Stern,2011-07-11 The unique story of a business heretic and his concept of Economic Value Added EVA In Against the Grain Joel Stern shares for the first time not only the story of how EVA swept the corporate world but the story behind the story the intellectual underpinnings of EVA how he and his colleagues at Stern Stewart Co promoted the concept won its initial acceptance by major corporations and later turned the concept into a revolution He has for good reason been called a one man catalyst for change In an engaging memoir he has given us not only an account of his business strategy but also provided fascinating anecdotes and vignettes of encounters with leading businessmen on four continents Joel M Stern New York NY has been the Managing Partner of Stern Stewart Co since its founding in 1982 and was coauthor of The EVA Challenge Wiley 0 471 40555 8 A recognized authority on financial economics corporate performance measurement corporate valuation and incentive compensation he is a leading advocate of the concept of shareholder value Irwin Ross New York NY was retained to write The EVA Challenge with Joel Stern and John Shiely He is a former roving editor of Reader s Digest and over the years has written for Fortune and a variety of other magazines Questions, Exercises and Problems in Financial Accounting David Kolitz,D. L. Kolitz,2010-06 Divided into a selection of questions exercises and problems this workbook will help keep accountants on top of current international economic affairs The questions are multiple choice and ensure understanding of a topic before moving onto the exercises and problems The exercises can be used to develop proficiency in a topic where students are expected to reach the standard of the problems and the problems are longer and more complex in nature requiring an in depth understanding of the topic Combined this complete approach provides a full view of the up to date requirements of the International Financial Reporting Standards Between Worlds Linda Chisholm,2017-11-30 How the story of how missionary schools adopted the Bantu education reforms gives insight into the ongoing legacy of the apartheid in the South African educational system The transition from apartheid to the post apartheid era has highlighted questions about the past and the persistence of its influence in present day South Africa This is particularly so in education where the past continues to play a decisive role in relation to inequality Between Worlds German Missionaries and the Transition from Mission to Bantu Education in South Africa scrutinises the experience of a hitherto unexplored German mission society probing the complexities and paradoxes of social change in education It raises challenging questions about the nature of mission education legacies Linda Chisholm shows that the transition from mission to Bantu Education was far from seamless Instead past and present interpenetrated one another with resistance and compliance cohabiting in a complex new social order At the same time as missionaries complied with the new Bantu Education dictates they sought to secure a role for themselves in the face of demands of local communities for secular state controlled education When the latter was implemented in a perverted form from the mid 1950s one of its tools was textbooks in local languages developed by mission societies as part of a transnational project with African participation Introduced under the guise of expunging European control Bantu Education merely served to reinforce such control The response of local communities was an attempt to domesticate and master the foreign body of the mission so as to create access to a larger world This book focuses on the ensuing struggle fought on many fronts including medium of instruction and textbook content with concomitant sub texts relating to gender roles and sexuality South Africa s educational history is to this day informed by networks of people and ideas crossing geographic and racial boundaries The colonial legacy has inevitably involved cultural mixing and hybridisation with paradoxically parallel pleas for purity Chisholm explores how these ideas found expression in colliding and coalescing worlds one African the other European caught between mission and apartheid education

Leadership Approaches to Negotiate Challenges in a Changing Education Landscape Leentjie van Jaarsveld, Kobus Mentz, Charl C. Wolhuter, 2020-12-31 The argumentative point of departure of this scholarly book is the common conviction of specialists in the field of education in South Africa that the national education system is not at a satisfactory level in both the academic and the public discourse Such allegations are made and frequently stronger adjectives than non satisfactory are used Results of international test series in which South Africa has participated such as the 2015 TIMSS tests confirm the negative verdicts found in the public and scholarly discourse This book aims to argue that although the lack of performance could be attributed to a multiplicity of factors one factor that can make a difference in the achievement levels obtained by learners in schools is leadership The book demonstrates that a particular problem of both the scholarly and the public discourse on education in South Africa is an overtone of defeatism or resignation blaming all ills in the education system and educational institutions on historical legacies and or contextual factors such as socio economic deprivation in the catchment areas of schools or poor resources and infrastructure This collected work was inspired by a recently published spate of articles on top performing schools including top performing schools in rural communities in which it was demonstrated that good leadership can overcome such contextual and other challenges The book unpacks the issue of leadership in South African schools from a variety of perspectives thus contributing to the development of the scholarly discourse on Educational Leadership in South Africa The target audience of the book is scholars of Educational Leadership The research reported in the chapters draw on a wide range of methodologies including empirical survey research questionnaires and interviews critical literature surveys and the comparative method

Fraud and Education Harold J. Noah, Max A. Eckstein, 2001 Fraud and Education gives an informative overview of cheating in examinations in the U S and foreign countries and of the current state of fraud in education and research It differs however from many popular treatises on the same subject in that it is not intended as a blanket condemnation of American or foreign education Instead of assigning blame for the prevalence of fraud the authors point to such factors as growth in the number of persons engaged in education and research pressures on individuals to succeed improvements in communications especially the Internet and e mail and in techniques of document reproduction
