Bill Laws offers entertaining and colorful anecdotes of implements that have shaped our gardening experience since the beginning. As Laws reveals, gardening tools have coevolved with human society, and the story of these fifty individual tools presents an innovative history of humans and the garden over time. Laws takes us back to the Neolithic age when the microlith, the first all-in-one tool, was invented. Consisting of a small sharp stone blade that was set into a handle made of wood, bone, or antler, it was a small spade that could be used to dig, clip, and cut plant material. We find out that wheelbarrows originated in China in the second century BC, and their basic form has not changed much since. He also describes how early images of a pruning knife appear in Roman art in the form of a scythe that could cut through herbs, vegetables, fruits, and nuts and was believed to be able to tell the gardener when and what to harvest. Organized into five thematic chapters relating to different types of gardens—the flower garden, the kitchen garden, the orchard, the lawn, and ornamental gardens—the book includes a mix of horticulture and history, in addition to stories featuring well-known characters. We learn about Henry David Thoreau's favorite hoe, for example. A History of the Garden in Fifty Tools will be a beautiful gift for any home gardener and a reassuring reminder that gardeners have always struggled with the same quandaries. Craft in America Jo Lauria, Steve Fenton, 2007. We must. Or we all will die here in these miserable Starving Mountains. They are out there. I know they must be. A pair of youths on the cusp of manhood bring The People across the great moving sand belt onto the Great Plains. A young woman is tested greatly by the Bison Spirit and found acceptable to lead The People back to the ways of their ancestors. But Basket is only half the way; they must be reunited. Soul brothers ripped asunder as evil claws its way in. Only Basket and Star Child can save the people and drive the evil away so that The People reach their destiny. At the end of the Younger Dryas 11,500 years ago, the rain returned. The Great Plains again supported vast herds of bison. Bison antiquus. The People were living in fragmented groups at the edge of starvation but gradually they began to adapt to a new way of life and spread from south Texas to North Dakota. They were the Folsom Culture. It's a Snap!, 2009. Need a last-minute Bible study?
