The Of Barely Imagined Beings A 21st Century Bestiary:

The Book of Barely Imagined Beings Caspar Henderson, 2022-12-22 Caspar Henderson takes us on an eye opening tour of real animals that no sane human could ever have invented Frans de Waal New York Times bestselling author With The Book of Barely Imagined Beings Caspar Henderson offers readers a fascinating beautifully produced modern day menagerie But whereas medieval bestiaries were often based on folklore and myth the creatures that abound in Henderson's book from the axolotl to the zebrafish are with one exception very much with us albeit sometimes in depleted numbers The Book of Barely Imagined Beings transports readers to a world of real creatures that seem as if they should be made up that are somehow more astonishing than anything we might have imagined The yeti crab for example uses its furry claws to farm the bacteria on which it feeds The waterbear meanwhile is among nature's extreme survivors able to withstand a week unprotected in outer space These and other strange and surprising species invite readers to reflect on what we value or fail to value and what we might change A powerful combination of wit cutting edge natural history and philosophical meditation The Book of Barely Imagined Beings is an infectious and inspiring celebration of the sheer ingenuity and variety of life in a time of crisis and change The Book of Barely Imagined Beings is one that Pliny would have envied Darwin applauded and Borges relished In these days of doom and gloom I can think of nothing more rejoicing than Caspar Henderson's magical book Alberto Manguel author of A History of Reading Magnificent bravura beautiful and astoundingly interesting The Sunday Times Spell binding brilliantly executed extraordinary The Guardian A Pre-Columbian Bestiary Ilan Stavans, 2020-10-30 An encyclopedic collaboration between award winning Mexican American scholar Ilan Stavans and illustrator Eko A Pre-Columbian Bestiary features lively and informative descriptions of forty six religious mythical and imaginary creatures from the Nahua Aztec Maya Tabasco Inca Aymara and other cultures of Latin America From the siren like Acuecu yotl and the water animal Chaac to the class conscious Oc and the god of light and darkness Xlotl the magnificent entities in this volume belong to the same family of real and invented creatures imagined by Dante Franz Kafka C S Lewis Jorge Luis Borges Umberto Eco and J K Rowling They are mined from indigenous religious texts like the Popol Vuh and from chronicles both real and fictional of the Spanish conquest by Diego Durán Bernal Díaz del Castillo and Fernando de Zarzamora among others In this playful compilation Stavans distills imagery from the work of magic realist masters such as Juan Rulfo and Gabriel García Márquez from songs of protest in Mexico Guatemala and Peru and from aboriginal beasts in Jewish Muslim European British and other traditions In the spirit of imaginative invention even the bibliography is a mixture of authentic and concocted material An inspiring record of resistance and memory from a civilization whose superb pantheon of myths never ceases to amaze A Pre-Columbian Bestiary will delight anyone interested in the history and culture of Latin America

From Griffin to Axolotl Ailén Cruz, 2025-12-16 The fox is cunning the lion is brave These familiar ideas span back to the medieval bestiary short animal centred texts often illustrated used to disseminate Christian teachings in medieval society

Translated into dozens of languages bestiaries were wildly popular until the twelfth century After centuries of obscurity six of Latin America's most prominent writers Juan Jos Arreola Jorge Luis Borges Nicol's Guill'n Augusto Monterroso Pablo Neruda and Jos Emilio Pacheco took up the bestiary during the experimental Latin American avant garde and Boom periods From Griffin to Axolotl presents the bestiary as a distinct genre within Hispanic literature examining its resurgence in the contemporary canon Analyzing a corpus of over eighty bestiaries collected through field research in Canada Argentina Mexico and Spain Ail'n Cruz explores the evolutions of the genre Reimagined through both prose and art and moving beyond religious teachings these bestiaries range from the rebellious to the nonsensical touching on a spectrum of topics from preservation of Indigenous Latin American cultures to environmental crises and the human condition From Griffin to Axolotl promotes an understudied genre of Hispanic literature demonstrating that the bestiary is not extinct but has been remoulded for modern society

A History of International Law in Italy Giulio Bartolini, 2020-04-02 This volume critically reassesses the history and impact of international law in Italy It examines how Italy's engagement with international law has been influenced and cross fertilized by global dynamics in terms of theories methodologies or professional networks It asks to what extent historical and political turning points influenced this engagement especially where scholars were part of broader academic and public debates or even active participants in the role of legal advisers or politicians It explores how international law was used or misused by relevant actors in such contexts Bringing together scholars specialized in international law and legal history this volume first provides a historical examination of the theoretical legal analysis produced in the Italian context exploring its main features and dissident voices The second section assesses the impact on international law studies of key historical and political events involving Italy both internationally and domestically and conversely how such events influenced perceptions of international law Finally a concluding section places the preceding analysis within a broader contemporary perspective This volume weighs in on the growing debate on the need to explore international law from comparative and local viewpoints It shows how regional national and local contexts have contributed to shaping international legal rules institutions and doctrines and how these in turn influenced local solutions

