on how to teach the Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME) in any business discipline, how to explore new business models designed to support sustainable development, and how to crowdsource for sustainable solutions. The book contains over 40 ready-made seminars and short workshops which enable teachers and students to integrate the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into every discipline in business, including economics, operations, marketing, HR, and financial reporting. Each chapter follows the same easy-to-use format. The Business Student's Guide to Sustainable Management provides a true treasure chest of materials to support staff wanting to integrate sustainability into their teaching and provides support to effectively embed sustainability in the curriculum. The chapters also offer a starting point in developing teaching units for Masters and MBA students. The material is not just useful to people in business schools but to those involved in wider scale curriculum change and those looking to make links between different disciplines, for example, how to teach system thinking, corporate peace making, and the crowdsourcing of sustainable solutions. Online Teaching Notes to accompany each chapter are available on request with the purchase of the book.

Bombardier Abroad David P. Thomas, 2018-10-10T00:00:00Z In Bombardier Abroad, Thomas examines several cases of the Canadian aerospace giant's work in the high-speed rail sector in South Africa, China, Tibet, and Israel/Palestine, and argues that these projects are deepening existing social and political tensions. By participating in these infrastructure projects, Thomas argues, Bombardier is both inserting itself into highly contested social and political climates and profiting from actions that further exacerbate existing conditions of dispossession and inequality. Thomas also examines the various ways in which the Canadian state supports the work of Bombardier in these countries. Centred around a theoretical framework that combines concepts of dispossession, political economy, and important interventions from the field of settler colonial studies, Bombardier Abroad is a critical look at the problematic practices of a Canadian corporation and the ways in which the Canadian state is culpable.

From the Colonial to the Contemporary Rahela Khorakiwala, 2020-01-09 From the Colonial to the Contemporary explores the representation of law, images, and justice in the first three colonial high courts of India at Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras. It is based upon ethnographic research work and data collected from interviews with judges, lawyers, court staff, press reporters, and other persons associated with the courts. Observing the courts through the in vivo in trial and practice, the book asks questions at different registers, including the impact of the architecture of the courts, the contestation around the renaming of the high courts, the debate over the use of English versus regional languages, forms of addressing the court, the dress worn by different court actors.

rules on photography video recording live telecasting of court proceedings use of CCTV cameras and the alternatives to courtroom sketching and the ceremony and ritual that exists in daily court proceedings The three colonial high courts studied in this book share a recurring historical tension between the Indian and British notions of justice This tension is apparent in the semiotics of the legal spaces of these courts and is transmitted through oral history as narrated by those interviewed The contemporary understandings of these court personnel are therefore seen to have deep historical roots In this context the architecture and judicial iconography of the high courts helps to constitute preserve and reinforce the ambivalent relationship that the court shares with its own contested image
