University Revision 2015 2016kenya:

Equality in Kenya's 2010 Constitution Victoria Miyandazi, 2021-02-25 This book makes a significant contribution to the ongoing global conversations on the various understandings of equality It illuminates the many ways in which diverse equality guarantees clash or are interrelated It also sets out principled approaches on how they can be coherently interpreted to address the myriad inequalities in Kenya Taking a comparative approach the book considers how other jurisdictions including the United States United Kingdom Canada South Africa India and Botswana have approached the conceptualisation interpretation and application of various equality concepts The book focuses on important issues such as transformative constitutionalism in relation to the interpretation of Kenya's 2010 Constitution expanding the list of enumerated grounds for non discrimination affirmative action accommodating religious and cultural diversity versus gender equality the interrelation between socio economic rights and status based equality Thus Until Emilia Ilieva, Reuben Matheka, 2025-08-04 Thus Until A History of Egerton University is a thorough historical chronological and well researched account of Egerton University from a whites only college when it started in 1939 through to the expansion it has experienced over the years culminating in being a full university More than any other university in Kenya Egerton has a long and colourful history but like all the other universities it has suffered from the political economic and financial challenges of the time especially since the double intake of the 1990s Chapter One provides the required background to the study highlighting agricultural and educational policies and steering away from the Happy Valley hype so characteristic of the period The reader will learn about the Egerton family in Chapter Two and particularly about Lord Egerton himself and the colonial circumstances within which he lived The chapter dispels some of the popularly held myths about him Chapter Three deals with the beginnings of the college and the various structural and curriculum experiments tried out and the kind of enrolment and students it experimented with as an all white establishment The chapter ends with Africans beginning to agitate for change With great attention to detail the later chapters put the university in a broader local and international context thereby increasing its relevance to society A History of Egerton University though heavily footnoted and with a detailed bibliography is written in a simple easy flowing and accessible style Forest Politics in Kenya's Tugen Hills Léa Lacan, 2024 Forests are a changing environment impacted as much by people and politics as by the species rich diversity they contain This book explores human sylvan relations in the Katimok forest Baringo highlands Kenya and asks us to rethink the forest beyond questions of access and control of natural resources as a habitat where forest politics and human lives are inextricably intertwined Tracing the development of the Katimok forest from colonial times to the present day the author shows how as with many forests in Africa it has become constructed as a category and territory of nature under state control an area both to be protected and turned into exploitable resources For those living within and on the boundaries of the forest this social ecological transformation has had a significant impact Despite now being settled outside Katimok itself

dispossessed by administrators heedless of local management practices many former residents continue to maintain a close connection with the forest not only to sustain their livelihoods but also to maintain their intimate links with ancestral lands where their stories and memories are materially inscribed and powerfully invoked Intimate connections to the forest are revealed to be as political as the use of its resources culminating in local claims for redress of historical dispossessions sustain their livelihoods but also to maintain their intimate links with ancestral lands where their stories and memories are materially inscribed and powerfully invoked Intimate connections to the forest are revealed to be as political as the use of its resources culminating in local claims for redress of historical dispossessions sustain their livelihoods but also to maintain their intimate links with ancestral lands where their stories and memories are materially inscribed and powerfully invoked Intimate connections to the forest are revealed to be as political as the use of its resources culminating in local claims for redress of historical dispossessions sustain their livelihoods but also to maintain their intimate links with ancestral lands where their stories and memories are materially inscribed and powerfully invoked Intimate connections to the forest are revealed to be as political as the use of its resources culminating in local claims for redress of historical dispossessions

Conservation of Natural and Cultural Heritage in Kenya Anne-Marie Deisser, Mugwima Njuguna, 2016-10-07

In Kenya cultural and natural heritage has a particular value. Its prehistoric heritage not only tells the story of man's origin and evolution but has also contributed to the understanding of the earth's history. Fossils and artefacts spanning over 27 million years have been discovered and conserved by the National Museums of Kenya (NMK). Alongside this, the steady rise in the market value of African art has also affected Kenya. Demand for African tribal art has surpassed that for antiquities of Roman, Byzantine and Egyptian origin and in African countries currently experiencing conflicts, this activity invariably attracts looters, traffickers and criminal networks. This book brings together essays by heritage experts from different backgrounds including conservation, heritage management, museum studies, archaeology, environment and social sciences, architecture and landscape geography, philosophy and economics to explore three key themes: the underlying ethics, practices and legal issues of heritage conservation; the exploration of architectural and urban heritage of Nairobi and the natural heritage landscapes and sacred sites in relation to local Kenyan communities and tourism. It thus provides an overview of conservation practices in Kenya from 2000 to 2015 and highlights the role of natural and cultural heritage as a key factor of social economic development and as a potential instrument for conflict resolution.