New Silent Cinema Katherine Groo, Paul Flaig, 2015-09-16 With the success of Martin Scorsese's Hugo 2011 and Michel Hazanavicius's The Artist 2011 nothing seems more contemporary in recent film than the styles forms and histories of early and silent cinemas This collection considers the latest return to silent film alongside the larger historical field of visual repetitions and affective currents that wind their way through 20th and 21st century visual cultures Contributors bring together several fields of research including early and silent cinema studies experimental and new media historiography and archive theory and studies of media ontology and epistemology Chapters link the methods concerns and concepts of early and silent film studies as they have flourished over the last quarter century to the most recent developments in digital culture from YouTube to 3D recasting this contemporary phenomenon in popular culture and new media against key debates and concepts in silent film scholarship An interview with acclaimed Canadian filmmaker Guy Maddin closes out the collection The Human-Animal Boundary Nandita Batra, Mario Wenning, 2018-11-27 Throughout the centuries philosophers and poets alike have defended an essential difference rather than a porous transition between the human and animal Attempts to assign essential properties to humans e g language reason or morality often reflected ulterior aims to defend a privileged position for humans This book shifts the traditional anthropocentric focus of philosophy and literature by combining the questions What is human and What is animal What makes this collection unique is that it fills a lacuna in critical animal studies and the growing field of ecocriticism It is the first collection that establishes a productive encounter between philosophical perspectives on the human animal boundary and those that draw on fictional literature The objective is to establish a dialogue between those disciplines with the goal of expanding the imaginative scope of human animal relationships The contributions thus do not only trace and deconstruct the boundaries dividing humans and nonhuman animals they also present the reader with alternative perspectives on the porous continuum and surprising reversal of what appears as human and what as nonhuman Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke

Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts Lost Animals, Disappearing Worlds Barbara Allen, 2025-06-12 A moving and motivating collection of portraits of extinct species revealing the profound implications of their disappearance This book presents thirty one extinct species through personal portraits The intimate approach not only highlights each particular species but also explores the broader implications of losing a species forever How do we honor such a loss Can we grieve for species we never knew These animals range from the well known passenger pigeon thylacine and great auk to lesser known creatures like the Arabian ostrich Saint Helena earwig and Bramble Cay melomys Through her poignant portraits Barbara Allen not only tugs on the heartstrings but also aims to inspire readers to protect vulnerable and endangered species today motivating us to play a positive role in conserving our planet's biodiversity

A Marriage of Philosophy and Music Erich Welling, 2014-04 How to use philosophy and music to open your horizons and enjoy being yourself put theory to work and help you experience personal growth is discussed in A Marriage of Philosophy and Music It is all about after After having a liberal education you are comfortable in modern culture and after further education and becoming a specialist in some field you enjoy using your skills We learn the ideas and methods of many social cultures and our own chosen specialty but we often neglect the liberal art of disciplining and enjoying the ideas and methods of our own individuality This book offers a path toward the education of privacy with the key words being selection design and beauty The book relates five areas of general human interest spirituality philosophy science art and body awareness The interrelation is accomplished by using personal patterns of experience that are available from philosophy and music Because of the plurality of subject matters and methods used in philosophy and music their patterns of discipline are comparable to self discipline A Marriage of Philosophy and Music attempts to create a path in this direction because besides the enjoyment of social culture and personal skills there is enjoyment in being yourself which is a neglected liberal art

Anthropocene Psychology Matthew Adams, 2020-01-24 This ground breaking book critically extends the psychological project seeking to investigate the relations between human and more than human worlds against the backdrop of the Anthropocene by emphasising the significance of encounter interaction and relationships Interdisciplinary environmental theorist Matthew Adams draws inspiration from a wealth of ideas emerging in human animal studies anthrozoology multi species ethnography and posthumanism offering a framing of collective anthropogenic ecological crises to provocatively argue that the Anthropocene is also an invitation to become conscious of the ways in which human and nonhuman are inextricably connected Through a series of strange encounters between human and nonhuman worlds Adams argues for the importance of cultivating attentiveness to the specific and situated ways in which the fates of multiple species are bound together in the Anthropocene Throughout the book this argument is put into practice incorporating everything from Pavlov's dogs broiler chickens urban trees grazing sheep and beached whales to argue that the Anthropocene can be good to think with conducive to a seeing ourselves and our place in the world with a renewed sense of connection responsibility and love Building on developments in feminist and social theory anthropology ecopsychology environmental psychology post humanities psychoanalysis and phenomenology this is fascinating reading for academics and students in the field of critical psychology environmental psychology and human animal studies Laika's Window Kurt Caswell, 2018-09-18 Laika began her life as a stray dog on the streets of Moscow and died in 1957 aboard the Soviet satellite Sputnik II Initially the USSR reported that Laika the first animal to orbit the earth had survived in space for seven days providing valuable data that would make future manned space flight possible People believed that Laika died a painless death as her oxygen ran out Only in recent decades has the real story become public Laika died after only a few hours in orbit when her capsule overheated Laika's Window positions Laika as a long overdue hero for leading the way to human space exploration Kurt Caswell examines Laika's life and death and the speculation surrounding both Profiling the scientists behind Sputnik II he studies the political climate driven by the Cold War and the Space Race that expedited the satellite's development Through this intimate portrait of Laika we begin to understand what the dog experienced in the days and hours before the launch what she likely experienced during her last moments and what her flight means to history and to humanity While a few of the other space dog flights rival Laika's in endurance and technological advancements Caswell argues that Laika's flight serves as a tipping point in space exploration beyond which the dream of exploring nearby and distant planets opened into a kind of fever from which humanity has never recovered Examining the depth of human empathy what we are willing to risk and sacrifice in the name of scientific achievement and our exploration of the cosmos and how politics and marketing can influence it Laika's Window is also about our search to overcome loneliness and the role animals play in our drive to look far beyond the earth for answers Decolonial

