Standing In The Shadows:

Their Man in the White House Tom Ardies,1971 Standing in the Shadows Peter Robinson,2023-04-11 One of the finest police procedural writers around Standing in the Shadows is as narratively rich and surprising as Robinson's best work. Knowing it's his last makes the reading bittersweet. New York Times Book Review The 28th twisting installment in the DCI Alan Banks mystery series that Stephen King calls the best now on the market. In November 1980 Nick Hartley returns home from a university lecture to find his house crawling with police. His ex-girlfriend Alice Poole has been found murdered and her new boyfriend Mark Woodcroft is missing. Nick is the prime suspect. The case quickly goes cold but Nick cannot let it go. He embarks on a career in investigative journalism determined to find Alice's murderer but his obsession leads him down a dangerous path. Decades later in November 2019 an archaeologist unearths a skeleton that turns out to be far more contemporary than the Roman remains she is seeking. Detective Superintendent Alan Banks and his team are called in to investigate but there is little to be gleaned from the remains themselves. Left with few clues Banks and his team must rely on their wits to hunt down a killer. As the two cases unfurl the investigations twist and turn to an explosive conclusion.

Standing in the Shadows Shannon McKenna,2022-06-07 In Behind Closed Doors you were introduced to Seth's partners the sexy and dangerous McCloud brothers and now it's Connor McCloud's turn to face the fire. She haunts his dreams. Ex-FBI agent Connor McCloud barely survived being set up to die by a trusted friend and fellow agent Ed Riggs. That disaster cost him not only his partner Jesse's life but his hopes of winning the love of Erin, Ed's beautiful studious daughter. She would never be with the man who had put her father in prison. Forever out of reach Erin is hanging on by her fingernails. Her father is disgraced and imprisoned, her mother and sister are falling apart, the scandal has cost her a job she loved as a museum curator and the man she's secretly craved for years is responsible for all of it. When an opportunity comes up to appraise a trove of priceless Celtic artifacts for a rich recluse she leaps at the chance. Maybe things are starting to look up. Then Connor discovers that his old nemesis Kurt Novak is back hungry for payback and that Erin is his weapon of choice. He has no choice but to leap into action whether Erin trusts him or not, whether she hates him or not. Nothing matters but protecting the woman he loves from a vengeful sadistic killer. This title is a re-release originally published by Brava.

Hacsí,2002-08-07 Modern science has placed before us a vast and ancient universe one said to contain a billion trillion stars clustered in a hundred billion galaxies and to be thirteen billion years old. Our earthly home we are told is a tiny chunk of matter randomly formed revolving around a mediocre star in the outlying reaches of an unspectacular galaxy Life on earth developed by chance We are the end result of a series of accidents This scientific Story of Creation though finely detailed isn't based on cold hard fact Scientists proclaim without a shred of proof that the laws of nature remain constant through both time and space Upon this rock they build their world This scientific premise cannot be proved It must be taken on faith This book dismisses the scientific premise and explains the universe based on an equally unprovable premise That we are created in the image of our creator and create the material world in our image It then sets out to prove that the universe is not a vast ancient place ruled by chance but rather exists as a reflection or shadow or mirror image of us The Professional and

Standing in the Shadows Jason Haffner, 2008 Standing in the Shadows is a collection of short stories that showcases the inner workings of the modern American family Each of these six stories examines families in one capacity or another dealing with ups and downs love and hatred sadness and happiness and everything in between At the heart of these stories are the relationships between people some affected by sadness and tragedy others torn apart by secrets all trying to cope and exist in a world full of conflict and difficulties The characters in this selection deal with shortcomings shortcomings of others and of themselves while forced to overcome obstacles in order to find truth meaning and understanding within their lives River Jumping and All the Wrong Ways to Say I Love You involve protagonists trying to come to terms with their current situations in life while attempting to rectify the mistakes of their pasts Standing in the Shadows discusses the secrets that father s keep and the adverse affect it can have on their children Stolen Summer examines how tragedy can affect the inner workings of family and also the relationship between two friends The story is an example of how sadness is an all consuming organism that if not faced head on can forever alter the futures of those involved Pastime deals with the relationship between fathers and sons and how the love and desire a father has for his son impacts their relationship in negative ways Finally Glass Onion completes the collection detailing the story of a woman who is so frustrated with her current disposition that she can no longer take it As the years have passed and routines are formed Tabby struggles to maintain her identity her desire for life and ultimately her sanity In each of these stories families are forced to deal with issues that ultimately define the characters as individuals Whether it s a lack of communication or they are haunted by the sins of the past these characters struggle to overcome obstacles that in the end will provide insight into who they are and where they are going

As The Wayward Wind Blows Curtis Parris, 2021-12-02 This book marks the first time that the poetry of Curtis Wayne Parris appears in print The poems were selected to showcase Parris mastery of verse and provide readers with a broad range of poetic styles from Parris diverse catalog Readers should be advised and forewarned that they are about to enter into a world of hauntingly beautiful prose and verse that spans the spectrum of human emotion from zeniths of bliss to nadirs of sorrow In his cosmic meanderings Parris wanders through psychedelic dreamscapes of sublime beauty but also descends into the deepest gorges of despair Through linguistic alchemy Parris skillfully blends subject sound syntax and syncopation to create naturally rhythmic poems charged with pure emotion Blessed with a gift for alliteration and cadence Parris uses simple everyday words to convey the most intimate and horrifying details of his life Parris does not seek exposure nor notoriety for he lives in a world of night of moonscapes and shadows Instead Parris writes because he has a tempest inside Parris injects metaphysical concepts into his poems frequently traveling through time space and other dimensions as he explores the mysterious universe within his mind In these respects his poems can touch upon ancient nerves for we are all to some degree or another just fellow travelers in time journeying through life seeking solace and awaiting final destinations Into this abstract poetic tapestry Parris weaves his observations on life death religion and politics Come along and take a journey through the land of dreams Standing in the Shadows of Motown James Jamerson, 1989 Guitar Book Bassist James Jamerson was the embodiment of the Motown spirit and groove the invisible entity whose playing inspired thousands His tumultuous life and musical brilliance are explored in depth through hundreds of interviews 49 transcribed musical scores two hours of recorded all star performances and more than 50 rarely seen photos in this stellar tribute to behind the scenes Motown Features a 120 minute CD Allan Slutsky s 2002 documentary of the same name is the winner of the New York Film Critics Best Documentary of the Year award Enduring Truths Darcy Grimaldo Grigsby, 2015-09-21 Richly illustrated Enduring Truths examines the freed slave Sojourner Truth who achieved fame in the nineteenth century as an orator and abolitionist and who though illiterate earned a living on the anti slavery lecture circuit in part by selling cartes de visite of herself Cartes de visitesimilar in format to post cardsoffered a mode of mass communication back in the day Even then they were collectible novelties Virtually every celebrity used them to purvey their own countenance in order to become part of the popular imagination of a society Sojourner Truth aspired to nothing less These photographs of her are famous and they have been commented upon before but they have not received the kind of in depth nuanced cultural analysis offered in this book
