New Trends in Image Analysis and Processing -- ICIAP 2015 Workshops Vittorio Murino, Enrico Puppo, Diego Sona, Marco Cristani, Carlo Sansone, 2015-08-20 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of seven workshops held at the 18th International Conference on Image Analysis and Processing ICIAP 2015 in Genoa Italy in September 2015 International Workshop on Recent Advances in Digital Security Biometrics and Forensics BioFor 2015 International Workshop on Color in Texture and Material Recognition CTMR 2015 International Workshop on Medical Imaging in Rheumatology Advanced applications for the analysis of inflammation and damage in the rheumatoid Joint RHEUMA 2015 International Workshop on Image Based Smart City Application ISCA 2015 International Workshop on Multimedia Assisted Dietary Management MADiMa 2015 International Workshop on Scene Background Modeling and initialization SBMI 2015 and International Workshop on Image and Video Processing for Quality of Multimedia Experience QoEM 2015 South Korean Migrants in China Xiao Ma, 2015-10-01 This book is an ethnographic account of education and migration from the perspective of three groups of South Koreans in contemporary China migrant parents children students and educational agents The book reveals how these temporary migrants make choices plan their trajectories and engage with the authorities both in China and South Korea Migrant subjectivities among these groups are driven by and respond to the education migration regimes of both the sending and receiving countries As people in between they occupy flexible and multiple positionalities that are transnationally distributed However paradoxically they experience a juxtaposition of privilege integration and separation which is indicative of the Chinese style of internationalisation The book adds weight to the argument that China is a temporary destination for foreigners and not one for long term settlement Studies in Law, Politics, and Society Austin Sarat, 2019-08-05 This volume of Studies in Law Politics and Society examines the contribution of ethnography to our understanding of contemporary legal and political phenomena with a particular focus on how it enables us to make sense of modern life under conditions of post colonialism and globalization Adapting to Online and Blended Learning in Higher Education David Kember, Robert A. Ellis, Si Fan, Allison Trimble, 2023-05-19 Higher education has undergone a massive transformation in teaching and learning in a very short period of time since the onset of Covid 19 Students teachers and universities have had to adopt online and blended learning often with little or no experience or models of good practice to draw upon It is clear that blended and online learning are here to stay This book draws on research from universities that have adopted online and blended learning to facilitate the expansion and diversification of their intake which resulted in considerable experience and expertise in online and blended teaching The book describes a model tested with qualitative and quantitative data which shows how teachers can support the retention and success of online and blended learners with four high quality pedagogical elements bite sized videos of interest and relevance learning materials that are well organised and provide a clear learning roadmap discussion forums which are set up and moderated so as to result in lively student student and student teacher interaction and online teachers being approachable and responsive to communication with individual students through email phone and online communication platforms This model is explained and profusely illustrated with examples from the teaching of award winning teachers This book introduces the concept of a spectrum from traditional to contemporary models of admission and course delivery in higher education It explains how universities which have adopted a contemporary model with high levels of blended and online learning have been able to expand their intake and markedly diversify the student body It discusses how to support the retention and success of online and blended learners Student support services are examined from the perspectives of service providers and online and blended learners and the case is made for support services being aligned with student needs The book has a discussion of university management systems which utilise feedback at all levels to improve alignment between support service provision and student needs

The Diversity Bargain Natasha K. Warikoo, 2016-11-15 We've heard plenty from politicians and experts on affirmative action and higher education about how universities should intervene if at all to ensure a diverse but deserving student population But what about those for whom these issues matter the most In this book Natasha K Warikoo deeply explores how students themselves think about merit and race at a uniquely pivotal moment after they have just won the most competitive game of their lives and gained admittance to one of the world's top universities What Warikoo uncovers talking with both white students and students of color at Harvard Brown and Oxford is absolutely illuminating and some of it is positively shocking As she shows many elite white students understand the value of diversity abstractly but they ignore the real problems that racial inequality causes and that diversity programs are meant to solve They stand in fear of being labeled a racist but they are quick to call foul should a diversity program appear at all to hamper their own chances for advancement The most troubling result of this ambivalence is what she calls the diversity bargain in which white students reluctantly agree with affirmative action as long as it benefits them by providing a diverse learning environment racial diversity in this way is a commodity a selling point on a brochure And as Warikoo shows universities play a big part in creating these situations The way they talk about race on campus and the kinds of diversity programs they offer have a huge impact on student attitudes shaping them either toward ambivalence or in better cases toward more productive and considerate understandings of racial difference Ultimately this book demonstrates just how slippery the notions of race merit and privilege can be In doing so it asks important questions not just about college admissions but what the elite students who have succeeded at it who will be the world s future leaders will do with the social inequalities of the wider world

