Pacific Futures Will Rollason, 2014-07-01 The Pacific region presents a huge diversity of cultural forms which have fuelled some of the most challenging ethnographic work undertaken in the discipline. But this challenge has come at a cost. Culture often reconfigured as custom has often served to trap the people of the Pacific in the past of cultural reproduction where everything is what it has always been or worse outdated, outmoded and destined for modernization. Pacific Futures asks how our understanding of social life in the Pacific would be different if we approached it from the perspective of the futures which Pacific people dream of: predict or struggle to achieve, not the reproduction of cultural tradition. From Christianity to gambling, marriage to cargo cult, military coups to reflections on childhood fishing trips, the contributors to this volume show how Pacific people are actively shaping their lives with the future in mind.

Relations Marilyn Strathern, 2020-04-17 The concept of relation holds a privileged place in how anthropologists think and write about the social and cultural lives they study. In Relations, eminent anthropologist Marilyn Strathern provides a critical account of this key concept and its usage and significance in the English speaking world. Exploring relations, changing articulations and meanings over the past three centuries, Strathern shows how the historical idiosyncrasy of using an epistemological term for kinship relations was bound up with evolving ideas about knowledge making and kin making. She draws on philosophical debates about relation such as Leibniz's reaction to Locke and what became its definitive place in anthropological exposition, elucidating the underlying assumptions and conventions of its use. She also calls for scholars in anthropology and beyond to take up the limitations of Western relational thinking, especially against the background of present ecological crises and interest in multispecies relations. In weaving together analyses of kin making and knowledge making, Strathern opens up new ways of thinking about the contours of epistemic and relational possibilities while questioning the limits and potential of ethnographic methods.

Critical Christianity Courtney Handman, 2014-11-26 In Critical Christianity, Courtney Handman analyzes the complex and conflicting forms of sociality that Guhu Samane Christians of rural Papua New Guinea privilege and celebrate as the body of Christ. Within Guhu Samane churches, processes of denominational schism, long relegated to the secular study of politics or identity, are moments of critique through which Christians constitute themselves and their social worlds. Far from being a practice of individualism, Protestantism offers local people ways to make social groups sacred units of critique. Bible translation produced by members of the Summer Institute of Linguistics is a crucial resource for these critical projects of religious formation. From early interaction with German Lutheran missionaries to engagements with the Summer Institute of Linguistics to the contemporary moment of conflict, Handman presents some of the many models of Christian sociality that are debated among Guhu Samane Christians. Central to the study are Handman's rich analyses of the media through which this critical Christian sociality is practiced, including language, sound, bodily movement and everyday objects. This original and thought provoking book is essential reading for students and scholars of anthropology and religious
