Year of Fire, Year of Ash Baruch Hirson,2016-06-15 We can say without fear of being contradicted by history that June 16 1976 heralded the beginning of the end of the centuries old white rule in this country Nelson Mandela Originally banned on publication by the apartheid government Year of Fire Year of Ash is an eye opening account of how in June 1976 20 000 school students faced down the tanks and guns of a vicious racist regime in a revolt that galvanized the black working class and became a pivotal turning point for the anti apartheid movement More than this the book overturns much of the conventional logic that served to explain the event at the time showing it was not simply a student protest but part of a wider uprising Released in this new edition to mark the fortieth anniversary Year of Fire Year of Ash provides an unparalleled insight into the origins and events of the uprising from its antecedents in the 1920s to its role in inspiring global solidarity against apartheid As South Africa experiences a new wave of popular discontent and as new forms of black consciousness come to the fore in movements around the world Baruch Hirson s book provides a timely reminder of the Soweto revolt s continued significance to struggles against oppression today

Debating African Philosophy George Hull,2018-11-21 In African countries there has been a surge of intellectual interest in foregrounding ideas and thinkers of African origin in philosophy as in other disciplines that have been unjustly ignored or marginalized African scholars have demonstrated that precolonial African cultures generated ideas and arguments which were at once truly philosophical and distinctively African and several contemporary African thinkers are now established figures in the philosophical mainstream Yet despite the universality of its themes relevant contributions from African philosophy have rarely permeated global philosophical debates Critical intellectual excavation has also tended to prioritize precolonial thought overlooking more recent sources of home grown philosophical thinking such as Africa s intellectually rich liberation movements This book demonstrates the potential for constructive interchange between currents of thought from African philosophy and other intellectual currents within philosophy Chapters authored by leading and emerging scholars recover philosophical thinkers and currents of ideas within Africa and about Africa bringing them into dialogue with contemporary mainstream philosophy foreground the relevance of African theorizing to contemporary debates in epistemology philosophy of language moral political philosophy philosophy of race environmental ethics and the metaphysics of disability make new interventions within on going debates in African philosophy consider ways in which philosophy can become epistemically inclusive interrogating the contemporary call for decolonization of philosophy Showing how foregrounding Africa its ideas thinkers and problems can help with the project of renewing and improving the discipline of philosophy worldwide this book will stimulate and challenge everyone with an interest in philosophy and is essential reading for upper level undergraduate students postgraduate students and scholars of African and Africana philosophy

Indigenous Archives in Postcolonial Contexts Mpho Ngoepe,Sindiso Bhebhe,2023-12-06 Indigenous Archives in Postcolonial Contexts revisits the definition of a record and extends it to include memory murals rock art paintings and other objects Drawing on five years of research and examples from Zimbabwe Botswana and South Africa the authors analyse archives in the African context Considering issues such as authentication ownership and copyright the book considers how murals and their like can be used as extended or counter archives Arguing that extended archives can reach people in a way that traditional archives cannot and that such archives can be used to bridge the gaps identified within archival repositories the authors also examine how such archives are managed and authenticated using traditional archival principles Presenting case studies from organisations such as Gay and Lesbian Memory in Action Archives GALA and heritage projects such as the Makgabeng Open Cultural Museum the authors also analyse Indigenous family praises and songs and explore how such records are preserved and transmitted to the next generation Indigenous Archives in Postcolonial Contexts demonstrates how the voices of the marginalised can be incorporated into archives Making an important contribution to the effort to decolonise African archives the book will be essential reading for academics and students working in archival studies library and information science Indigenous studies African studies cultural heritage history and anthropology The Statesman's Year-Book 1984-85 J.
