Theology at the University of Pretoria - 100 years: (1917-2017) Past, present and future Dirk J. Human, Johan Buitendag, Jaco Beyers, Gerda E. de Villiers, Wim A. Dreyer, Yolanda Dreyer, Stephanus F. de Beer, Willem Fourie, Ananda Geyser-Fouché, Alphonso Groenewald, Hanré Janse van Rensburg, E.E. (Sias) Meyer, Johann A. Meylahn, Sampson S. (Sam) Ndogo, Cornelius J. Niemandt, Jerry Pillay, Corneliu C. Simut, Andries G. van Aarde, Attie S. van Niekerk, Daniël P. Veldsman, Casparus J. (Cas) Wepener, Tanya van Wyk, 2017-12-01 In this scholarly book a century's theology presented by the Faculty of Theology at the University of Pretoria is celebrated. All authors are academics or research associates of the University of Pretoria. A historical and futuristic overview with perspectives from the past, present and future are examined. The past is not only portrayed by means of societal and scientific contributions and achievements but the authors also reflect on malfunctions, ill behaviour and disappointments of church and theology presented at the University of Pretoria within the South African context over 100 years. The book commences with a chapter in which institutional transformation is discussed as well as the changes that demonstrate the role of the Faculty of Theology within a secular state university. It includes an explanation of the importance of research impact, research productivity and research reputation. Among various discipline indicators, the category Theology and Religion Studies plays a significant role in the measurement of world university rankings of universities. With regard to scientific and encyclopaedic content, the book focuses on the theological disciplines presented in the academic curricula: first the biblical sciences (Old and New Testament Studies), then the historical disciplines (Systematic Theology, Church History and Church Polity) and finally the practical disciplines (Practical Theology, Science of Religion and Missiology). The role of Religion Studies in a newly established Faculty of Theology and Religion not only enhances the diversity of interreligious tolerance and an atmosphere of dialogue but it serves as a platform to interconnect with the fields of Humanities, Social and Natural Sciences and other academic disciplines. In the conclusive part of the book, contributions highlight the role of the centres in the Faculty: Centre for Contextual Ministry and Centre for Sustainable Communities, as well as the continental and international footprints of the two theological journals whose title ownership is attached to the Faculty of Theology of the University of Pretoria, namely HTS Theological Studies and Verbum et Ecclesia. The methodology comprised in all the chapters amounts to a literature and contextual study. Since the book describes the histories of formal academic departments, these texts are of a descriptive, interpretative and critical character. Reference is made in some chapters to exegetical methods like the historical critical methods. The target audience of the book is academic scholars and theologians who specialise in the different fields of Theology, the Humanities and other Social Sciences. The book is also accessible to scholars of other academic disciplines outside these disciplines. The book comprises original research by several authors and is not plagiarised from other scientific publications of this nature. Pushing Boundaries in Postgraduate Supervision Eli Bitzer, Ruth Albertyn, Liezel Frick, Barbara Grant, Frances Kelly, 2014-04-01 This book is a very important contribution to the growing body of work on postgraduate and specifically doctoral education I find the metaphor of pushing boundaries to be very appropriate as it suggests a field of study and a range of behaviours and institutional organisational approaches to postgraduate education that are dynamic and characterised by fluidity creativity and challenge Readers will gain new theoretical perspectives ideas for improved practice and fresh perspectives on boundaries and pressing issues that deserve to be pushed and conceptualised in new ways Professor Ann Austin Higher Adult and Lifelong Education Michigan State University

Symes, 2021-12-30 The main goals in any forensic skeletal analysis are to answer who is the person represented individualization how that person died trauma pathology and when that person died the postmortem interval or PMI The analyses necessary to generate the biological profile include the determination of human nonhuman or nonosseous origin the minimum number of individuals represented age at death sex stature ancestry perimortem trauma antemortem trauma osseous pathology odontology and taphonomic effects the postmortem modifications to a set of remains The Manual of Forensic Taphonomy Second Edition covers the fundamental principles of these postmortem changes encountered during case analysis Taphonomic processes can be highly destructive and subtract information from bones regarding their utility in determining other aspects of the biological profile but they also can add information regarding the entire postmortem history of the remains and the relative timing of those effects The taphonomic analyses outlined provide guidance on how to separate natural agencies from human caused trauma These analyses are also performed in conjunction with the field processing of recovery scenes and the interpretation of the site formation and their postdepositional history The individual chapters categorize these alterations to skeletal remains illustrate and explain their significance and demonstrate differential diagnosis among them Such observations may then be combined into higher order patterns to aid forensic investigators in determining what happened to those remains in the interval from death to analysis including the environments in which the remains were deposited including buried terrestrial surface marine freshwater or cultural contexts Features Provides nearly 300 full color illustrations of both common and rare taphonomic effects to bones derived from actual forensic cases Presents new research including experimentation on recovery rates during surface search timing of marine alterations trophy skulls taphonomic laboratory and field methods laws regarding the relative timing of taphonomic effects reptile taphonomy human decomposition and microscopic alterations by invertebrates to bones Explains and illustrates common taphonomic effects and clarifies standard terminology for uniformity and usage within in the field While the book is primarily focused upon large vertebrate and specifically human skeletal remains it effectively synthesizes data from human ethological geological paleontological paleoanthropological archaeological artifactual and zooarchaeological studies Since these taphonomic processes affect other vertebrates in similar manners The Manual of Forensic Taphonomy Second Edition will be invaluable to a broad set of forensic and investigative disciplines Post-admission Language Assessment of University Students John