Militarised Responses to Transnational Organised

Crime Tuesday Reitano, Sasha Jespersen, Lucia Bird Ruiz-Benitez de Lugo, 2017-10-06. This edited volume examines the use of militarised responses to different forms of criminal activity, discussing the outcomes and unintended consequences. Politicians and policymakers frequently use militarised responses to look tough on crime. The deployment of armies, navies, military assets and militarised approaches can send a powerful message but have produced mixed results. While they generate the perception that governments are actively engaged on issues of concern to the public and in some cases have resulted in notable successes, on the downside they have frequently also increased the loss of life, exacerbated the humanitarian consequences of a particular crime and entrenched divides between security and state institutions and the criminal proponents, narrowing the possibilities for future negotiated solutions. By focusing on four different areas of criminality: wildlife crime, piracy, migration and drug trafficking, the book allows context and evidence-based conclusions to be drawn on the strategic value and commonality of responses and their outcomes.

Migration in Africa Michiel de Haas,Ewout Frankema,2022-03-30 This book introduces readers to the age of intra African migration a period from the mid 19th century onward in which the center of gravity of African migration moved decisively inward Most books tend to zoom in on Africa s external migration during the earlier intercontinental slave trades and the more recent outmigration to the Global North but this book argues that migration within the continent has been far more central to the lives of Africans over the course of the last two centuries The book demonstrates that only by taking a broad historical and continent wide perspective can we understand the distinctions between the more immediate drivers of migration and deeper patterns of change over time During the 19th century Africa s external slave trades gradually declined whilst Africa s expanding commodity export sectors drew in domestic labor This led to an era of heightened mobility within the region marked by rapidly rising and vanishing migratory flows increasingly diversified landscapes of migration systems and profound long term shifts in the wider patterns of migration This era of inward focused mobility reduced with a resurgence of outmigration after 1960 when Africans became more deliberate in search of extra continental destinations with new diaspora communities emerging specifically in the Global North Broad ranging in its temporal spatial and thematic coverage this book provides students and researchers with the perfect introduction to age of intra African migration

Soil Degradation and Restoration in Africa Rattan Lal,B. A. Stewart,2019-07-09 Soil degradation is a widespread problem in Africa resulting in decreased agricultural productivity while demand for food continues to increase Degradation is caused by accelerated erosion acidification contamination depletion of soil organic matter and plant nutrients and salinization The major cause of soil degradation in Africa is uncontrolled and excessive grazing in the savanna regions followed by deforestation and the use of inappropriate and extractive farming practices Perpetual neglect of the health of soils in Africa can exacerbate the already serious problems of food and nutritional insecurity and environmental degradation Food and nutritional security of the growing population of Africa can only be achieved if degraded soils are restored and soils of agroecosystems are managed prudently and sustainably Ignoring soils and taking the fragile finite and precious soil resources for granted is the principal cause of poverty hunger and environmental degradation The downward spiral must be reversed through soil restoration measures based on translating science into action This book describes the soils of Africa processes of soil degradation extent and severity of soil degradation and the impacts of degradation processes on food and nutritional security Features Explores the extent and severity of soil degradation in Africa Analyzes the cause effect relationship between anthropogenic activities and soil degradation Reviews processes of soil degradation in Africa including erosion salinization nutrient depletion and decline of soil organic matter Addresses the effect of climate change on soil degradation in Africa Explains how soil degradation causes food and nutritional insecurity Part of the Advances in Soil Sciences series this volume is specifically devoted to the processes and factors that cause soil degradation and the challenges and potential for remediation and restoration of soil health in Africa
