Turner, 2017-01-12 Now in its 150th edition The Statesman's Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions www.statesmansyearbook.com Money Games Anthony J. Pickles, 2019-06-06 Gambling in Papua New Guinea despite being completely absent prior to the Colonial era has come to supersede storytelling as the region's main nighttime activity Money

Games is an ethnographic monograph which reveals the contemporary importance of gambling in urban Papua New Guinea. Rich ethnographic detail is coupled with cross cultural comparison which spans the globe. This anthropological study of everyday economics in Melanesia thereby intersects with theories of money, value, play, informal economy, social change and leadership.

Anti-Corruption and its Discontents Grant W. Walton, 2017-08-03. The fight against corruption is now a core part of development policy and practice. Some call these efforts a war on corruption. What does this so-called war mean for developing countries? And how do international perspectives on corruption relate to local and national concerns? This book examines the relevance of anti-corruption discourse in Papua New Guinea (PNG), one of the most culturally rich and corrupt countries on earth. Despite increased international, national and local efforts to address corruption over the past two decades, many fear that levels of corruption continue to rise largely unabated. Some believe that the mismatch between international and local assumptions regarding the nature of corruption and how it should be addressed is at the heart of the issue. International anti-corruption initiatives stress zero tolerance and try to strengthen formal state-based institutions. However, many people in PNG are more concerned about maintaining social relationships than following state laws and rules. This book critically examines the implications of the anti-corruption agenda and the collision of international, national and local perspectives. In doing so, it provides a diagnostic on international assumptions about corruption and how it should be fought in developing countries, offering surprising and important lessons. This book is essential reading for scholars and students of Development Studies, Geography, Political Studies and Economics, as well as practitioners and policy makers working in development.

Yabar David Lipset, 2017-03-27. This book analyses the dual alienations of a coastal group, rural men, the Murik of Papua New Guinea. David Lipset argues that Murik men engage in a Bakhtinian dialogue voicing their alienation from both their own indigenous masculinity as well as from the postcolonial modernity in which they find themselves adrift. Lipset analyses young men's elusive expressions of desire in courtship narratives, marijuana discourse and mobile phone use in which generational tensions play out together with their disaffection from the state. He also borrows from Lacanian psychoanalysis in discussing how men's dialogue of dual alienation appears in folk theater in material substitutions, most notably in the replacement of outrigger canoes by fiberglass boats as well as in rising sea levels and the looming possibility of resettlement.

Engendering Transformative Change in International Development Gillian Fletcher, 2018-09-21. The Sustainable Development Goals were launched in 2015 with grand ambitions for ending poverty, protecting the planet and ensuring prosperity for all, with no one left behind. However, these goals will be impossible to achieve without addressing inequity, inequality, marginalisation and exclusion related to gender and to other intersecting social hierarchies linked to deeply emotional, culturally bound norms and judgements of worth. This book asks readers to consider issues of knowledge, power and effectiveness, emphasising the limits of taking a categorical approach to gender and other social hierarchies and the importance of process in what is known about generating transformative social change.

Thinking and Practice in International Development draws on a range of real world examples which demonstrate both the limitations of the frameworks currently in use and the very real possibilities for change when the intersecting social hierarchies that sustain and create inequity and inequality are challenged This book brings together theoretical perspectives on social change gender intersectionality and forms of knowledge concluding with a set of proposals for revitalising a change agenda that recognises and engages with intersectionality and practical wisdom Perfect for students and scholars of social change gender and development this book will also be useful for practitioners looking for new ideas to help to generate social change

The Melanesian World Eric Hirsch, Will Rollason, 2019-03-28 This wide ranging volume captures the diverse range of societies and experiences that form what has come to be known as Melanesia It covers prehistoric historic and contemporary issues and includes work by art historians political scientists geographers and anthropologists The chapters range from studies of subsistence ritual and ceremonial exchange to accounts of state violence new media and climate change The Melanesian world assembled here raises questions that cut to the heart of debates in the human sciences today with profound implications for the ways in which scholars across disciplines can describe and understand human difference This impressive collection of essays represents a valuable resource for scholars and students alike

Monitoring and Evaluation in Health and Social Development Stephen Bell, Peter Aggleton, 2016-02-01 New approaches are needed to monitor and evaluate health and social development Existing strategies tend to require expensive time consuming analytical procedures The growing emphasis on results based programming has resulted in evaluation being conducted in order to demonstrate accountability and success rather than how change takes place what works and why The tendency to monitor and evaluate using log frames and their variants closes policy makers and practitioners eyes to the sometimes unanticipated means by which change takes place Two recent developments hold the potential to transcend these difficulties and to lead to important changes in the way in which the effects of health and social development programming are understood First there is growing interest in ways of monitoring programmes and assessing impact that are more grounded in the realities of practice than many of the results based methods currently utilised Second there are calls for the greater use of interpretive and ethnographic methods in programme design monitoring and evaluation Responding to these concerns this book illustrates the potential of interpretative methods to aid understanding and make a difference in real people's lives Through a focus on individual and community perspectives and locally grounded explanations the methods explored in this book offer a potentially richer way of assessing the relationships between intent action and change in health and social development in Africa Asia Europe and the Americas

