M. Postan, E Miller, 1987 Annotation The second volume of The Cambridge Economic History of Europe first published in 1952 was a survey by an international group of specialist scholars covering trade and industry in pre Roman Roman and Byzantine Europe the medieval trade of northern and southern Europe and the histories of medieval woollen manufacture mining and metallurgy and building in stone This second edition in addition to revising most chapters and the bibliographies appended to them also fills gaps which arose from the wartime and post war circumstances in which the first edition was written New chapters provide accounts of the trade and industry of eastern Europe of medieval Europe s trade with Asia and Africa and of medieval coinage and currency Taken with volumes I and III of the series this volume is designed to complete a comprehensive review of the economic history of medieval Europe as a whole It was planned by the late Sir Michael Postan and was largely completed under his editorship Growth Triumphant Richard A. Easterlin, 2009-11-10 Taking a longer view than most literature on economic development Richard A Easterlin stresses the enormous contrast between the collective experience of the last half century in both developed and developing countries and what has gone before An economic historian and demographer the author writes in the tradition of the new economic history drawing on economic theory and quantitative evidence to interpret the historical experience of economic theory and population growth He reaches beyond the usual disciplinary limits to draw as appropriate on sociology political science psychology anthropology and the history of science The book will be of interest not only to social scientists but to all readers concerned with where we have been and where we are going Easterlin is both an economic historian and a demographer and it is the combination of these two disciplines and the fine balance between theory and experience that make this well written refreshingly optimistic book excellent reading Population and Development Review In this masterful synthesis Richard Easterlin draws on the disciplines of economic history demography sociology political science psychology and the history of science to present an integrated explanation of the origins of modern economic growth and of the mortality revolution His book should be easily accessible to non specialists and will give them a sense of why economic history can inform our understanding of the future Dora L Costa Massachusetts Institute of Technology EH Net and H Net Growth Triumphant is simply a fascinating book Easterlin has woven together a history of economic growth economic development human mortality and morbidity the connections each has with the others and the implications of this nexus of forces on the future This book deserves a wide audience Choice In what must surely be the most fair minded well balanced and scrupulously reasoned and researched book on the sensational subjects implied in its title the Industrial Revolution the mortality and fertility revolutions and the prospects for future happiness for the human race Professor Easterlin has set in place the capstone of his research career Journal of Economic History Richard A Easterlin is Professor of Economics University of Southern California The World the Plague Made James Belich, 2024-06-25 A groundbreaking history of how the Black Death unleashed revolutionary change across the medieval world and ushered in the modern age In 1346 a catastrophic plague beset Europe and its neighbours The Black Death was a human tragedy that abruptly halved entire populations and caused untold suffering but it also brought about a cultural and economic renewal on a scale never before witnessed The World the Plague Made is a panoramic history of how the bubonic plague revolutionized labour trade and technology and set the stage for Europe's global expansion James Belich takes readers across centuries and continents to shed new light on one of history's greatest paradoxes Why did Europe's dramatic rise begin in the wake of the Black Death Belich shows how plague doubled the per capita endowment of everything even as it decimated the population Many more people had disposable incomes Demand grew for silks sugar spices furs gold and slaves Europe expanded to satisfy that demand and plague provided the means Labour scarcity drove more use of waterpower wind power and gunpowder Technologies like water powered blast furnaces heavily gunned galleons and musketry were fast tracked by plague A new crew culture of disposable males emerged to man the guns and galleons Setting the rise of Western Europe in global context Belich demonstrates how the mighty empires of the Middle East and Russia also flourished after the plague and how European expansion was deeply entangled with the Chinese and other peoples throughout the world
