Simmonds, 2017-08-15 Our relationships with marine mammals are complex We have used them as resources and in some places this remains the case viewed them as competitors and culled them again ongoing in some localities been so captivated and intrigued by them that we have taken them into captivity for our entertainment and developed a lucrative eco tourism activity focused on them in many nations When we first envisaged this special topic we had two overarching aims Firstly we hoped to generate critical evaluation of some of our relationships with these animals Secondly we hoped to attract knowledgeable commentators and experts who might not traditionally publish in the peer reviewed literature We were also asking ourselves a question about what responsibility mankind might have to marine mammals on our rapidly changing planet The answer to the question can or should humans have responsibility for the lives of marine mammals when they are affected by our activities is in our opinion yes and the logical progression from this question is to direct research and effort to understand and optimise the actions reactions and responses that mankind may be able to take We hope that the papers in this special issue bring some illumination to a small selection of topics under this much wider topic area and prove to be informative and stimulating Experiences of Criminal Justice Daniel Newman, Roxanna Dehaghani, 2022-01-18 Austerity continues to impact the criminal justice process in England and Wales police numbers are down the Crown Prosecution Service is in disarray legal aid has been reduced courts are closing and magistrates are leaving Research into the criminal process usually focuses on England however this book offers a rare insight into South Wales Drawing on first hand accounts of lawyers police suspects and the convicted and their families it uncovers how these affected individuals navigate the challenges caused by austerity what has changed and what can be done to improve the system This book is a reliable and evocative account of the reality of criminal justice in Wales *The Freemason and Masonic Illustrated. Dudu,2023-03-01 This book critically examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimagined to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark Coping With Environmental Fluctuations: Ecological and Evolutionary Perspectives Sylvain Giroud,Julia Nowack,Kenneth B.