A Thousand Eruptions Fraser Macdonald, 2024-11-14

The charismatic revival movements of the 1970s in Melanesia were the most significant religious development in the region's history but until now there has been no full scale look at the regional upheaval or of why it occurred As this book shows many of the most influential anthropological studies of Christianity in Melanesia are built upon the revival movements of this period In this untold story in the history of global charismatic Christianity Fraser Macdonald utilises the conceptual framework of Deleuze and Guattari which guides this study of an emergent Indigenous Christianity Macdonald shows how the religious context of colonialism missionisation and political independence jointly lead to intense eruptions of a new localised Christianity which was articulated as an ecstatic pursuit of the Second Coming Macdonald offers a case study of the global spread of charismatic Christianity and demonstrates how a new ontological directive was set in motion by the rise and fall of colonialism in Melanesia The work looks at how each movement was formed through the mobilisation of existing local regional and transnational cultural elements in pursuit of a common goal and discusses how the revivals radically and permanently transformed the religious landscape of the region

Indigenous Knowledge and Ethnomathematics Eric Vandendriessche, Rik Pinxten, 2023-02-14

The book presents a series of ethnographic studies which illustrate issues of wider importance such as the role of cultural traditions concepts and learning procedures in the development of formal or mathematical thinking outside of the western tradition It focuses on research at the crossroads of anthropology and ethnomathematics to document indigenous mathematical knowledge and its inclusion in specific cultural patterns More generally the book demonstrates the heuristic value of crossing ethnographical anthropological and ethnomathematical approaches to highlight and analyze or formalize with a pedagogical outlook indigenous mathematical knowledge The book is divided into three parts The first part extensively analyzes theoretical claims using particular ethnographic data while revealing the structural mathematical features of different ludic graphic or technical procedural practices in their links to other cultural phenomena In the second part new empirical studies that add data and perspectives from the body of studies on indigenous knowledge systems to the ongoing discussions in mathematics education in and for diverse cultural traditions are presented This part considers on the one hand the Brazilian work in this field on the other hand it brings ethnographic innovation from other parts of the world The third part comprises a broad philosophical discussion of the impact of intuitive or ontological premises on mathematical thinking and education in the light of recent developments within so called indigenously inspired thinking Finally the editors' conclusions aim to invite the broad and diversified field of scholars in this domain of research to seek alternative approaches for understanding mathematical reasoning and the adjacent adequate educational goals and means This book is of interest to scholars and students in anthropology ethnomathematics history and philosophy of science mathematics and mathematics education as well as other individuals interested in these topics Fire on the Island Tom Bratrud,2022-04-08 In 2014 the island of Ahamb in Vanuatu became the scene of a startling Christian revival movement led by thirty children with spiritual vision However it ended dramatically when two men believed to be sorcerers and responsible for much of the society s problems were hung by persons fearing for the island s future security Based on twenty months of ethnographic fieldwork on Ahamb between 2010 and 2017 this book investigates how upheavals like the Ahamb revival can emerge to address and sometimes resolve social problems but also carry risks of exacerbating the same problems they arise to address Handbook on Migration and Development Raquel Delgado Wise,Branka Likic-Brboric,Ronaldo Munck,Carl-Ulrik Schierup,2024-08-06 This Handbook presents a comprehensive overview of the interaction between migration and development from a range of critical and counter hegemonic perspectives Exploring the strengths and weaknesses of existing practices connected with the migration and development nexus contributing authors provide a clear understanding of their complex dynamics Mathematics Education in a Neocolonial Country: The Case of Papua New Guinea Patricia Paraide,Kay Owens,Charly Muke,Philip Clarkson,Christopher Owens,2023-01-10 Most education research is undertaken in western developed countries While some research from developing countries does make it into research journals from time to time but these articles only emphasize the rarity of research in developing countries The proposed book is unique in that it will cover education in Papua New Guinea over the millennia Papua New Guinea s multicultural society with relatively recent contact with Europe and the Middle East provides a cameo of the development of education in a country with both a colonial history and a coup less transition to independence Discussion will focus on specific areas of mathematics education that have been impacted by policies research circumstances and other influences with particular emphasis on pressures on education in the last one and half centuries This volume will be one of the few records of this kind in the education research literature as an in depth record and critique of how school mathematics has been grown in Papua New Guinea from the late 1800s and should be a useful addition to graduate programs mathematics education courses history of mathematics as well as the interdisciplinary fields of cross cultural studies scholarship focusing on globalization and post decolonialism linguistics educational administration and policy technology education teacher education and gender studies Unequal Lives Nicholas A. Bainton,Debra McDougall,Kalissa Alexeyeff,John Cox,2021-01-18 As we move further into the twenty first century we are witnessing both the global extensification and local intensification of inequality Unequal Lives deals with the particular dilemmas of inequality in the Western Pacific The authors focus on four dimensions of inequality the familiar triad of gender race and class and the often neglected dimension of generation Grounded in meticulous long term ethnographic enquiry and deep awareness of the historical contingency of these configurations of inequality this volume illustrates the multidimensional multiscale and epistemic nature of contemporary inequality This collection is a major contribution to academic and political debates about the perverse effects of inequality which now ranks among the greatest challenges of our time The inspiration for this volume derives from the breadth and depth of Martha Macintyre s remarkable scholarship The contributors celebrate Macintyre s groundbreaking work which exemplifies the explanatory power ethical force and pragmatism that ensures the relevance of anthropological research to the lives of others and to understanding the global condition Unequal Lives is an impressive collection by Melanesianist anthropologists with reputations for theoretical sophistication ethnographic imagination and persuasive writing It brilliantly illuminates all aspects of the multifaceted scholarship of Martha Macintyre whose life and teaching are also highlighted in the commentaries tributes and interview included in the volume Robert J Foster Professor of Anthropology and Visual and Cultural Studies Richard L Turner Professor of Humanities University of Rochester Inspired by Martha Macintyre s work the contributors to Unequal Lives show that to theorise inequality is a measured project one that requires rescaling its exercise over several decades in order to recognise the reality of inequality as it is known in social relations and to document it critically unravelling their own readiness to misjudge what they see from the lives that are lived by the people with whom they have lived and studied This fine volume shows how the ordinariness of everyday work and care can be a chimera wherein the apparent reality of inequality might mislead less critical reports to obscure its very account From reading it we learn that such unrelenting questioning of what makes lives unequal becomes the very analytic for better understanding lives as they are lived Karen M Sykes Professor of Anthropology University of Manchester Mission and the Cultural Other