Access to Higher Education Anna Mountford-Zimdars, Neil Harrison, 2016-11-18 How do we understand and explain who has access to higher education How do we make sense of persisting and new forms of inequality How can global national and institutional policymakers and practitioners make higher education more inclusive Access to Higher Education Theoretical perspectives and contemporary challenges seeks to update thinking on these questions combining new voices and emerging perspectives with established writers in the field This pioneering text highlights the contribution of social theory to issues of access to education with chapters introducing and drawing on the works of key interdisciplinary thinkers including Pierre Bourdieu Margaret Archer Amartya Sen and Herbert Simon It then moves to examines how theoretical perspectives can be applied to the contemporary challenges of forging more equal access with examples drawn from a wide range of contexts including the UK the US Australia South Africa and Japan Global in scope this book documents the shared nature of the access challenge in a period when higher education is growing rapidly but inequalities continue to be stark It concludes by proposing a new direction for research and a reassertion of the role of the researcher as a social activist for disconnected and disadvantaged groups equipped with the thinking tools needed to move the agenda forward Access to Higher Education is a rigorous text for the global research community with relevance to policymakers practitioners and postgraduate students interested in social justice and social policy It provides those with an academic interest in access and a commitment to enhancing policy with theoretical and practical ideas for moving the access agenda forward in their institutional regional or national contexts

Journal of Education Culture and Society 2015_2 , Nic nie wpisano The Evolution of Liberal Arts in the Global Age Peter Marber, Daniel Araya, 2017-03-16 Advanced and developing countries across the globe are embracing the liberal arts approach in higher education to foster more innovative human capital to compete in the global economy Even as interest in the tradition expands outside the United States can the democratic philosophy underlying the liberal arts tradition be sustained Can developing countries operating under heavy authoritarian systems cultivate schools predicated on open discussion and debate Can entrenched specialist systems in Europe and Asia successfully adopt the multidisciplinary liberal arts model These are some of the questions put to leading scholars and senior higher education practitioners within this edited collection Beginning with historical context international contributors explore the contours of liberal arts education amid public calls for change in the United States the growing global interest in the approach outside the United States as well as the potential of liberal arts philosophy in a global knowledge economy

The Status of Student Involvement in University Governance in Kenya M. Mulinge, N. Arasa, 2017-05-05 This book examines the concept of the democratization of governance in universities in Kenya with particular emphasis on students involvement in governance processes and decision making Data were collected from members of the student community utilizing a structured self administered questionnaire and from purposively selected key informants and focus group discussants drawn from Kenyatta University representing the public sector and the United States International University representing the private sector The guiding argument for the study was that shared governance one of the principles of good governance is critical in enabling the universities to deliver their visions and the missions effectively The results revealed that while in principle Kenyan universities have embraced democratic governance in which all stakeholders including students have a role to play in practice they continue to violate the core principles of good governance particularly shared governance Specifically students who are major stakeholders in university education are largely excluded from significant structures of governance thereby limiting their influence and participation Although their representation is mainly provided via student self governance organs unions associations and or councils their effectiveness is undermined considerably by the lack of trust and confidence of the student body and the unending manipulation by top university administrators and external political actors Student active involvement in decision making is mainly confined to lower levels such as the school faculty and departmental programme The authors call for a paradigm shift in the involvement of students in the governance of universities in ways that discourage the current culture of tokenism and political correctness that characterizes public and private universities in Kenya

Just Universities Gerald J. Beyer, 2021-02-23 Gerald J Beyer's Just Universities discusses ways that U S Catholic institutions of higher education have embodied or failed to embody Catholic social teaching in their campus policies and practices Beyer argues that the corporatization of the university has infected U S higher education with hyper individualistic models and practices that hinder the ability of Catholic institutions to create an environment imbued with bedrock values and principles of Catholic Social Teaching such as respect for human rights solidarity and justice Beyer problematizes corporatized higher education and shows how it has adversely affected efforts at Catholic schools to promote worker justice on campus equitable admissions financial aid retention policies diversity and inclusion policies that treat people of color women and LGBTQ persons as full community members just investment and stewardship of resources and the environment
