The Perfect Vagina

Lindy McDougall,2021-05-04 In the West a specific ideal for female genitalia has emerged one of absence a clean slit attained through the removal of pubic hair and increasingly through female genital cosmetic surgery known as FGCS In The Perfect Vagina Cosmetic Surgery in the Twenty First Century Lindy McDougall provides an ethnographic account of women who choose FGCS in Australia and the physicians who perform these procedures both in Australia and globally while also examining the environment in which surgeons and women come together Physicians have a vested interest in establishing this surgery as valid medical intervention despite majority medical opinion explicitly acknowledging that a wide range of genital variation is normal McDougall offers a nuanced picture of why and how these procedures are performed and draws parallels between FGCS and anthropological discussions of female genital circumcision cutting Using the neologism biomagical she argues that cosmetic surgery functions as both ritual and sacrifice due to its promise of transformation while simultaneously submitting the body to the risks and pain of surgery thus exposing biomedicine as an increasingly cultural and commercial pursuit The Perfect Vagina highlights the complexities involved with FGCS its role in Western beauty culture and the creation and control of body image in countries where self care is valorized and medicine is increasingly harnessed for enhancement as well as health

Information Services and Digital Literacy Isto Huvila, 2012-10-04 Despite new technologies people do not always find information with ease Do people still need help in finding the information they need and if so why What can be made easier with new tools and techniques Information Services and Digital Literacy is about the role of information services and digital literacies in the age of the social web This title provides an alternative perspective for understanding information services and digital literacy and argues that a central problem in the age of the social web and the culture of participation is that we do not know the premises of how we know and how ways of interacting with information affect our actions and their outcomes Information seeking is always a question of crossing and expanding boundaries between our earlier experiences and the unknown We may not yet be well enough acquainted with the landscape of digital information to understand how we know where the boundaries to our knowledge lie how to cross them and what consequences our actions may have Presents a new approach for understanding how information services help and hinder people in becoming informed Provides an overview of how to conceptualize information services and digital literacy Provides a model for developing new types of library and information service

Law and Society Approaches to Cyberspace Paul Schiff Berman, 2017-11-28 During the past decade the rise of online communication has proven to be particularly fertile ground for academic exploration at the intersection of law and society Scholars have considered how best to apply existing law to new technological problems but they also have returned to first principles considering fundamental questions about what law is how it is formed and its relation to cultural and technological change This collection brings together many of these seminal works which variously seek to interrogate assumptions about the nature of communication knowledge invention information sovereignty identity and community From the use of metaphor in legal opinions about the internet to the challenges posed by globalization and deterritorialization to the potential utility of online governance models to debates about copyright free expression and privacy this collection offers an invaluable introduction to cutting edge ideas about law and society in an online era In addition the introductory essay both situates this work within the trajectory of law and society scholarship and summarizes the major fault lines in ongoing policy debates about the regulation of online activity Reference and Information Services Melissa A. Wong, Laura Saunders, 2020-05-04 This revised and updated sixth edition of Reference and Information Services continues the book's rich tradition covering all phases of reference and information services with less emphasis on print and more emphasis on strategies and scenarios. Reference and Information Services is the go-to textbook for MSLIS and i School courses on reference services and related topics. It is also a helpful handbook for practitioners. Authors include LIS faculty and professionals who have relevant degrees in their areas and who have published extensively on their topics. The first half of the book provides an overview of reference services and techniques for service provision including the reference interview, ethics instruction, reader's advisory, and services to diverse populations including children. This part of the book establishes a foundation of knowledge on reference service and frames each topic with ethical and social justice perspectives. The second part of the book offers an overview of the information life cycle and dissemination of information followed by an in-depth examination of information sources by type including dictionaries, encyclopedias, indexes, and abstracts, as well as by broad subject areas including government statistics and data, health, and legal information. This second section introduces the tools and resources that reference professionals use to provide the services described in the first half of the text. HCI in Business, Government and Organizations Fiona Fui-Hoon Nah, Keng Siau, 2022-05-17 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 9th International Conference on HCI in Business, Government and Organizations (HCIBGO 2022) held as part of the 23rd International Conference HCI International 2022 which was held virtually in June/July 2022. The total of 1271 papers and 275 posters included in the HCII 2022 proceedings was carefully reviewed and selected from 5487 submissions. The HCIBGO 2022 proceedings focus on topics such as artificial intelligence and machine learning, blockchain, service design, live streaming in electronic commerce, visualization, and workplace design. Make Yourself Useful, Marketing in the 21st Century Patrick Schwerdtfeger, 2008-09-30 Make Yourself Useful: Marketing in the 21st Century is a practical synopsis of today's value-first marketing monikers as they apply to cutting-edge mediums including Digg, iTunes, Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, and WordPress. Providing tactical guidance for both online and offline marketing strategies, Make Yourself Useful is a must-read for entrepreneurs and small business professionals.