Randy S. Woodley, 2022-09-01 Mission and the Cultural Other is a decolonial critique of a too often failed missionary enterprise Rev Dr Randy Woodley a former missionary and missiologist writes both as an insider and an outsider As an Indigenous person a missionary among Native Americans and a decolonial theologian with over thirty years of experience in various missionary movements he has seen the best and worst that American mission has to offer Before change can be made in a guarded system such as Christian mission the critique must be pervasive and cut to the core of the problem To truly understand the weakness of modern mission we need to hear from those who have been its casualties Fast Money Schemes

John Cox, 2018-10-02 In the late 1990s and early 2000s a wave of Ponzi schemes swept through Papua New Guinea Australia and the Solomon Islands The most notorious scheme U Vistract attracted many thousands of investors enticing them with promises of 100 percent interest to be paid monthly Its founder Noah Musingku was a charismatic leader who promoted the scheme as a form of Christian mission and as the basis for establishing an independent kingdom Fast Money Schemes uses in depth interviews with investors newspaper accounts and participant observation to understand the scheme s appeal from the point of view of those who invested and lost showing that organizers and investors alike understood the scheme as a way of accessing and participating in a global economy John Cox delivers a post village ethnography that gives insight into the lives of urban middle class Papua New Guineans a group that is not familiar to US readers and that has seldom been a focus of anthropological interest The book s concern with understanding the interweaving of morality finance and aspirations shared by a global cosmopolitan middle class has wide resonance beyond studies of Papua New Guinea and anthropology The Path of Desire Hugh B. Urban, 2024-03-27 A provocative study of contemporary Tantra as a dynamic living tradition Tantra one of the most important religious currents in South Asia is often misrepresented as little more than ritualized sex Through a mixture of ethnography and history Hugh B Urban reveals a dynamic living tradition behind the sensationalist stories Urban shows that Tantric desire goes beyond the erotic encompassing such quotidian experiences as childbearing and healing He traces these holistic desires through a series of unique practices institutional Tantra centered on gurus and esoteric rituals public Tantra marked by performance and festival folk Tantra focused on magic and personal well being and popular Tantra imagined in fiction film and digital media The result is a provocative new description of Hindu Tantra that challenges us to approach religion as something always entwined with politics and culture thoroughly entangled with ordinary needs and desires
