

The background of the cover features a dark, high-contrast image of a violin, shown from a side profile. The body of the violin is a deep, dark wood, while the f-hole and the bridge are highlighted in a lighter, reddish-brown color. Overlaid on the violin and the dark background are several thin, white geometric lines. These lines form various shapes, including circles, triangles, and rectangles, some of which intersect to create a grid-like pattern. The lines are most prominent on the left side of the cover, where they are more numerous and form a complex web of shapes. On the far left edge, there is a vertical band of a textured, reddish-brown color, which matches the color of the violin's f-hole and bridge.
