Uprooting University Apartheid in South Africa Teresa A. Barnes,2018-12-07 South Africa continues to be an object of fascination for people everywhere interested in social justice issues postcolonial studies and critical race theory as manifested by the enormous worldwide attention given to the RhodesMustFall movement In this book Teresa Barnes examines universities complex positioning in the apartheid era and argues that tracing the institutional legacies left by pro apartheid intellectuals are crucial to understanding the fight to transform South African higher education A work of interpretive social history this book investigates three historical dynamics in the relationship between the apartheid system and South African higher education First it explores how the legitimacy of apartheid was historically reproduced in public higher education Second it looks at ways that academics maneuvered through and influenced national and international discourses of political freedom and legitimacy Third it explores how and where stubborn tendrils of apartheid era knowledge production practices survived into and have been combatted during the democratic era in South African universities

Avian Malaria and Related Parasites in the Tropics Diego Santiago-Alarcon,Alfonso Marzal,2020-10-19 The Tropics are home to the greatest biodiversity in the world but tropical species are at risk due to anthropogenic activities mainly land use change habitat loss invasive species and pathogens Over the past 20 years the avian malaria and related parasites Order Haemosporida systems have received increased attention in the tropical regions from a diverse array of research perspectives However to date no attempts have been made to synthesize the available information and to propose new lines of research This book provides such a synthesis by not only focusing on the antagonistic interactions but also by providing conceptual chapters on topics going from avian haemosporidians life cycles and study techniques to chapters addressing current concepts on ecology and evolution For example a chapter synthesizing basic biogeography and ecological niche model concepts is presented followed by one on the island biogeography of avian haemosporidians Accordingly researchers and professionals interested in these antagonistic interaction systems will find both an overview of the field with special emphasis on the tropics and access to the necessary conceptual framework for various topics in ecology evolution and systematics Given its conceptual perspective the book will appeal not only to readers interested in avian haemosporidians but also to those more generally interested in the ecology evolution and systematics of host parasite interactions Space, Place and Inclusive Learning Judy Hemingway, Felicity Armstrong, 2016-04-08 This collection explores ways in which theories of space and place can be used in understanding processes of exclusion and inclusion in education The contributions foreground how the spatial turn and geographical knowledges can inform debates on the relationships between learning space and place understandings of the ways in which space and place affect education and learning familiar research agendas through the application of conceptual perspectives from different disciplines The ten chapters which make up this book are by contributors from Australia Italy and the United Kingdom who draw in very different ways on spatial theory as a means of exploring processes of inclusion and exclusion in education Each one of the authors not only seeks to challenge growing orthodoxies in their respective field but is interested in cross disciplinarity and spatial theory in education This book provides key readings for experienced and beginning teachers studying for bachelors masters and research degrees or professional qualifications It will be particularly useful to equality and diversity post holders lecturers researchers and policy makers working in all education establishments which take issues of inclusion seriously The international content of the diverse papers in Space Place and Inclusive Learning will be of interest not only to those practising in the United Kingdom but to educationists working in other countries who seek to understand how space and place modulate opportunities for inclusion This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Inclusive Education

Dudu, 2023-03-01 This book critically examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimaged to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark      Utopia and Its Discontents Sebastian Mitchell, 2020-02-20 Utopia and Its Discontents traces literary representations of ideal communities from Plato to the 21st century Each chapter offers close

People - Marine Mammal Interactions Andrew Butterworth, Mark P. Simmonds, 2017-08-15 Our relationships with marine mammals are complex We have used them as resources and in some places this remains the case viewed them as competitors and culled them again ongoing in some localities been so captivated and intrigued by them that we have taken them into captivity for our entertainment and developed a lucrative eco tourism activity focused on them in many nations When we first envisaged this special topic we had two overarching aims Firstly we hoped to generate critical evaluation of some of our relationships with these animals Secondly we hoped to attract knowledgeable commentators and experts who might not traditionally publish in the peer reviewed literature We were also asking ourselves a question about what responsibility mankind might have to marine mammals on our rapidly changing planet The answer to the question can or should humans have responsibility for the lives of marine mammals when they are affected by our activities is in our opinion yes and the logical progression from this question is to direct research and effort to understand and optimise the actions reactions and responses that mankind may be able to take We hope that the papers in this special issue bring some illumination to a small selection of topics under this much wider topic area and prove to be informative and stimulating
