The New Nanzan Guide to Japanese Religions Matthew D. McMullen, Jolyon Baraka Thomas, 2025-05-31 For nearly two decades the Nanzan Guide to Japanese Religions has served as a valuable resource for students and scholars of religion in Japan. This exciting update expands the audience to include non specialists of Japan while also complicating the notions of Japan and religion. Asking the provocative question why study Japanese religions the editors argue that studying Japan is vital for the academic study of religion writ large and make a case for the continued importance of religious topics in Japan studies broadly conceived. The volume addresses the question of why and how to study Japanese religions in seven sections each overseen by a leading expert in that subfield. The section on Knowledge Production investigates medicine, sacred objects and the politico economic structures undergirding academia. Cosmology and Time reveals how religion shaped worldviews in both premodern and modern Japan by taking up topics such as the afterlife, divination and relationships between science and religion. Space and Environment considers geography, relationships between the human and nonhuman denizens of the Japanese archipelago and religion in Japan's overseas colonies and among diasporic outmigrants. Feelings and Belonging focuses on affective relationships generated through confraternities, homiletics and caring professions. Politics and Governance describes longstanding relationships between religion and the state covering everything from sacred kingship to contemporary electoral politics. The final two sections include practical advice for conducting fieldwork and helpful introductions to several relevant archives. Overall the volume reflects the impact of recent scholarly trends in the study of Japanese religions including material religion studies, affect theory, environmental humanities and critical secularism studies. The breadth of topics as well as the accessibility of the individual chapters makes The New Nanzan Guide to Japanese Religions an indispensable resource for the classroom. It will be useful not only for scholars of Japan but also for anyone interested in the academic study of religion.

Basic Human-robot Interaction David O Johnson, 2024-02-21 The book's content is designed to provide practical guidance and insights for conducting experiments in Human Robot Interaction (HRI) and publishing the results in scientific journals. It includes a detailed explanation of how to conduct HRI experiments and what to do and what not to do to get an article accepted for publication. It is tailored to those seeking to deepen their understanding of HRI methodologies, statistical measurements and research design. The case studies and examples featured in the book focus on interactions between social robots and specific demographics such as children and older adults, making it relevant for individuals working in healthcare, education and related domains. Also covered are common statistical measurements used in HRI research and quantitative, qualitative and meta analyses. The concepts are illustrated with several international case studies of interactions between social robots and children and older adults and robot learning instead of programming. The final chapter explores current trends in HRI and provides insights into what to look for in the coming years. It includes an extensive reference section to help HRI researchers in all these areas. This book will appeal to an international audience of advanced students researchers industry and others who are actively engaged or interested in the field of HRI

The Relationality of Race in Education Research Greg Vass,Jacinta Maxwell,Sophie Rudolph,Kalervo N. Gulson,2017-11-01 This edited collection examines the ways in which the local and global are key to understanding race and racism in the intersectional context of contemporary education Analysing a broad range of examples it highlights how race and racism is a relational phenomenon that interconnects local national and global contexts and ideas The current educational climate is subject to global influences and the effects of conservative hyper nationalist politics and neoliberal economic rationalising in local settings that are creating new formations of race and racism While focused predominantly on Australia and southern world or settler colonial contexts the book aims to constructively contribute to broader emerging research and debates about race and education Through the adoption of a relational framing it draws the Australian context into the global conversation about race and racism in education in ways that challenge and test current understandings of the operation of race and racism in contemporary social and educational spaces Importantly it also pushes debates about race and racism in education and research to the foreground in Australia where such debates are typically dismissed or cursorily engaged The book will guide readers as they navigate issues of race in education research and practice and its chapters will serve as provocations designed to assist in critically understanding this challenging field It reaches beyond education scholarship as concerns to do with race remain intertwined with wider social justice issues such as access to housing health social economic mobility and political representation

