cities It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions homelands and towns under apartheid and comments on why sub national place based development has not been a key theme in post apartheid higher education planning Given the developmental crisis in the country universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts cities and regions But what should that role be Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework What plans and programmes are in place and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level Who and what might be involved Where should the focus lie and who might benefit most and why Is there a need perhaps to approach the challenges of college towns secondary cities and metropolitan centers differently This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges

Phage Therapy: Past, Present and Future Stephen T. Abedon, Pilar García, Peter Mullany, Rustam Aminov, 2017-09-05 Historically the first observation of a transmissible lytic agent that is specifically active against a bacterium Bacillus anthracis was by a Russian microbiologist Nikolay Gamaleya in 1898 At that time however it was too early to make a connection to another discovery made by Dmitri Ivanovsky in 1892 and Martinus Beijerinck in 1898 on a non bacterial pathogen infecting tobacco plants Thus the viral world was discovered in two of the three domains of life and our current understanding is that viruses represent the most abundant biological entities on the planet The potential of bacteriophages for infection treatment have been recognized after the discoveries by Frederick Twort and Felix d H relle in 1915 and 1917 Subsequent phage therapy developments however have been overshadowed by the remarkable success of antibiotics in infection control and treatment and phage therapy research and development persisted mostly in the former Soviet Union countries Russia and Georgia as well as in France and Poland The dramatic rise of antibiotic resistance and especially of multi drug resistance among human and animal bacterial pathogens however challenged the position of antibiotics as a single most important pillar for infection control and treatment Thus there is a renewed interest in phage therapy as a possible additive alternative therapy especially for the infections that resist routine antibiotic treatment The basis for the revival of phage therapy is affected by a number of issues that need to be resolved before it can enter the arena which is traditionally reserved for antibiotics Probably the most important is the regulatory issue How should phage therapy be regulated Similarly to drugs Then the co evolving nature of phage bacterial host relationship will be a major hurdle for the production of consistent phage formulae Or should we resort to the phage products such as lysins and the corresponding engineered versions in order to have accurate and consistent delivery doses We still have very limited knowledge about the pharmacodynamics of phage therapy More data obtained in animal models are necessary to evaluate the phage therapy efficiency compared for example to antibiotics Another aspect is the safety of phage therapy How do phages interact with the immune system and to what costs or benefits What are the risks in the course of phage therapy of transduction of undesirable properties such as virulence or antibiotic resistance genes How frequent is the development of bacterial host resistance during phage therapy Understanding these and many other aspects of phage therapy basic and applied is the main subject of this Topic Advances in Human Factors in Training, Education, and Learning Sciences Salman Nazir,Tareq Z. Ahram,Waldemar Karwowski,2021-06-26 This book addresses the importance of human factors in optimizing the learning and training process It reports on the latest research and best practices relating to the application of behavioral and cognitive science and new technologies in the design of instructional and training content It proposes innovative strategies for improving the learning and training experience and outcomes in different contexts including lower and higher education and different industry sectors A special emphasis is given to digital and distance learning gamification and virtual training Gathering contributions to the AHFE 2021 Conference on Human Factors in Training Education and Learning Sciences held virtually on July 25 29 2021 from USA this book offers extensive information and a thought provoking guide for both researchers and practitioners in the field of education and training

Biblical Theological Investigations into the Incomprehensibility of God Francois P. Viljoen,Albert J. Coetsee,2025-10-14 Biblical Theological Investigations into the Incomprehensibility of God draws readers into the profound attribute of God s incomprehensibility as witnessed in the unfolding narrative of Scripture While systematic theology has long affirmed the incomprehensibility of God this volume breaks new ground by exploring this attribute through the lens of biblical theology tracing its expression in specific texts of the Old and New Testaments Originating from the 2024 EABS conference in Sofia the chapters in this volume represent research by scholars who examine how biblical texts portray God as both revealed and ultimately unfathomable by means of detailed exegetical studies

Students' participation in university governance in South Africa Vuyo Mthethwa, 2023-03-01 The purpose of this book is to examine the academic experiences of students who participated in university governance at South African universities Scrutiny is placed on the alignment of student representative council constitutions and university statutes with the actual experiences students had in discharging their roles in governance and in the way this impacted their academic progress Through a multi site case study design semi structured interviews were conducted with members of the student representative council who participated in university governance and supported by document analysis and observations to generate the data The study adopted Tinto's Integration Theory and Astin's Theory of Involvement as the two frameworks are based on the relationship between students extra curricular activity and their academic experiences The study invokes a greater awareness of students as major stakeholder in governance and informs policies and practices that may better serve students academic experiences The study will contribute to the understanding of cooperative governance principles while drawing from the perspective of the students on their understanding limitations and challenges in discharging their roles in university governance
