Sophia's day

Waking up in the night always leads me to glance up at the gaping hole in the tin roof. Not being able to see it means I know I can go back to sleep, but if it's getting light then it's nearly time to get up. I sleep in the same bed as my two sisters, Solange and Claudette. Solange, who is only three, often wakes me up to give me an account of her dreams. When this happens, I sing soothing lullabies, which settles her back to sleep. We no longer have our parents to care for us, so it's down to me to take care of my sisters' every need.

Our house, which has two rooms and a small latrine, is at the top of a steep hill. Our grandparents had fully intended to sell the house, but Claudette and I convinced them that we could look after ourselves. In the back room (where we sleep), I stash away our food in old rice sacks and keep our clean clothes in plastic bags. I suspend the bags so they don't get wet when the rain comes pouring through the hole in the roof.

Once I've collected our water for the day, I set about making porridge, which we eat out of plastic mugs. Then Claudette goes to school while I take care of the chores such as washing the mugs and scrubbing the floor. Of course, Solange has to help too; she can shout the house down while she works! She copies me – shouting, laughing and sweeping. She's quite a handful, and sometimes I wish she'd stop her incessant chattering. But, when all's said and done, she's my little sister – and I love her very much!
