James' Memories James Hillis, 2025-08-14 I was writing memories about my life I never liked writing I did go through English classes when I was in school but I didn't do well My oldest daughter Mandy encouraged me to write down my memories I did agree I did some thinking about it made some notes That was probably ten to twelve years ago After I knew that my wife Ernestine was not going to last much longer I used some of the free time while being her caregiver to make some notes and try and decide how I could accomplish this I got some good encouragement from my sister Muriel After Ernestine passed away a few months later come to the conclusion that I needed to finish these memories before my time came to a close So my reason for this book was my recollection of grandchildren asking how I and their grandmother met Now I understand why they would ask So I gave them my best answer at the time I reflected on how some of my sisters and brothers and I had never questioned our own parents about their courtship and marriage So I have tried to give as best as I can my early life how Ernestine and I met Our marriage lasted for sixty five years and was two days short of five months I am hopeful that this will be some family history that will be interesting and helpful in understanding the makeup of families From my experience it is GOD that has guided us through our journey on this earth for this short time I have to give Him GOD all the glory and praise for our children grandchildren and great grandchildren

International Automotive Fuel Economy Research Conference. First. Proceedings, 1981 Customer Retention in the Automotive Industry Michael D. Johnson, Andreas Herrmann, Frank Huber, Anders Gustafsson, 2012-12-06 The intensely competitive global automotive industry is in the midst of both a quality evolution and management transformation. In an evolutionary fashion, industry attention has progressed from a focus on internal quality to external perceptions of customer satisfaction to subsequent customer retention and profitability. More transformational is the change in the way automotive companies operate and manage themselves. An industry once dominated at a product level by engineering and a management level by finance is becoming a cross functional, customer oriented industry. Understanding the links from quality to satisfaction to retention has become a key to financial and organizational success as the automotive industry enters the new millennium. We are fortunate in this regard to have assembled a diverse group of both academic and automotive industry contributors to offer a variety of insights into these links. After describing the ongoing changes in the automotive industry in more detail, this introductory chapter describes a framework for linking quality, satisfaction and retention. The framework is used to introduce each of the individual chapters and highlight its contribution. Although our primary emphasis is on the automotive industry, the implications of the research and lessons learned extend far beyond. If anything, the automotive industry is a prototypical competitive global industry that faces a myriad of business issues. These include, among others, issues pertaining to product development, service development, process improvement, product quality, service quality, supplier relationships, internal customer satisfaction, external customer satisfaction, retailing, promotion, pricing, franchising and technology management.

Heavy Vehicle Accident Reconstruction
Christopher D. Armstrong, 2018-11-02. The last ten years have seen explosive growth in the technology available to the collision analyst, changing the way reconstruction is practiced in fundamental ways. The greatest technological advances for the crash reconstruction community have come in the realms of photogrammetry and digital media analysis. The widespread use of scanning technology has facilitated the implementation of powerful new tools to digitize forensic data, create 3D models and visualize and analyze crash vehicles and environments. The introduction of unmanned aerial systems and standardization of crash data recorders to the crash reconstruction community have enhanced the ability of a crash analyst to visualize and model the components of a crash reconstruction. Because of the technological changes occurring in the industry, many SAE papers have been written to address the validation and use of new tools for collision reconstruction. Collision Reconstruction Methodologies Volumes 1-12 bring together seminal SAE technical papers surrounding advancements in the crash reconstruction field. Topics featured in the series include Night Vision Study and Photogrammetry, Vehicle Event Data Recorders, Motorcycle, Heavy Vehicle, Bicycle and Pedestrian Accident Reconstruction. The goal is to provide the latest technologies and methodologies being introduced into collision reconstruction, appealing to crash analysts, consultants and safety engineers alike.