Racism and Psychiatry Morgan M. Medlock,Derri Shtasel,Nhi-Ha T. Trinh,David R. Williams,2018-10-04 This book addresses the unique sociocultural and historical systems of oppression that have alienated African American and other racial minority patients within the mental healthcare system This text aims to build a novel didactic curriculum addressing racism justice and community mental health as these issues intersect clinical practice Unlike any other resource this guide moves beyond an exploration of the problem of racism and its detrimental effects to a practical solution oriented discussion of how to understand and approach the mental health consequences with a lens and sensitivity for contemporary justice issues After establishing the historical context of racism within organized medicine and psychiatry the text boldly examines contemporary issues including clinical biases in diagnosis and treatment addiction and incarceration and perspectives on providing psychotherapy to racial minorities The text concludes with chapters covering training and medical education within this sphere approaches to supporting patients coping with racism and discrimination and strategies for changing institutional practices in mental healthcare Written by thought leaders in the field Racism and Psychiatry is the only current tool for psychiatrists psychologists administrators educators medical students social workers and all clinicians working to treat patients dealing with issues of racism at the point of mental healthcare

Libraries, Literacy, and African American Youth Sandra Hughes-Hassell, Pauletta Brown Bracy, Casey H. Rawson, 2016-10-31 This important book is a call to action for the library community to address the literacy and life outcome gaps impacting African American youth It provides strategies that enable school and public librarians to transform their services programs and collections to be more responsive to the literacy strengths experiences and needs of African American youth According to National Assessment of Educational Progress NEAP only 18 percent of African American fourth graders and 17 percent of African American eighth graders performed at or above proficiency in reading in 2013 This book draws on research from various academic fields to explore the issues surrounding African American literacy and to aid in developing culturally responsive school and library programs with the goal of helping to close the achievement gap and improve the quality of life for African American youth The book merges the work of its three authors along with the findings of other researchers and practitioners highlighting exemplary programs such as the award winning Pearl Bailey Library Program the Maker Jawn initiative at the Free Library of Philadelphia and the Blue Ribbon Mentor Advocate writing institute in the Chapel Hill Carrboro City Schools among others Readers will understand how these culturally responsive programs put theory and research based best practices into local action and see how to adapt them to meet the needs of their communities

Interoception, Contemplative Practice, and Health Norman Farb, Catherine Kerr, Wolf E. Mehling, Olga Pollatos, 2017-02-07 There is an emergent movement of scientists and scholars working on somatic awareness interoception and embodiment This work cuts across studies of neurophysiology somatic anthropology contemplative practice and mind body medicine Key questions include How is body awareness cultivated What role does interoception play for emotion and cognition in healthy adults and children as well as in different psychopathologies What are the neurophysiological effects of this cultivation in practices such as Yoga mindfulness meditation Tai Chi and other embodied contemplative practices What categories from other traditions might be useful as we explore embodiment Does the cultivation of body awareness within contemplative practice offer a tool for coping with suffering from conditions such as pain addiction and dysregulated emotion This emergent field of research into somatic awareness and associated interoceptive processes however faces many obstacles The principle obstacle lies in our 400 year Cartesian tradition that views sensory perception as epiphenomenal to cognition The segregation of perception and cognition has enabled a broad program of cognitive science research but may have also prevented researchers from developing paradigms for understanding how interoceptive awareness of sensations from inside the body influences cognition The cognitive representation of interoceptive signals may play an active role in facilitating therapeutic transformation e g by altering context in which cognitive appraisals of well being occur This topic has ramifications into disparate research fields What is the role of interoceptive awareness in conscious presence How do we distinguish between adaptive and maladaptive somatic awareness How do we best measure somatic awareness What are the consequences of dysregulated somatic interoceptive awareness on cognition emotion and behavior The complexity of these questions calls for the creative integration of perspectives and findings from related but often disparate research areas including clinical research neuroscience cognitive psychology anthropology religious contemplative studies and philosophy
