The Drama in the Text Enoch Brater,1994 In this rich and perceptive study of some of the most haunting fiction written in the late twentieth century Beckett critic Enoch Brater continues his investigation of the tension between text and script silence and associational sound Brater argues with great learning that Beckett's fiction like his radio plays demands to be read aloud since much of the emotional meaning lodges in its tonality Here the rhythm of Beckett's labouring heart finds its performative voice as the reader now turned listener collaborates in the creation of a musical composition that must elucidate the stillness of the universe The Drama in the Text is a book about reciting and recounting about how we know and what we know when we read a lyrical text crafted in prose but sounding like something else instead Brater ranges across all of Beckett's work quoting from it liberally and makes connections mainly with other writers but also with details drawn from the whole Western cultural heritage The only book that deals thoroughly with Beckett's complete late fiction Brater's study opens to a wide literary audience the difficult and elliptical nature of Beckett's mature prose style For those readers who find Beckett's late fiction impossible to follow let alone describe this book will be an authoritative and persuasive guide providing recognition insight and accessibility

The Conductor's Challenge Frank Battisti,2016-06-01 Meredith Music Resource This extension and expansion of Guide to Score Study co authored with Robert Garofalo examines the various stages conductors traverse in arriving at an interpretation Battisti emphasizes the importance of the conductor's imagination personality and ongoing study weeks months years in developing an interpretation that is personal well informed and faithful to the composer's expressive intent He examines the score analysis process including the role and function of a work's musical elements the need to balance intellectual understanding and intuitive feelings about a piece and the challenges faced by conductors when transforming an interpretation into a performance As examples he traces the procedures he used in forming interpretations of Lisbon and Horkstow Grange from Grainger's Lincolnshire Posy Copland's Down a Country Lane and Sinfonia from Stravinsky's Octet for Wind Instruments

The Physics of Musical Instruments Neville H. Fletcher,Thomas D. Rossing,2013-11-09 When we wrote the first edition of this book we directed our presentation to the reader with a compelling interest in musical instruments who has a reasonable grasp of physics and who is not frightened by a little mathematics We are delighted to find how many such people there are The opportunity afforded by the preparation of this second edition has allowed us to bring our discussion up to date by including those new insights that have arisen from the work of many dedicated researchers over the past decade We have also taken the opportunity to revise our presentation of some aspects of the subject to make it more general and we hope more immediately accessible We have of course corrected any errors that have come to our attention and we express our thanks to those friends who pointed out such defects in the early printings of the first edition We hope that this book will continue to serve as a guide both to those undertaking research in the field and to those who simply have a deep interest in the subject June 1991 N H F and T D R Latin Notes ,1925

Choral Singing Ursula Geisler,Karin

Johansson,2014-10-16 What role does contemporary choral activity play in the construction of social and musical meaning

How can historical knowledge and analysis shed light on contemporary choral problems and possibilities And how can choral research promote the development and expansion of new music today Questions like these are addressed in this anthology from a wide range of disciplines and perspectives The book comprises a selection of papers presented at the International Conference on the Concepts and Practices of Choral Singing in Lund Sweden in October 2012 The aim of the conference was to highlight the contemporary dynamic developments in choral research and to explore interdisciplinary investigations and interaction between practice based and historical approaches The conference was also the fourth meeting of the network Choir in Focus which was initiated in 2009 at Southern Choral Centre K rcentrum Syd a joint venture between Malm Academy of Music the Department of Musicology Odeum all at Lund University Malm Symphony Orchestra and Music South Musik i Syd Sweden The continuous ambition of the network has been to provide a forum for co operation across national and disciplinary borders and to encourage debates around the musical and social function of choirs in modern society as mirroring collective and individual needs for meaning music making and well being In the introductory chapter the editors describe choral practice as a field of simultaneous re presentation re production and re creation and suggest that these three aspects may be seen as umbrella themes for the fifteen chapters of the anthology The authors come from Sweden Norway Finland Estonia Germany United Kingdom Portugal and Belgium and explore choral practice from differing theoretical and methodological starting points Together they contribute to a transdisciplinary discussion about the origins functions and meanings of choral singing
