interpretations of faith toward an authentic engagement with a personal God who champions justice The book further encompasses the complex interplay of political and religious narratives examining how church leaders either bolster or undermine Mnangagwa's political ideology highlighting the tendency among certain religious factions to deify political authority ultimately exacerbating societal inequities In advocating for a transformative theological discourse in Zimbabwe the book asserts that religious narratives must serve as instruments for fostering democracy social justice and equity rather than sustaining a status quo that entrenches authoritarian governance The necessity for unified principled resistance grounded in the collective agency of the populace emerges as a salient theme in the quest for meaningful political and social reform FY 1981 Foreign Assistance Legislation: March 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, 21, 28, and April 16, 1980" United States. Pandemic Ebenezer Durojaye, Derek M. Powell, 2022-11-17 This book explores the resilience of constitutional government in the wake of the COVID 19 pandemic connecting and comparing perspectives from ten countries in sub-Saharan Africa to global trends In emergency situations such as the COVID 19 pandemic a state has the right and duty under both international law and domestic constitutional law to take appropriate steps to protect the health and security of its population Emergency regimes may allow for the suspension or limitation of normal constitutional government and even human rights Those measures are not a license for authoritarian rule but they must conform to legal standards of necessity reasonableness and proportionality that limit state action in ways appropriate to the maintenance of the rule of law in the context of a public health emergency Bringing together established and emerging African scholars from ten countries this book looks at the impact government emergency responses to the pandemic have on the functions of the executive the legislature and the judiciary as well as the protection of human rights It also considers whether and to what extent government emergency responses were consistent with international human rights law in particular with the standards of legality necessity proportionality and non-discrimination in the Siracusa Principles The Europa World Year: Kazakhstan - Zimbabwe, 2004 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Land and Agrarian Reform in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, Walter Chambati, 2013-05-13 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme implemented during the 2000s in Zimbabwe represents the only instance of radical redistributive land reforms since the end of the Cold War. It reversed the racially skewed agrarian structure and discriminatory land tenures inherited from colonial rule. The land reform also radicalised the state towards a nationalist introverted accumulation strategy against a broad array of unilateral Western sanctions. Indeed, Zimbabwe's land reform in its social and political dynamics must be compared to the leading land reforms of the twentieth century which include those of Mexico, Russia, China, Japan, South Korea, Taiwan, Cuba, and Mozambique. The fact that the Zimbabwe case has not been recognised as vanguard nationalism has much to do with the intellectual structural adjustment which has accompanied neoliberalism and a hostile media campaign. This has entailed dubious theories of neopatrimonialism which reduce African politics and the state to endemic corruption, patronage, and tribalism while overstating the virtues of neoliberal good governance. Under this racist repertoire, it has been impossible to see class politics, mass mobilisation, and resistance, let alone believe that something progressive can occur in Africa. This book comes to a conclusion that the Zimbabwe land reform represents a new form of resistance with distinct and innovative characteristics when compared to other cases of radicalisation, reform, and resistance. The process of reform and resistance has entailed the deliberate creation of a tri-modal agrarian structure to accommodate and balance the interests of various domestic classes, the progressive restructuring of labour relations and agrarian markets, the continuing pressures for radical reforms through the indigenisation of mining and other sectors, and the rise of extensive albeit relatively weak producer cooperative structures. The book also highlights some of the resonances between the Zimbabwean land struggles and those on the continent as well as in the South, in general, arguing that there are some convergences and divergences worthy of intellectual attention. The book thus calls for greater endogenous empirical research which overcomes the preoccupation with failed interpretations of the nature of the state and agency in Africa.

Community of Insecurity Dr Laurie Nathan, 2013-04-28

Exploring the formation, evolution, and effectiveness of the regional security arrangements of the Southern African Development Community (SADC), Nathan examines a number of vital and troubling questions: why has SADC struggled to establish a viable security regime? why has it been unable to engage in successful peacemaking? and why has it defied the optimistic prognosis in the early 1990s that it would build a security community in Southern Africa? He argues that the answers to these questions lie in the absence of common values among member states, the weakness of these states, and their unwillingness to surrender sovereignty to the regional organization. Paradoxically, the challenge of building a cooperative security regime lies more at the national level than at the regional level. The author's perspective is based on a unique mix of insider access, analytical rigour, and accessible theory.

Zimbabwe Journal of Economics, 1984 Zimbabwe's Fight To The Finish Moore, 2016-04-15 First published in 2013 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Politics of Economic Reform in Zimbabwe Tor Skalmes, 2016-07-27 In 1990 Zimbabwe embarked on economic liberalisation The country s economic associations notably that erstwhile proponent of protectionism the Confederation of Zimbabwe Industries had successfully lobbied for gradual reform While state autonomy has often been regarded as a vital condition for reform in

Zimbabwe societal groups have induced an initially recalcitrant government to reconsider its basic policies After 1980 the government tried to limit political competition However because of the perceived need for racial reconciliation following the guerrilla war it maintained dialogue with settler dominated interest groups along the pattern of societal corporatism established in the 1930s By contrast African associations particularly labour unions have regularly been subjected to regimentation The government however has listened more closely to the demands of African farmers who want to preserve parastatal marketing and governmental determination of prices In Zimbabwe key urban groups support liberalisation while key rural groups do not Theories of urban bias must therefore be qualified