Ecologies Joanna Page, 2023-06-14 In Decolonial Ecologies: The Reinvention of Natural History in Latin American Art Joanna Page illuminates the ways in which contemporary artists in Latin America are reinventing historical methods of collecting organizing and displaying nature in order to develop new aesthetic and political perspectives on the past and the present Page brings together an entirely new corpus of artistic projects from Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Ecuador Mexico and Peru that engage critically and creatively with forms as diverse as the medieval bestiary baroque cabinets of curiosities atlases created by European travellers to the New World the floras and herbaria composed by eighteenth and nineteenth century naturalists and the dioramas designed for natural history museums She explores how artists develop decolonial and post anthropocentric perspectives on the collections and expeditions that were central to the evolution of European natural history Their works forge a critique of the rationalizing approach to nature taken by modern Western science reconnecting it with forms of popular indigenous and spiritual knowledge and experience that it has systematically excluded since the Enlightenment Drawing on photography video illustration sculpture and installation this vividly illustrated and lucidly written book also available in premium quality in hardback edition explores how these artworks might also deconstruct the apocalyptic visions of environmental change that often dominate Western thought developing a renewed understanding of alternative ways in which humans might co inhabit the natural world Academic Identity and the Place of Stories Susan Carter, 2020-05-12 This book explores academic identity development in the 21st century university Recognising dramatic shifts in academic practices and landscapes the book pushes back on rising neoliberalism with a person focused culturally aware pathway for career development Stories of the author s own experiences intersect a solid grounding in educational literature encouraging scholars to take an active role in considering their own academic identity In doing so this volume suggests that academics look inward at what matters to them rather than being overwhelmed by academia in order to shape identities and career trajectories that are dynamic and satisfying

Museums John E. Simmons, 2016-07-07 This comprehensive history of museums begins with the origins of collecting in prehistory and traces the evolution of museums from grave goods to treasure troves from the Alexandrian Temple of the Muses to the Renaissance cabinets of curiosities and onto the diverse array of modern institutions worldwide The development of museums as public institutions is explored in the context of world history with a special emphasis on the significance of objects and collecting The book examines how the successful exportation of the European museum model and its international adaptations have created public institutions that are critical tools in diverse societies for understanding the world Rather than focusing on a specialized aspect of museum history this volume provides a comprehensive synthesis of museums worldwide from their earliest origins to the present Museums A History tells the fascinating story of how museums respond to the needs of the cultures that create them Readers will come away with an understanding of the comprehensive history of museums from prehistoric collections to the present the evolution of museums presented in the context of world history the development of museums considered in diverse cultural contexts global perspective on museums the object centered history of museums museums as memory institutions A constant theme throughout the book is that museums have evolved to become institutions in which objects and learning are associated to help human beings understand the world around them Illustrations amplify the discussions

Badger Daniel Heath Justice, 2014-10-15 Fierce menacing and mysterious badgers have fascinated humans as living animals abstract symbols or commercial resources for thousands of years often to their detriment With their reputation for determined self defense they have been brutalized by hunters and sportsmen while their association with the mythic underworld has made them idealized symbols of earth based wisdom and their burrowing habits have resulted in their widespread persecution as pests In this highly illustrated book Daniel Heath Justice provides the first global cultural history of the badger in over thirty years From the iconic European badger and its North American kin to the African honey badger and Southeast Asian hog badger Justice considers the badger s evolution and widespread distribution alongside its current often imperiled status throughout the world He travels from natural history and life in the wild to the folklore legends and spiritual beliefs that badgers continue to inspire while also exploring their representation and exploitation in industry religion and the arts Tracing the complex and contradictory ways in which this fascinating animal endures Badger will appeal to anyone interested in a deeper understanding of these much maligned creatures
