Nanohybrid Materials for Water Purification Sarat K. Swain, 2022-08-12 This book comprehensively reviews the key topics in the area of nanocomposites and hybrid materials used for waste water treatment and purification. It covers materials chemistry, various synthesis approaches, and properties of these nanomaterials for the different water purification techniques. It provides new direction to the readers to better understand the chemistry behind these materials and the methods to improve their properties. This book will be a very valuable reference source for graduates and postgraduates, engineers, research scholars, primarily in the field of material science, water nanoscience, and nanotechnology, material scientists, researchers in the water-related area, scientists working in water treatment plants, and pollution mitigation industries.

Redefining Education and Development Kaitano Dube, 2024-10-18 The book aligns with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), particularly Goal 4, which focuses on quality education. It explores the evolving role of education as a critical driver for achieving all 17 SDGs by providing a platform for discussing innovative educational models and theories that foster sustainable development. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach, merging educational theory, developmental practice, and human psychology to address complex global challenges hindering sustainable development. The book includes case studies and empirical research, such as exploring student entrepreneurship in the agricultural sector and the factors bridging the gap between entrepreneurial intention and venture creation. These examples provide readers with practical applications of theoretical concepts and demonstrate the real-world impact of educational innovations, which is at the core of education delivery for all and how education touches on other areas of the SDGs. The book offers valuable insights for policymakers, educators, and development practitioners by presenting research and theory-based analyses. It suggests ways to improve the academic environment to foster entrepreneurship and innovation, which are key to economic development and job creation, especially in regions with high youth unemployment rates. The content suggests educational reforms that are responsive to the changing societal and economic landscapes. The book's blend of theory and practice targets a broad audience, including academic scholars, students, development agencies, non-governmental organisations, and policymakers. It seeks to engage these diverse readers in a conversation about the future of education and its role in achieving sustainable development. In summary, the book seeks to provide a comprehensive exploration of the nexus between education, development, and human needs in the context of the SDGs, offering innovative perspectives and practical solutions to equip readers to contribute to sustainable global development.

Seeing into Screens Tessa Dwyer, Claire Perkins, Sean Redmond, Jodi Sita, 2018-01-25 Seeing into Screens Eye Tracking and the Moving Image is the first dedicated anthology that explores vision and perception as it materializes as viewers watch screen content While nearly all moving image research either imagines how its audience responds to the screen or focuses upon external responses this collection utilizes the data produced from eye tracking technology to assess seeing and knowing gazing and perceiving The editors divide their collection into the following four sections eye tracking performance which addresses the ways viewers respond to screen genre actor and star auteur and cinematography eye tracking aesthetics which explores the way viewers gaze upon colour light movement and space eye tracking inscription which examines the way the viewer responds to subtitles translation and written information found in the screen world and eye tracking augmentation which examines the role of simulation mediation and technological intervention in the way viewers engage with screen content At a time when the nature of viewing the screen is extending and diversifying across different platforms and exhibitions Seeing into Screens is a timely exploration of how viewers watch the screen Urbanization and Industrialization for Africa's Transformation , 2017 The 2017 Economic Report on Africa focuses on the linkages between industrialization and urbanization Urbanization is one of Africa mega trends with profound implications for the social economic environmental dimensions of growth and transformation Theory and experience demonstrate that industrialization and urbanization can be mutually reinforcing processes It is therefore imperative to explore the linkages between urbanization and industrialization given the profound implications for structural transformation in Africa So far current policy narratives and frameworks on structural transformation and industrialization in Africa have largely failed to factor in the spatial and urban dimensions of industrialization and in particular the advantages presented by productivity enhancement and agglomeration effects generated by cities Yet the nexus between urbanization and industrialization is of particular relevance for Agenda 2063 and the 2030 Agenda on Sustainable Development Both agendas recognize urbanization as a critical factor for sustainable development It is also important to consider urbanization and industrialization in light of Africa s engagement with the Third United Nations Conference on Housing and Sustainable Urban Development Habitat III to be held in Quito Ecuador in October 2016 In this context African policy makers have clearly recognized urbanization as an engine of structural transformation for inclusive and sustainable growth
